Speculative Everything Anthony Dunne, Fiona Raby, 2013-12-06 How to use design as a tool to create not only things but ideas to speculate about possible futures Today designers often focus on making technology easy to use sexy and consumable In Speculative Everything Anthony Dunne and Fiona Raby propose a kind of design that is used as a tool to create not only things but ideas For them design is a means of speculating about how things could be to imagine possible futures This is not the usual sort of predicting or forecasting spotting trends and extrapolating these kinds of predictions have been proven wrong again and again Instead Dunne and Raby pose what if questions that are intended to open debate and discussion about the kind of future people want and do not want Speculative Everything offers a tour through an emerging cultural landscape of design ideas ideals and approaches Dunne and Raby cite examples from their own design and teaching and from other projects from fine art design architecture cinema and photography They also draw on futurology political theory the philosophy of technology and literary fiction They show us for example ideas for a solar kitchen restaurant a flypaper robotic clock a menstruation machine a cloud seeding truck a phantom limb sensation recorder and devices for food foraging that use the tools of synthetic biology Dunne and Raby contend that if we speculate more about everything reality will become more malleable The ideas freed by speculative design increase the odds of achieving desirable futures Art in Progress Maarten Doorman, 2003 A philosophical essay in support of the argument that progress in art is both possible and necessary

Better Neighbors Chad P. Bown, Daniel Lederman, Samuel Pienknagura, Raymond Robertson, 2017-03-15 This book proposes a renewal of Open Regionalism in Latin America and the Caribbean LAC aimed at achieving the region's goals of high growth with stability The LAC region experienced a growth spurt with equity during the first decade of the 21st Century It is well understood that an unsustainable demand boom fueled by terms of trade improvements drove this growth acceleration episode especially in South America Unfortunately terms of trade are no longer fueling growth and the region's policymakers are in search of new sources of growth with stability With the experience of East Asia and the Pacific in mind many policymakers in LAC are looking to international economic ties as a potential source of stable growth The challenge highlighted in this book lies in designing an integration agenda comprising trade and factor market integration that is conducive to region wide efficiency gains which can help LAC enhance its global competitiveness The forces of geography imply that pro growth global integration cannot be achieved without building a strong neighborhood Thus this volume argues that LAC's regional economic integration agenda needs to go well beyond the current spaghetti bowl of preferential trading arrangements Handbook of Consumer Psychology Curtis P. Haugtvedt, Paul M. Herr, Frank R. Kardes, 2018-12-07 This Handbook contains a unique collection of chapters written by the world's leading researchers in the dynamic field of consumer psychology Although these researchers are housed in different academic departments ie marketing psychology advertising communications all have the common goal of attaining a better scientific understanding of cognitive affective and
