A writer takes on subjects as varied as vomit Kathy Acker's wardrobe and Occupy Oakland in lyric explorations of illness health and the body A moving meld of essay memoir and story When the Sick Rule the World collects Dodie Bellamy's new and recent lyric prose Taking on topics as eclectic as vomit Kathy Acker's wardrobe and Occupy Oakland Bellamy here examines illness health and the body both the social body and the individual body in essays that glitter with wit even at their darkest moments In a safe house in Marin County strangers allergic to the poisons of the world gather for an evening's solace In Oakland protesters dance an ecstatic bacchanal over the cancerous body of the city state they love and hate In the elegiac memoir Phone Home Bellamy meditates on her dying mother's last days via the improbable cipher of Steven Spielberg's E.T. the Extra Terrestrial Finally Bellamy offers a piercing critique of the displacement and blight that have accompanied Twitter's move into her warehouse district neighborhood and the pitiless imperialism of tech consciousness A participant in the New Narrative movement and a powerful influence on younger writers Bellamy views heteronormativity and capitalism as plagues and celebrates the micro revolts of those on the outskirts In its deft blending of forms When the Sick Rule the World resiliently and defiantly proclaims the undeath of the author In the realm of sickness Bellamy asserts subjectivity is not stable When the sick rule the world mortality will be sexy Bellamy prophesies Those defined by society as sick may in fact be its saviors

AIDS Narratives Steven F. Kruger, 2013-10-28 This is the first book length study of the rich fiction that has emerged from the AIDS crisis Examining first the ways in which scientific discourse on AIDS has reflected ideologies of gender and sexuality such as the construction of AIDS as a disease of gay men part of a battle over masculinity and thus largely excluding women with AIDS from public attention the book considers how such discourses have shaped narrative understandings of AIDS On the one hand AIDS is seen as an invariably fatal weakening of an individual's bodily defenses a depiction often used to reconfirm an identification between disease and a weak and vulnerable gayness On the other hand AIDS is understood in terms of an epidemic attributable to gay immorality or unnaturalness The fiction of AIDS depends upon these two narratives with one major subgenre of AIDS novel presenting narratives of personal illness decline and death and a second focusing on epidemic spread These novels also question the narrative structures upon which they depend intervening particularly against the homophobia of those structures though also sometimes reinforcing it

The Wild Creatures Sam D'Allesandro, 2005 The Wild Creatures brings together all the stories of Sam D'Allesandro a young voice whose life was tragically snuffed out at age 31 at the height of the AIDS epidemic in 1988 This collection explores a strange terrain of urban legend the power of sexual obsession and the thin line where the too cool becomes the too hot

The Vampire Archives Otto Penzler, 2009-09-29 The Vampire Archives is the biggest hungriest undeadliest collection of vampire stories as well as the most comprehensive bibliography of vampire fiction ever assembled Dark stormy and delicious once it sinks its teeth into you there's no escape Vampires Whether imagined by Bram Stoker or Anne Rice they are part of the human lexicon and as old as blood itself They are your neighbors your friends and they are always lurking Now Otto Penzler

editor of the bestselling Black Lizard Big Book of Pulps has compiled the darkest the scariest and by far the most evil collection of vampire stories ever With over eighty stories including the works of Stephen King and D H Lawrence alongside Lord Byron and Tanith Lee not to mention Edgar Allan Poe and Harlan Ellison The Vampire Archives will drive a stake through the heart of any other collection out there Other contributors include Arthur Conan Doyle Ray Bradbury Ambrose Bierce H P Lovecraft Harlan Ellison Roger Zelazny Robert Bloch Clive Barker

Insistence of the Material Christopher Breu, 2014-09-15 Insistence of the Material engages with recent theories of materiality and biopolitics to provide a radical reinterpretation of experimental fiction in the second half of the twentieth century In contrast to readings that emphasize the metafictional qualities of these works Christopher Breu examines this literature's focus on the material conditions of everyday life from the body to built environments and from ecosystems to economic production In Insistence of the Material Breu rethinks contemporary understandings of biopolitics affirming the importance of forms of materiality that refuse full socialization and resist symbolic manipulation Breu considers a range of novels that reflect questions of materiality in a biopolitical era including William Burroughs's Naked Lunch Thomas Pynchon's V J G Ballard's Crash Dodie Bellamy's The Letters of Mina Harker and Leslie Marmon Silko's Almanac of the Dead Drawing from accounts of the emergence of immaterial production and biopolitics by Michel Foucault Giorgio Agamben Roberto Esposito and Michael Hardt and Antonio Negri Breu reveals the confrontational dimensions of materiality itself in a world devoted to the idea of its easy malleability and transcendence Taking his analysis beyond the boundaries of literature Breu argues that both materiality and subjectivity form sites of resistance to biopolitical control and that new developments in materialist theory advance a conception of social existence in which materiality rather than language or culture is the central term

The Wild Creatures Sam D'Allesandro, 2005 The Wild Creatures brings together all the stories of Sam D'Allesandro a young voice whose life was tragically snuffed out at age 31 at the height of the AIDS epidemic in 1988 This collection explores a strange terrain of urban legend the power of sexual obsession and the thin line where the too cool becomes the too hot

Communal Nude Robert Gluck, 2016-05-13 The collected essays of the cofounder of the New Narrative movement on theory identity poetry and muses from Kathy Acker to Georges Bataille I read and wrote to invoke what seemed impossible relation itself in order to take part in a world that ceaselessly makes itself up to wake up to the world to recognize the world to be convinced that the world exists to take revenge on the world for not existing from Communal Nude Since cofounding San Francisco's influential New Narrative circle in 1979 Robert Gluck has been one of America's finest prose stylists of innovative fiction bending narrative into the service of autobiography politics and gay writing This collection brings together for the first time Gluck's nonfiction a revelatory body of work that anchors his writing practice Gluck's essays explore the ways that storytelling and selfhood are mutually embedded cultural forms cohering a fractured social reality where generating narrative means generating identity means generating community I'd laugh at make art from any version of self Gluck writes I write about these forms that are myself to dispense with them to demonstrate how they disintegrate before the world the body For any body or text to know itself it must first see how it sees the world and understand itself as writing Gl ck s essays affirm this radical narratorial precept in rich spirals of reading self reflection anecdote escapade and metatext These texts span the author s career and his creative affinities from lost manifestos theorizing the poetics of New Narrative to encomia for literary and philosophic muses Kathy Acker the HOW ever poets Frank O Hara Georges Bataille and others to narrative journalism book reviews criticism and public talks Many of the texts are culled from obscure little magazines and ephemeral online sources others have never been published As lucid as story as lush as theory and as irresistible as gossip Gl ck s essays are the quintessence of New Narrative theory in practice

Cunt-ups Dodie Bellamy, 2001 Poetry Prose CUNT UPS is an explosion of textual sexuality that resists principles of formal ordering is polyvalent in its voice and range and as perverse in its sentence construction as its content Its setting is the mediated exchange itself the fractured articulation of a female body who has sex writing about sex While the title might imply a gendered site of production it also suggests a sexual textual violence that is more than a mere disorganization of the senses but a dismemberment of the gendered body as well The text becomes a feminist desiring machine its writing a prosthetic device mediating the traces of physicality imagination abjection and pleasure Throw on the switch plug into the mediating machine the flesh object writes back becomes subject suspect the gaze cut up and fed back into vibrating loops of unobtainable desire David Buuck Bookforum, 2003

Ultravioleta Laura Moriarty, 2006 Stella Nemo the most appealing sort of sophisticated naif plunges her paper ship the Nautilus into deepest blackest space crossing into the fraught domains of other planets and other minds beaming requests for information to Ada Byron a clone and psychic information scientist and dreaming of the renaissance poet Thomas Wyatt who exists as data Stella s mission to attempt to think and to write without being disturbed derailed or killed Community and Contestatory Writing Practices in the San Francisco Bay Area, 1970-present Robin Tremblay-McGaw, 2009
