Rebirth A History Of Europe Since World War II:

Rebirth Cyril Black, 2018-05-04 Rebirth A History of Europe Since World War II examines the transition of Europe from a period of crisis to an era of political confidence and economic strength. As the title suggests, the pervasive theme of the book is that of rebirth. The most recent decades are set in the context of modern European history as a whole. The authors trace the disillusionment and uncertainty that overcame Europe at the turn of the twentieth century and that culminated in the devastation of the Second World War. In their analysis of the political and economic causes of the renaissance that has followed the demise of the Cold War, the authors highlight the themes of national integration and economic modernization. The chapters are uniquely organized to present both international and domestic developments in Europe as coherent wholes, as well as the importance of their interaction. The initial analysis of key international developments in the twentieth century helps students to understand the relationship between foreign and domestic events and provides background for the substantial discussion of the major European countries that follows in chapters devoted to each national experience. The political and economic histories of these nation states are considered in terms of their individual traditions and challenges, and the authors explore difficult issues such as the overall costs and benefits of the scientific technological revolution, the pursuit of social justice, the proper role of the state, and of political parties and contrasting national paths of economic and political development. Rebirth is designed as a text for use in courses on modern European history, especially twentieth century Europe, and for students of comparative politics who are seeking a substantial consideration of the historical factors of European politics. In this revised edition, the authors have updated the text with an analysis of developments since 1991 and added recent scholarship to the lists of Suggested Readings.

Postwar Tony Judt, 2006-09-05 Finalist for the Pulitzer Prize, Winner of the Council on Foreign Relations Arthur Ross Book Award. One of the New York Times's 100 Best Books of the 21st Century. Impressive. Mr. Judt writes with enormous authority. The Wall Street Journal Magisterial. It is without a doubt the most comprehensive, authoritative, and yet readable postwar history. The Boston Globe. Almost a decade in the making, this much anticipated grand history of postwar Europe from one of the world's most esteemed historians and intellectuals is a singular achievement. Postwar is the first modern history that covers all of Europe, both east and west, drawing on research in six languages to sweep readers through thirty-four nations and sixty years of political and cultural change, all in one integrated, enthralling narrative. Both intellectually ambitious and compelling to read, thrilling in its scope and delightful in its small details. Postwar is a rare joy.

Rebirth Cyril Edwin Black, 1992 This textbook examines from the perspective of the historic events of 1989-1991 the transition of Europe from a period of crisis to an era of political confidence and economic strength.

Barbarism and Civilization Bernard Wasserstein, 2009 History

The Walls Came Tumbling Down Gale Stokes, 1993-10-07 Gale Stokes The Walls Came Tumbling Down has been one of the standard interpretations of the East European revolutions of 1989 for many years. It offers a sweeping yet vivid narrative of the two decades of developments that led from the Prague Spring of 1968 to the collapse of communism in 1989. Highlights of that narrative include among other things discussions of Solidarity and civil society in Poland, Charter 77 and the Velvet Revolution in Czechoslovakia and the bizarre regime of Romania's Nicolae Ceausescu and his violent downfall. In this second edition, now appropriately subtitled Collapse and Rebirth in Eastern Europe, Stokes not only has revised these portions of the book in the light of recent scholarship but has added three new chapters covering the post-communist period, including analyses of the unification of Germany and the collapse of the Soviet Union, narratives of the admission of many of the countries of the region to the European Union and discussion of the unfortunate outcomes of the Wars of Yugoslav Succession in the Western Balkans.

The New Global Trading Order Dennis Patterson, Ari Afilalo, 2008-03-31 The international institutions that have governed global trade since the end of World War II have lost their effectiveness and global trade governance is fractured. The need for new institutions is obvious and yet few proposals seem to be on offer. The key to understanding the global trading order lies in uncovering the relationship between trade and the State and how the inner constitution of Statecraft drives the architecture of the global order and requires structural changes as the State traverses successive cycles. The current trade order, focused on the liberalization of trade in goods and services and the management of related issues, is predicated on policies and practices that were the product of a global trading order of the 20th century modern nation states. Today a new form of the State, the post-modern State, is evolving. In this book the authors propose a new trade norm, the enablement of global economic opportunity and a new institution, the Trade Council, to overhaul the global trading order.

A Comparative History of Commerce and Industry, Volume II David E. McNabb, 2016-01-26 A Comparative History of Commerce and Industry Volume II offers a subjective review of how the cultural, social and economic institutions of commerce and industry evolved in industrialized nations to produce the institution we now know as business enterprise.

The American Bibliography of Slavic and East European Studies Patricia Leonard, Rebecca Routh, 2020-02-27 This bibliography, first published in 1957, provides citations to North American academic literature on Europe, Central Europe, the Balkans, the Baltic States and the former Soviet Union. Organised by discipline, it covers the arts, humanities, social sciences, life sciences and technology.
