reflection For in the discussion that stemmed from their meetings Jin Yong who is sometimes called the Asian Dumas and Daisaku Ikeda were able to find remarkable common ground what they refer to as a karmic bond resulting from the particularity of their experiences in wartime and mutual resistance to adversity Ranging across a variety of engaging themes the interlocutors explore such topics as the nature of friendship theories of civilization world literatures that have inspired them the importance of free speech Buddhist perspectives on life and death and the spiritual search for truth There is sustained reflection on the horrors of war and a plea for the importance of memory Daisaku Ikeda emphasises that peace is a battle against forgetfulness while Jin Yong echoes this in his observation that most important is to strive to avoid war whether it is between countries and whether it be domestic and thus to enable people to build and improve their lives in a peaceful environment Cultural differences between the peoples of China and Japan are explored sometimes amusingly with the Japanese propensity for discipline and rules contrasted with the Chinese spirit of creative individualism But the authors are focused above all on serious issues of meaning and identity and they reveal the mutual solace both have found in the face of personal loss and bereavement in the Buddhist scriptures especially the Lotus Sutra Demonstrating a remarkable capacity for empathy throughout they incarnate in their lives and work an intelligent and sympathetic compassion that represents a beacon of hope to the future direction of Sino Japanese relations

Music and Its Social Meanings Christopher Ballantine, 2013-09-13 First Published in 1984 This is the second volume in a series on musicology and related areas edited by F Joseph Smith Deciphering the specific social characteristics of music has long lagged behind the analytical dissection of musical composition and biographical musicology The essays in this volume have been produced in an attempt to redress the balance The sociology of music as examined here is an investigation into the ways social formations come together in musical structures These essays specifically address the problem of our neutralized music consciousness the separation of music from the social context and the artificial insulation of musical understanding from the realms of social meanings One theme in these essays concerns the struggle against ideological distortions arising from the insulation of music from its sociological context The author argues that there is a stronger connection between music and society than is generally assumed
