Historical Dictionary of the Chinese Cultural Revolution Guo Jian, Yongyi Song, Yuan Zhou, 2006-07-17 The Cultural Revolution in the People's Republic of China started in 1966 and lasted about a decade This revolutionary upsurge of Chinese students and workers led by Mao Zedong wreaked havoc in the world's most populous country often turning things upside down and undermining the party government and army while simultaneously weakening the economy society and culture Tens of millions of people were killed injured or imprisoned during this period and relatively few benefited aside from Mao Zedong and the Gang of Four the group that would eventually receive the blame for the events of the Cultural Revolution Given the turbulence and confusion it is hard to know just what happened The Historical Dictionary of the Chinese Cultural Revolution tackles this task First in an extensive chronology which traces the events from year to year and month to month then in an introduction puts these events in context and helps to explain them But most importantly the bulk of the information is provided in a dictionary section with numerous cross referenced entries on important persons places institutions and movements A bibliography points to further sources of information and a glossary will help those researching in Chinese book is the first to systematically document and analyze these atrocities drawing data from local archives government documents and interviews with survivors in two southern provinces This book extracts from the Chinese case lessons that challenge the prevailing models of genocide and mass killings and contributes to the historiography of the Cultural Revolution in which scholarship has mainly focused on events in urban areas Maoism and Grassroots Religion Xiaoxuan Wang,2020 Maoism and Grassroots Religion explores grassroots religious life under and after Mao in Rui an County Wenzhou of southeast China a region widely known for its religious vitality Drawing on unexplored local state archives records of religious institutions memoirs and interviews it tells the story of local communities encounter with the Communist revolution and its consequences especially competition and struggles for religious property and ritual space Xiaoxuan Wang shows that Maoism permanently altered the religious landscape in China especially by inadvertently promoting the localization and even in some areas expansion of Protestant Christianity as well as the reinvention of traditional communal religion He contends that the post Mao religious revival had deep historical roots in the Mao years and cannot be explained by contemporary economic motives and cultural logics alone The book calls for a new understanding of Maoism and secularism in the People s Republic of China Provincial Strategies of Economic Reform in Post-Mao China Peter T.Y. Glassman,Deone Zell,Shari Duron,2005 An emergent approach to organizational strategy making assumptions that few organizations actually realize the goal of deliberative top down strategic planning and that effective strategy making occurs on a continual basis and is a shared activity of the entire organization This innovative book provides the first in depth look at how real organizations are formulating and implementing strategic change under this new paradigm The authors have dug deep into three large and varied organizations Hewlett Packard the California State University system and the County of Los Angeles and identified each one s efforts to develop a new strategic planning process better suited to match the current pace of change and environmental unpredictability The book is filled with vignettes quotes and real world examples that illustrate the trend toward faster more adaptive strategic planning processes It is relevant for a wide range of business governmental and non profit settings and should be required reading in any course on strategic planning Chinese Political Culture Shiping Hua,Andrew J.
