Red Guard Factionalism And The Cultural Revolution In Guangzhou (canton) Stanley Rosen,2019-06-04 When the Chinese Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution GPCR of the middle and late 1960s burst forth the initial response both in China and the West seemed primarily to be one of mystification The spectacle of severe splits among leaders long thought to be compatible of armed struggles between factional units whose uniform pledges to Chairman Mao and the Party Center appeared to make their similarities greater than their differences and of destructive Red Guards who were bent on tearing down the old world to build a new one was at first difficult to explain

Towne,2014-12-15 Surveillance and Spies in the Civil War represents pathbreaking research on the rise of U S Army intelligence operations in the Midwest during the American Civil War and counters long standing assumptions about Northern politics and society At the beginning of the rebellion state governors in Ohio Indiana and Illinois cooperated with federal law enforcement officials in various attempts all failed to investigate reports of secret groups and individuals who opposed the Union war effort Starting in 1862 army commanders took it upon themselves to initiate investigations of antiwar sentiment in those states By 1863 several of them had established intelligence operations staffed by hired civilian detectives and by soldiers detailed from their units to chase down deserters and draft dodgers to maintain surveillance on suspected persons and groups and to investigate organized resistance to the draft By 1864 these spies had infiltrated secret organizations that sometimes in collaboration with Confederate rebels aimed to subvert the war effort Stephen E Towne is the first to thoroughly explore the role and impact of Union spies against Confederate plots in the North This new analysis invites historians to delve more deeply into the fabric of the Northern wartime experience and reinterpret the period based on broader archival evidence
