Personnel Bibliography Series United States Civil Service Commission. Library, 1960 Recent Alumni and Higher Education Joe L. Spaeth, Andrew M. Greeley, 1997 Grading the College Scott M. Gelber, 2020-06-23 A comprehensive history of evaluation in American higher education In Grading the College Scott M Gelber offers a comprehensive history of evaluating teaching and learning in higher education He complicates the conventional narrative that portrays evaluation as a newfangled assault on the integrity of higher education while acknowledging that there are many compelling reasons to oppose those practices The evaluation of teaching and learning Gelber argues presented genuine dilemmas that have attracted the attention of faculty members and academic leaders since the 1920s Especially during the peak era of faculty authority that followed the end of the Second World War significant numbers of professors and administrators believed that evaluation might improve institutional performance reduce the bias inherent in traditional methods of supervision strengthen communication with laypersons and encourage a more deliberate focus on the distinctive goals of college Gelber reveals the extent to which professors and academic interest groups participated in the development of our most common evaluation instruments including student course questionnaires achievement tests surveys rubrics rankings and accreditation self studies Although these efforts may seem distant from the present era of shortsighted scrutiny and ill conceived comparisons Gelber demonstrates that the evaluation of college teaching and learning has long consisted of a set of intellectually sophisticated questions that have engaged and could continue to engage faculty members and their advocates By providing a deeper understanding of how evaluation operated before the dawn of high stakes accountability Grading the College seeks to promote productive conversations about current attempts to define and measure the purposes of American higher education

Report on Higher Education United States. Office of Education, 1971 Personnel Bibliography Series United States. Office of Personnel Management. Library, 1979 Higher Education and the Creative Economy Roberta Comunian, Abigail Gilmore, 2016-03-10 Since the DCMS Creative Industries Mapping Document highlighted the key role played by creative activities in the UK economy and society the creative industries agenda has expanded across Europe and internationally They have the support of local authorities regional development agencies research councils arts and cultural agencies and other sector organisations Within this framework higher education institutions have also engaged in the creative agenda but have struggled to define their role in this growing sphere of activities Higher Education and the Creative Economy critically engages with the complex interconnections between higher education geography cultural policy and the creative economy This book is organised into four sections which articulate the range of dynamics that can emerge between higher education and the creative economy partnership and collaboration across Higher Education institutions and the creative and cultural industries the development of creative human capital connections between arts schools and local art scenes and links with broader policy directions and work Chapter 9 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 3.0 license

The Alumni Factor The Alumni Factor, 2013-09-10 This book began with a simple premise that there is a better way to assess and rank colleges and universities in America than those currently being offered The primary outcomes of most of today's rankings are 1 To provide readers a view of what life is like as an undergraduate and 2 To give insight into who comes into the college The Alumni Factor on the other hand is more interested in who comes out The aim of this guide is to describe how well a college or university actually develops and shapes its students and what becomes of them after they graduate The Alumni Factor is interested in the actual outcomes experienced by college graduates and the role their college played in creating those outcomes The Alumni Factor believes this information regarding graduate outcomes is truly essential to understanding and assessing our colleges and universities today In line with these goals The Alumni Factor provides a detailed in depth profile of graduates from 225 of our nation's top colleges The profiles were constructed almost entirely with data and insights from the actual college alumni themselves Readers will find The Alumni Factor to be a fascinating look at the incredibly diverse academic social and cultural choices available to capable students today
