Rebuilding Cambodia Human Resources Human Rights And Law Three Essays:

Governance and Democracy in the Asia-Pacific Stephen McCarthy, Mark R. Thompson, 2020-03-17 This book explores the theoretical and empirical relationship between democracy and governance in the Asia Pacific region Examining a variety of country cases and themes addressing the theoretical tension between governance and democracy it illuminates how this impacts political and civil societies across the region Analysing the character structure and current trajectories of polities in the Asia Pacific democratic or otherwise this book demonstrates that the role of civil society political society and governance has significantly differed in practice from what has been commonly assumed within the international community The book includes both theoretical investigations tracing the modern development of the concepts of governance development and democratization as well as regional and country specific observations of major issues presenting comprehensive country level studies of China Singapore Thailand Cambodia the Philippines Myanmar Fiji and the Solomon Islands Presenting fascinating insight into non democratic governance civil society and the rule of law in illiberal contexts Governance and Democracy in the Asia Pacific will prove to be of great use to students and scholars of Asian politics and society as well as international and comparative politics

Rebuilding Cambodia Dolores A. Donovan, 1993 Unhcr and Voluntary Repatriation of Refugees Marjoleine Zieck, 2023-07-03 Voluntary repatriation of refugees is generally considered to be the preferred solution to what is referred to as the problem of refugees This study attempts to analyze the legal meaning of voluntary repatriation its place within the framework of universal refugee law and whether or not it deserves to be called an ideal solution The focus of the text is on UNHCR the agency which is mandated to assist in the voluntary repatriation of refugees as the constant and recurrent actor in the practice of organized large scale repatriations A brief historical analysis is followed by four real life case studies of the voluntary repatriation of Cambodian refugees in 1980 and again in 1992 and 1993 of Iraqi Kurdish refugees in 1991 and of Mozambican refugees from Malawi in 1993 1995

Clay Goodloe Wescott,2001 No Entry Without Strategy Carolyn Gardner Bull,2008 For international actors seeking to consolidate peace and democracy in disrupted states the importance of establishing the rule of law is now well recognized UN peace operations have struggled to ensure lasting security against violence and to build legitimate structures to redress disputes peacefully UN actors have confronted a fundamental dilemma if embedding the rule of law rests on complex political and social transformations regarding conflict power and the state can external actors make a difference The book investigates the challenges faced by UN transitional administrations in establishing the rule of law in Cambodia Kosovo and East Timor In so doing it explores conceptual understandings of the UN s state building agenda and speaks to broader questions about the role of external actors in disrupted states Publisher s description Accountability for Human Rights Atrocities in International Law Steven R. Ratner,Jason S. Abrams,2001 The fall of dictatorial regimes and the eruption of civil conflicts around the world have resulted in individuals being held accountable for human rights atrocities This text details the promise and limitations of international law as a means of enforcing human rights and humanitarian law UNTAC in Cambodia Caroline Hughes,1996 The UN organized national elections were heralded as Cambodia s first step on the road to liberal democracy Since the Royal Government produced by those elections took power however much of the triumphalism surrounding the United Nations intervention in Cambodia particularly in terms of UNTAC s human rights mandate has proved to have been premature as abuses continue and political opponents of the government are silenced This study critiques UNTAC s mission in Cambodia from a human rights perspective It evaluates UNTAC s response to the tensions between continuity and change inherent in the peacekeeping mandate and considers the impact of the choices made during the transition on the long term future of human rights in Cambodia Cambodia Toshiyasu Kato,2000 This study prepared by the Cambodia Development Resource Institute under the overall supervision of ADB shows that the Government of Cambodia s reform programs if implemented on a full scale would likewise have a major positive impact on Cambodia s economy in the coming two decades Bibliography of Southeast Asia Kim See Ch'ng,2003 TheBibliography of Southeast Asia A Decade of Selected Social Science Publications in the English Language 1990 2000 comprises 6 521 entries of published works The selection broadly represents the documentation of the political economic and social and cultural processes of one of the most interesting eras of the previous millennium The Journal of East Asian Affairs ,1994 Indochina Chronology ,1995 AccessAsia ,1996 When Every Household is an Island Jan Ovesen,Ing-Britt Trankell,Joakim Öjendal,1996 International Law and Post-Conflict Reconstruction Policy Matthew Saul,James A. Sweeney,2015-05-15 The trend for international engagement in post conflict reconstruction has produced a host of best practice postulates on topics such as local involvement in decision making accountability for past atrocities sensitivity to context and the construction of democratic institutions of governance International law has potential relevance for many of these themes yet the question of how the implementation of best practice policy recommendations might be affected by international law remains under examined This book offers a fuller understanding of the role of international law in the practice of post conflict reconstruction It explores how international legal issues that arise in the post conflict period relate to a number of strands of the policy debate including government creation constitution making gender policy provision of security justice for past atrocities rule of law development economic recovery returning displaced persons and responsibilities of international actors The chapters of the book work to reveal the extent to which international law figures in the policy of internationally enabled post conflict reconstruction across a range of sectors They also highlight the scope for international law to be harnessed in a more effective manner from the perspective of the transition to peace and stability The book lays out a basis for future policy making on post conflict reconstruction one that is informed about the international legal parameters and more aware of how international law can be utilized to promote key objectives Foreign Operations, Export Financing, and Related Programs Appropriations for 1996 United States.
