Recapturing The Growth Track Correcting Leaders Disempowering Behaviors:

Recapturing the Growth Track Ken Utech, Phil Hauck, 2004 This book helps executives diagnose and cure their ineffectiveness by revealing CEOs true driving values Academy of Management Annual Meeting Academy of Management, 2001 American Book Publishing Record , 2003 Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 2003 Books In Print 2004-2005 Ed Bowker Staff, Staff Bowker, Ed, 2004 Confronting Consumption Thomas Princen, Michael Maniates, Ken Conca, 2002-06-21 Comforting terms such as sustainable development and green production frame environmental debate by stressing technology not green enough economic growth not enough in the right places and population too large Concern about consumption emerges if at all in benign ways as calls for green purchasing or more recycling or for small changes in production processes Many academics policymakers and journalists in fact accept the economists view of consumption as nothing less than the purpose of the economy Yet many people have a troubled intuitive understanding that tinkering at the margins of production and purchasing will not put society on an ecologically and socially sustainable path Confronting Consumption places consumption at the center of debate by conceptualizing the consumption problem and documenting diverse efforts to confront it In Part 1 the book frames consumption as a problem of political and ecological economy emphasizing core concepts of individualization and commoditization Part 2 develops the idea of distancing and examines transnational chains of consumption in the context of economic globalization Part 3 describes citizen action through local currencies home power voluntary simplicity ad busting and product certification Together the chapters propose cautious consuming and better producing as an activist and policy response to environmental problems The book concludes that confronting consumption must become a driving focus of contemporary environmental scholarship and activism By Popular Demand John Gastil, 2000-08-01 John Gastil challenges conventional assumptions about public opinion elections and political expression in this persuasive treatise on how to revitalize the system of representative democracy in the United States Gastil argues that American citizens have difficulty developing clear policy interests seldom reject unrepresentative public officials and lack a strong public voice Our growing awareness of a flawed electoral system is causing increased public cynicism and apathy The most popular reforms however will neither restore public trust nor improve representation Term limits and campaign finance reforms will increase turnover but they provide no mechanism for improved deliberation and accountability Building on the success of citizen juries and deliberative polling Gastil proposes improving our current process by convening randomly selected panels of citizens to deliberate for several days on ballot measures and candidates Voters would learn about the judgments of these citizen panels through voting guides and possibly information printed on official ballots The result would be a more representative government and a less cynical public America has a long history of experimentation with electoral systems and the proposals in By Popular Demand merit serious consideration and debate Screens Fade to Black David J. Leonard, 2006-06-30 The triple crown of Oscars awarded to

Denzel Washington Halle Berry and Sidney Poitier on a single evening in 2002 seemed to mark a turning point for African Americans in cinema Certainly it was hyped as such by the media eager to overlook the nuances of this sudden embrace In this new study author David Leonard uses this event as a jumping off point from which to discuss the current state of African American cinema and the various genres that currently compose it Looking at such recent films as Love and Basketball Antwone Fisher Training Day and the two Barbershop films all of which were directed by black artists and most of which starred and were written by blacks as well Leonard examines the issues of representation and opportunity in contemporary cinema In many cases these films which walk a line between confronting racial stereotypes and trafficking in them made a great deal of money while hardly playing to white audiences at all By examining the ways in which they address the American Dream racial progress racial difference blackness whiteness class capitalism and a host of other issues Leonard shows that while certainly there are differences between the grotesque images of years past and those that define today's era the consistency of images across genre and time reflects the lasting power of racism as well as the black community's response to it

Beyond Racism Charles V. Hamilton, 2001 This study explores issues of race racism and strategies to improve the status of people of African descent in Brazil South Africa and the USA The authors provide in depth information about each country together with analyses of cross cutting themes and trends

Red Skin, White Masks Glen Sean Coulthard, 2014 Over the past forty years recognition has become the dominant mode of negotiation and decolonization between the nation state and Indigenous nations in North America The term OC recognitionOCO shapes debates over Indigenous cultural distinctiveness Indigenous rights to land and self government and Indigenous peoplesOCO right to benefit from the development of their lands and resources In a work of critically engaged political theory Glen Sean Coulthard challenges recognition as a method of organizing difference and identity in liberal politics questioning the assumption that contemporary difference and past histories of destructive colonialism between the state and Indigenous peoples can be reconciled through a process of acknowledgment Beyond this Coulthard examines an alternative politicsOCOone that seeks to revalue reconstruct and redeploy Indigenous cultural practices based on self recognition rather than on seeking appreciation from the very agents of colonialism Coulthard demonstrates how a OC place basedOCO modification of Karl MarxOCO's theory of OC primitive accumulationOCO throws light on IndigenousOCostate relations in settler colonial contexts and how Frantz FanonOCO's critique of colonial recognition shows that this relationship reproduces itself over time This framework strengthens his exploration of the ways that the politics of recognition has come to serve the interests of settler colonial power In addressing the core tenets of Indigenous resistance movements like Red Power and Idle No More Coulthard offers fresh insights into the politics of active decolonization

Anarchist Pedagogies Robert H. Haworth, 2012-08-01 Education is a challenging subject for anarchists Many are critical about working within a state run education system that is embedded in hierarchical standardized and authoritarian structures Numerous individuals and collectives envision the creation of counterpublics or alternative educational sites as possible forms of resistance while other anarchists see themselves as saboteurs within the public arena believing that there is a need to contest dominant forms of power and educational practices from multiple fronts Of course if anarchists agree that there are no blueprints for education the question remains in what dynamic and creative ways can we construct nonhierarchical anti authoritarian mutual and voluntary educational spaces Contributors to this edited volume engage readers in important and challenging issues in the area of anarchism and education From Francisco Ferrer s modern schools in Spain and the Work People s College in the United States to contemporary actions in developing free skools in the U K and Canada to direct action education such as learning to work as a street medic in the protests against neoliberalism the contributors illustrate the importance of developing complex connections between educational theories and collective actions Anarchists activists and critical educators should take these educational experiences seriously as they offer invaluable examples for potential teaching and learning environments outside of authoritarian and capitalist structures Major themes in the volume include learning from historical anarchist experiments in education ways that contemporary anarchists create dynamic and situated learning spaces and finally critically reflecting on theoretical frameworks and educational practices Contributors include David Gabbard Jeffery Shantz Isabelle Fremeaux John Jordan Abraham P DeLeon Elsa Noterman Andre Pusey Matthew Weinstein Alex Khasnabish and many others

The Missional Leader Alan J. Roxburgh, Fred Romanuk, 2020-11-03 In The Missional Leader consultants Alan J Roxburgh and Fred Romanuk address two questions How do we do missional and What does missional leadership look like Drawing on their many years of experience the authors show readers how to bring God's word into the community outside the church's walls They focus on how to lead missionally on the ground in the local setting even amid leaders' experience of massive change within the church and in the wider world The challenge for many church leaders is that they are not equipped to lead a church in shifting from a consumer model of church to one that is missional They were trained in a Christendom mindset to meet the needs of the church's members This book assists leaders in shifting from dominant models of leadership rooted in strategic planning with mission and vision statements desired outcomes measurements along the way and determined goals It provides a praxis for beginning where people are rather than where the leader wants them to go Roxburgh and Romanuk give frank recognition to the fact that the shift from a consumer model to a missional mindset will almost certainly be stormy disruptive and disorienting This is not a book of quick fixes and slick slogans but one that sets out a comprehensive and in depth treatment for a different way of leading The Missional Leader is a critical commentary that needs to be read in the light of today's realities
