Reality And Illusion In The Plays Of Harold Pinter:

Reality and Illusions in the Plays of Harold Pinter Guru Charan Behera,1998-01-01 Reality and Illusion in Harold Pinter's Plays Kiss Magdolna Tünde,2004 New World Order of Postmodernism in the Plays of Harold Pinter Saumya Rajan,2018-07-06 The book reconnoiters the New World Order of Postmodernism in five plays The Room 1957 The Birthday Party 1957 The Caretaker 1960 The Homecoming 1965 and Celebration 2000 of Harold Pinter With culturally structured incomprehensibly manipulated dual and fragmented characters Harold Pinter analyses the ambiguities of political system It is perhaps the System that forcibly drags Stanley to a world of systems in The Birthday Party The situation of Ruth in The Homecoming clearly indicates the inevitable grip of this System The last play Celebration overtly ridicules the very political system we approve of wherein the strategy consultants and the corporate people define the organized mechanism of this SYSTEM The internalization of power which the power structures of societies and politics possess appears largely in his plays providing postmodernism its duality Pinter offers us a true picture of our postmodernist culture an apocalyptic world at the edge of civilization Gender and Power in the Plays of Harold Pinter Victor L. Cahn,2011-12-20 During the past century artists have been preoccupied with the search for meaning in a fragmented world In this book Victor L Cahn suggests that the plays of Harold Pinter dramatize how such a search leads characters to try to establish security through control of territory and people The resulting conflict often manifests itself in a gender battle in which men dominate the physical arena and women the emotional The innate tension between the sexes is both comic and unnerving but also reflects humanity's eternal quest for meaning and identity Illusion and Reality in the Plays of Luigi Pirandello and Harold Pinter Eefke Voeten,1998 Patterns of Illusion in the Plays of Harold Pinter and Edward Albee Subash Chandra Ray,2013 This book is an attempt to study the patterns of illusion in the major plays of Harold Pinter and Edward Albee two important living contemporary dramatists of England and America respectively Pinter's plays from The Room to Celebration embody multiple patterns of illusion in relation to reality Similarly Albee's plays from The Zoo Story to A Lady from Dubuque exhibit a growing awareness of the dramatist's preoccupation with illusion While Pinter's plays embody an attitude of ambivalence in terms of illusion and reality Albee's plays seem to plead for breaking down illusion and confronting reality Their common concerns differing approaches and modes are the focus of the present study The Pinter Ethic Penelope Prentice,2002-05-03 First published in 2000 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informal company Towards a Poetics of Postmodern Drama Mufti Mudasir,2014-06-26 The book is a study of Harold Pinter and Tom Stoppard arguably the two most eminent British playwrights of the past sixty years or so from a perspective of what it describes as a poetics of postmodern drama Arguing for the application of Linda Hutcheon's model of postmodernism to the study of drama Towards a Poetics of Postmodern Drama shows that postmodern drama should be seen as a self consciously contradictory and double coded phenomenon one which simultaneously inscribes and subverts the conventional categories of dramatic representation

In spite of its indebtedness to Beckett's Absurdist and Brecht's Epic theaters postmodern drama should not be conflated with either. This is primarily because postmodern drama retains a critical edge towards contemporary reality in a manner which Hutcheon very aptly terms as a complicitous critique. The book demonstrates that both Pinter and Stoppard are pre-eminently postmodern in their treatment of issues such as the human subject, the notion of truth, historical verifiability and linguistic reference. Pinter's preoccupation with non-referential modes of language use, the role of power in the construction of the subject and unreliable memories is as potent a way of disrupting the representational status of drama as Stoppard's repeated recourse to devices such as parody, theater within theater and the fictional treatment of history. Equivocation in the Theatre of the Absurd Haidar Kareem Al-Abedi, 2015-07-06 This book is the first attempt made to analyse the equivocal language of the Absurd Theatre via pure linguistic models carefully employed and illustrated by a wide range of significant examples, questions and discussions. It provides the multiple tools necessary for understanding this language from various perspectives. Dr Haidar K Al Abedi was Lecturer in English at University of Baghdad, Al Muthana University and Al Israa University College. Haidar has to be complimented at the outset for selecting a very interesting topic. It is not surprising that a person from Iraq and the ravages the country is sadly facing these days is interested in an area which has its significant socio-cultural origin in the ravages of the World War II. The scope of the research also effectively covers the entire school of the British exponents of the Absurd Theatre. In fact, the first chapter discusses the central keyword equivocation in scholarly detail. There is an interesting discussion about the various types of equivocation from chapter two to five quite elaborately conducted by the researcher Dr Sanjay Mukherjee, Saurashtra University, India. This book is an elaborate analysis of a number of plays written by different dramatists. By elucidating the equivocal verbal and non-verbal communication used by characters, the book addresses a wide range of social, religious, cultural and political themes and issues which appeal to its audience readers and are involved in constructing meaning through its peculiar use of language. Dr Adel Saleh Wasit, University of Iraq.

New Theatre Quarterly 67: Volume 17, Part 3 Clive Barker, Simon Trussler, 2001-10-26 New Theatre Quarterly provides a lively international forum where theatrical scholarship and practice can meet and where prevailing dramatic assumptions can be subjected to vigorous critical questioning. It shows that theater history has a contemporary relevance; that theater studies need a methodology and that theater criticism needs a language. The journal publishes news, analysis and debate within the field of theater studies. The Vital Lie Anthony S. Abbott, 2003-08-08 The Vital Lie is the first book to examine the reality-illusion conflict in modern drama from Ibsen to present-day playwrights. The book questions why vital lies, necessary for life itself, are such an obsessive concern for playwrights of the last hundred years. Using the work of fifteen playwrights, Abbott seeks to discover if modern playwrights treat illusions as helpful or necessary to life or as signals of sicknesses from which human beings need to be cured. What happens to characters when they are forced to face the truth about themselves and their worlds without the protection of their illusions? The author develops a three-part historical analysis of the use of the reality illusion theme from its origins as a metaphysical search to its current elaborations as a theatrical game International Journal on Multicultural Literature (IJML) K.V. Dominic, 2017-01-01 The Cambridge Companion to Harold Pinter Peter Raby, 2001-09-20 The Cambridge Companion to Harold Pinter provides an introduction to one of the world's leading and most controversial writers whose output in many genres and roles continued to grow until the author's death in 2008 Harold Pinter winner of the 2005 Nobel Prize for Literature produced work for the theatre radio television and screen in addition to being a highly successful director and actor This volume examines the wide range of Pinter's work including his recent play Celebration The first section of essays places his writing within the critical and theatrical context of his time and its reception worldwide The Companion moves on to explore issues of performance with essays by practitioners and writers The third section addresses wider themes including Pinter as celebrity the playwright and his critics and the political dimensions of his work The volume offers photographs from key productions a chronology checklist of works and bibliography The Films of Harold Pinter Steven H. Gale, 2001-03-29 The Films of Harold Pinter is a collection of ten original essays on the screenplays of master British dramatist and screenwriter Harold Pinter Written by noted Pinter and film specialists the book explores individual Pinter masterpieces such as The French Lieutenant's Woman The Go Between Accident and The Pumpkin Eater Along with offering explications of the films themselves it also provides insights into Pinter's creative process and the differences between the novel drama and film Despite having written twenty three film scripts and concentrating his recent artistic attention almost exclusively on screenwriting Pinter's work for the screen has been paid sparse critical attention over the years This book leaves little doubt however that Harold Pinter has made important contributions to the cinema not the least of which has to do with the primary characteristics of his screenplays in almost every case he has produced a script that is a work of art in its own right one that can stand on its own

The Room Harold Pinter, 1960 The Pinter Review, 1989 Modern British Playwriting: The 1950s David Pattie, 2013-12-02 Essential for students of theatre studies Methuen Drama's Decades of Modern British Playwriting series provides a comprehensive survey and study of the theatre produced in each decade from the 1950s to 2009 in six volumes Each volume features a critical analysis and reevaluation of the work of four key playwrights from that decade authored by a team of experts together with an extensive commentary on the period Modern British Playwriting The 1950s provides an authoritative and stimulating reassessment of the theatre of the decade together with a detailed study of the work of T S Eliot by Sarah Bay Cheng Terence Rattigan David Pattie John Osborne Luc Gilleman and Arnold Wesker John Bull The volume sets the context by providing a chronological survey of the 1950s a period when Britain was changing rapidly and the very fabric of an apparently stable society seemed to be under threat It explores the crisis in the theatrical climate and activity in the first part of the decade and the shift as the theatre began to document the unease in society before documenting the early life of the four principal playwrights studied in the volume Four scholars provide detailed examinations of the playwrights work during the decade combining an analysis of their plays with a study of other material such as early play drafts interviews and the critical receptions of the time An Afterword reviews what the writers went on to do and provides a summary evaluation of their contribution to British theatre from the perspective of the twenty first century Friendly
