

The background of the slide is a soft-focus landscape painting. It depicts a village with a prominent church featuring a tall, dark spire. The village is nestled at the base of large, hazy mountains. The sky is a gradient of light blue and pale orange, suggesting a sunset or sunrise. The overall style is impressionistic, with soft colors and a focus on light and atmosphere.

The real subject of every painting is light.

What Am I? Joseph Almog, 2005 This book articulates and defends Descartes s dual key project the separation of human mind and body as distinct substances and their integration into a single human being The central challenge faced by Descartes s dualism is the prove too much prove too little dilemma too keen a separation of mind and body gets in the way of reuniting them into a full bloodied real human subject whereas emphasizing the primality of the full human being is not enough to preserve the distinctness of mind and body as separate complete substances

Habits of Mind Antonio T. De Nicolás, 2000 This stimulating new work is based on a highly successful and extremely popular course which Professor De Nicolas has taught at the State University of New York at Stony Brook for over 15 years In Habits of Mind De Nicolas reveals that the most important achievement of education is to develop in students those skills that enable them to participate fully in the life of humankind He calls these skills the inner technologies and intends by the phrase something very different from cognitive skills Education he claims must nurture the capacity for fantasy and imagination In Habits of Mind he traces the relative importance of these capacities through the history and philosophy of education from Plato onward The habits of intellectual discourse are treated as an organic thread from the ancient past to the present
