Loss and Damage from Climate Change Reinhard Mechler, Laurens M. Bouwer, Thomas Schinko, Swenja Surminski, JoAnne Linnerooth-Bayer, 2018-11-28 This book provides an authoritative insight on the Loss and Damage discourse by highlighting state of the art research and policy linked to this discourse and articulating its multiple concepts principles and methods Written by leading researchers and practitioners it identifies practical and evidence based policy options to inform the discourse and climate negotiations With climate related risks on the rise and impacts being felt around the globe has come the recognition that climate mitigation and adaptation may not be enough to manage the effects from anthropogenic climate change This recognition led to the creation of the Warsaw International Mechanism on Loss and Damage in 2013 a climate policy mechanism dedicated to dealing with climate related effects in highly vulnerable countries that face severe constraints and limits to adaptation Endorsed in 2015 by the Paris Agreement and effectively considered a third pillar of international climate policy debate and research on Loss and Damage continues to gain enormous traction Yet concepts methods and tools as well as directions for policy and implementation have remained contested and vague Suitable for researchers policy advisors practitioners and the interested public the book furthermore discusses the political legal economic and institutional dimensions of the issue highlights normative questions central to the discourse provides a focus on climate risks and climate risk management presents salient case studies from around the world Empires and

Exchanges in Eurasian Late Antiquity Nicola Di Cosmo, Michael Maas, 2018-04-26 Empires and Exchanges in Eurasian Late Antiquity offers an integrated picture of Rome China Iran and the Steppes during a formative period of world history In the half millennium between 250 and 750 CE settled empires underwent deep structural changes while various nomadic peoples of the steppes Huns Avars Turks and others experienced significant interactions and movements that changed their societies cultures and economies This was a transformational era a time when Roman Persian and Chinese monarchs were mutually aware of court practices and when Christians and Buddhists criss crossed the Eurasian lands together with merchants and armies It was a time of greater circulation of ideas as well as material goods This volume provides a conceptual frame for locating these developments in the same space and time Without arguing for uniformity it illuminates the interconnections and networks that tied countless local cultural expressions to far reaching inter regional ones

Dislocating the Frontier Deborah Bird Rose, Richard Davis, 2006-03-01 The frontier is one of the most pervasive concepts underlying the production of national identity in Australia Recently it has become a highly contested domain in which visions of nationhood are argued out through analysis of frontier conflict DISLOCATING THE FRONTIER departs from this contestation and takes a critical approach to the frontier imagination in Australia The authors of this book work with frontier theory in comparative and unsettling modes The essays reveal diverse aspects of frontier images and dreams as manifested in performance decolonising domains language and cross cultural encounters Slow Violence and the

Environmentalism of the Poor Rob Nixon, 2011-06-01 Slow violence from climate change toxic drift deforestation oil spills and the environmental aftermath of war occurs gradually and often invisibly Rob Nixon focuses on the inattention we have paid to the lethality of many environmental crises in contrast with the sensational spectacle driven messaging that impels public activism today

Reducing Poverty, Protecting Livelihoods, and Building Assets in a Changing Climate Dorte Verner, 2010-06-25 Climate change is the defining development challenge of our time More than a global environmental issue climate change and variability threaten to reverse recent progress in poverty reduction and economic growth Both now and over the long run climate change and variability threatens human and social development by restricting the fulfillment of human potential and by disempowering people and communities in reducing their livelihoods options Communities across Latin America and the Caribbean are already experiencing adverse consequences from climate change and variability Precipitation has increased in the southeastern part of South America and now often comes in the form of sudden deluges leading to flooding and soil erosion that endanger people's lives and livelihoods Southwestern parts of South America and western Central America are seeing a decrease in precipitation and an increase in droughts Increasing heat and drought in Northeast Brazil threaten the livelihoods of already marginal smallholders and may turn parts of the eastern Amazon rainforest into savannah The Andean inter tropical glaciers are shrinking and expected to disappear altogether within the next 20-40 years with significant consequences for water availability These environmental changes will impact local livelihoods in unprecedented ways Poverty inequality water access health and migration are and will be measurably affected by climate change Using an innovative research methodology this study finds quantitative evidence of large variations in impacts across regions Many already poor regions are becoming poorer traditional livelihoods are being challenged in unprecedented ways water scarcity is increasing particularly in poor arid areas human health is deteriorating and climate induced migration is already taking place and may increase Successfully reducing social vulnerability to climate change and variability requires action and commitment at multiple levels This volume offers key operational recommendations at the government community and household levels with particular emphasis placed on enhancing good governance and technical capacity in the public sector building social capital in local communities and protecting the asset base of poor households

The Nordic Countries and the European Security and Defence Policy Alyson J. K. Bailes, Gunilla Herolf, Bengt Sundelius, 2006 In 1999 the EU decided to develop its own military capacities for crisis management This book brings together a group of experts to examine the consequences of this decision on Nordic policy establishments as well as to shed new light on the defence and security issues that matter for Europe as a whole

Genocide Adam Jones, 2006-09-27 An invaluable introduction to the subject of genocide explaining its history from pre modern times to the present day with a wide variety of case studies Recent events in the former Yugoslavia Rwanda East Timor and Iraq have demonstrated with appalling clarity that the threat of genocide is still a major issue within world politics The book examines the differing interpretations of genocide from psychology sociology anthropology and political science and analyzes the influence of race ethnicity nationalism and gender on genocides In the final section the author examines how we punish those responsible for waging genocide and how the international community can prevent further bloodshed Constructing the Criollo

Archive Antony Higgins,2000 Focusing on a period neglected by scholars Higgins reconstructs how during the colonial period criollos individuals identified as being of Spanish descent born in America elaborated a body of knowledge an archive in order to establish their intellectual autonomy within the Spanish colonial administrative structures This book opens up an important area of research that will be of interest to scholars and students of Spanish American colonial literature and history BOOK JACKET The Paleoanthropology and Archaeology of Big-Game Hunting John D. Speth,2010-09-17 Since its inception paleoanthropology has been closely wedded to the idea that big game hunting by our hominin ancestors arose first and foremost as a means for acquiring energy and vital nutrients This assumption has rarely been questioned and seems intuitively obvious meat is a nutrient rich food with the ideal array of amino acids and big animals provide meat in large convenient packages Through new research the author of this volume provides a strong argument that the primary goals of big game hunting were actually social and political increasing hunter s prestige and standing and that the nutritional component was just an added bonus Through a comprehensive interdisciplinary research approach the author examines the historical and current perceptions of protein as an important nutrient source the biological impact of a high protein diet and the evidence of this in the archaeological record and provides a compelling reexamination of this long held conclusion This volume will be of interest to researchers in Archaeology Evolutionary Biology and Paleoanthropology particularly those studying diet and nutrition Multisystemic Resilience Michael Ungar,2021 Multisystemic Resilience brings together in one volume a wide range of resilience scholars who have been wrestling with how to explain processes of recovery adaptation and transformation in contexts of change and adversity Together this collection shows that considering the resilience of multiple systems at once is instrumental to understanding the processes of change and sustainability Imperial Hubris Michael Scheuer,2004-06-30 Though U S leaders try to convince the world of their success in fighting al Qaeda one anonymous member of the U S intelligence community would like to inform the public that we are in fact losing the war on terror Further until U S leaders recognize the errant path they have irresponsibly chosen he says our enemies will only grow stronger According to the author the greatest danger for Americans confronting the Islamist threat is to believe at the urging of U S leaders that Muslims attack us for what we are and what we think rather than for what we do Blustering political rhetoric The Web of Geological Sciences: Marion E. Bickford,2017-09-29 The web of geological sciences Special papers 500 and 523 written in celebration of the 125th anniversary of the Geological Society of America Pathways to Discovery in Astronomy and Astrophysics for the 2020s National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine,Division on

Color for Science, Art and Technology Kurt Nassau, 1997-12-18 The aim of this book is to assemble a series of chapters written by experts in their fields covering the basics of color and then some more In this way readers are supplied with almost anything they want to know about color outside their own area of expertise Thus the color measurement expert as well as the general reader can find here information on the perception causes and uses of color For the artist there are details on the causes measurement perception and reproduction of color Within each chapter authors were requested to indicate directions of future efforts where applicable One might reasonably expect that all would have been learned about color in the more than three hundred years since Newton established the fundamentals of color science This is not true because the measurement of color still has unresolved complexities Chapter 2 many of the fine details of color vision remain unknown Chapter 3 every few decades a new movement in art discovers original ways to use new pigments and dyes continue to be discovered Chapter 5 the philosophical approach to color has not yet crystallized Chapter 7 new pigments and dyes continue to be discovered Chapters 10 and 11 the study of the biological and therapeutic effects of color is still in its infancy Chapter 2 Color continues to develop towards maturity and the editor believes that there is much common ground between the sciences and the arts and that color is a major connecting bridge
