Reason and Conduct Henry David Aiken,1978 Reason and Conduct Henry David Aiken,2018-05-07 Excerpt from Reason and Conduct New Bearings in Moral Philosophy In arranging these essays I have decided not to follow a strict chronological order Instead I have divided them into two main groups The first represents my own successive efforts to find answers to the questions of analytical ethics The second offers a selection of critical studies of particular works that reflect some of the prevailing winds of doctrine in contemporary moral philosophy and several essays dealing with a variety of topics historical and substantive as well as methodological which at one time or another have engaged my attention Taken together the papers do seem to me to provide a fairly comprehensive survey of a good many of the issues with which moral philosophers are now concerned However I most particularly desire not to give the impression that without really trying I have somehow managed to construct a new system of moral philosophy These are new bearings nothing more About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works The Birth of Bioethics Albert R. Walters, 2003-10-01 As a deeply religious thinker who disclaimed all rationalistic systems Martin Buber produced an insightful critique of modern philosophical ethics one that became productive soil for another nontraditional philosophical ethic feminism's care ethic In light of the recent emphasis on the new morality antifoundationalism and postmodernism in ethics the dialogical ethics of Martin Buber merits close examination Most important Walters compares and contrasts Buber's and feminism's personalist ethics in light of two considerations the lack of attention by feminist writers to the feminist Buber linkage and the long standing and general inattention by twentieth century thinkers to the ethical dimensions of Buber's thought Reconstructing Public Philosophy William M. Habibi, 2013-03-14 In this well researched comprehensive study of J S Mill Professor Habibi argues that the persistent dominant theme of Mill's life and work was his passionate belief in human improvement and progress Several Mill scholars recognize this however numerous writers overlook his growth ethic and this has led to misunderstandings about his value system This study defines and establishes the importance of Mill's growth ethic and clears up misinterpretations surrounding his notions of higher and lower pleasures positive and negative freedom the status of children the legitimacy of authority and support for British colonialism Drawing from the entire corpus of Mill's writings as well as the extensive secondary literature Habibi has written the most focused sustained analysis of Mill's grand leading principle This book will be useful to college students in philosophy and intellectual history as well as specialists in these fields Morality Truly Christian, Truly African Paulinus Ikechukwu Odozor C.S.Sp., 2014-11-15 Given the largely Eurocentric nature of moral theology in the history of the Roman Catholic Church what will it take to invest the theological community in the history and moral challenges of the Church in other parts of the world especially Africa What is to be gained for the whole Church when this happens in a deep and lasting way In this timely and important study Paulinus Ikechukwu Odozor brings greater theological clarity to the issue of the relationship between Christianity and African tradition in the area of ethical foundations He also provides a constructive example of what fundamental moral theology done from an African and Christian especially Catholic moral theological point of view could look like Following a brief history of the development of African Christian theology Odozor examines responses of African theologians to African tradition and Christian responses to the reality of non Christian religions In a context where the African religious experience and heritage are powerful sources of meaning and identity Christian evangelization raises questions both about the African primal religions and about Christianity itself and its claims Odozor takes up the subject of moral reasoning in an African Christian theological ethics and concludes with case studies that show how the African Church has tried to inculturate moral discourse on a religiously pluralistic continent and relate the healing gospel message to African situations Students and scholars of moral theology and ethics and church leaders will profit from the issues raised in Morality Truly Christian Truly African Encyclopedia of Public Relations Robert L. Heath, 2004-10-12 The Encyclopedia of Public Relations explores the evolution of the Public Relations field with examples from history describing events changing practices and the key figures who developed and expanded the profession This two volume set is the first and most authoritative compilation of the subject and is a must have for any library serving patrons in business communication and journalism The encyclopedia explores key challenges facing the profession of public relations and its practitioners such as earning the trust and respect of critics and the general public These volumes go into great depth about such ethical policies and challenges The Public Relations Society of America PRSA operates under a specific code of ethics full details of which are included in an appendix Books for College Libraries Melvin John Voigt, Joseph H.
