Reason In The Art Of Living:

Essays in Philosophy and Its History Wilfrid Sellars, 1974-12-31 In pulling these essays together for inclusion in one volume I do not believe that I have done them violence Since they originally appeared at different times and places they constitute a scattered object Nevertheless to the author's eye they have unities of theme and development which if they fail to give them the true identity of the book may to adapt a metaphor from Hume generate those smooth and easy transitions of the imagination which arouse dispositions appropriate to surveying such identical objects For the juxtaposition of historical and systematic studies I make no apology It has been suggested with a friendly touch of malice that if Science and Metaphysics consists as its subtitle proclaims of Variations on Kantian Themes it would be no less accurate to subtitle my historical essays variations on Sellarsian themes But this is as it should be Philosophy is a continuing dialogue with one's contemporaries living and dead and if one fails to see oneself in one's respondent and one's respondent in oneself there is confrontation but no dialogue The historian as Collingwood points out becomes Caesar's contemporary by learning to think Caesar's thoughts And it is because Plato thought so many of our thoughts that he is our contemporary and companion

Time and the Art of Living Robert Grudin, 1982 This is a book about time about one's own journey through it and more important about enlarging the pleasure one takes in that journey It's about memory of the past hope and fear for the future and how they color for better and for worse one's experience of the present Ultimately it's a book about freedom freedom from despair of the clock of the aging body of the seeming waste of one's daily routine the freedom that comes with acceptance and appreciation of the human dimensions of time and of the place of each passing moment on life's bounteous continuum For Robert Grudin living is an art and cultivating a creative partnership with time is one of the keys to mastering it In a series of wise witty and playful meditations he suggests that happiness lies not in the effort to conquer time but rather in learning to bend to its curve in hearing its music and learning to dance to it Grudin offers practical advice and mental exercises designed to help the reader use time more effectively but this is no ordinary self help book It is instead a kind of wisdom literature a guide to life a feast for the mind and for the spirit

Living Well Now and in the Future Randall Curren, Ellen Metzger, 2018-02-02 A philosopher and a scientist propose that sustainability can be understood as living well together without diminishing opportunity to live well in the future Most people acknowledge the profound importance of sustainability but few can define it We are ethically bound to live sustainably for the sake of future generations but what does that mean In this book Randall Curren a philosopher and Ellen Metzger a scientist clarify normative aspects of sustainability Combining their perspectives they propose that sustainability can be understood as the art of living well together without diminishing opportunity to live well in the future Curren and Metzger lay out the nature and value of sustainability survey the problems catalog the obstacles and identify the kind of efforts needed to overcome them They formulate an ethic of sustainability with lessons for government organizations and individuals and illustrate key ideas with three case studies Curren and Metzger put intergenerational justice at the heart of sustainability discuss the need for fair as opposed to coercive terms of cooperation to create norms institutions and practices conducive to sustainability formulate a framework for a fundamental ethic of sustainability derived from core components of common morality and emphasize the importance of sustainability education The three illustrative case studies focus on the management of energy water and food systems examining the 2010 Gulf of Mexico oil spill Australia's National Water Management System and patterns of food production in the Mekong region of Southeast Asia
