Recasting Autobiography Womens Counterfictions In Contemporary German Literature And Film Reading Women Writing:

Recasting Autobiography Barbara Kosta, 1994 For all four Kosta demonstrates autobiography is at once a process of remembering and working through national and personal trauma a task of mourning and healing and an act of self invention

Recasting Autobiography Barbara Kosta, 1994 In one of the first books to address the New German Cinema from a feminist perspective Barbara Kosta looks closely at two autobiographical films Helma Sanders Brahm's Germany Pale Mother and Jutta Brückner's Years of Hunger and at two books Ruth Rehmann's Man in the Pulpit Questions for a Father and Christa Wolf's Patterns of Childhood In different ways Kosta shows these works of the 1970s and 1980s have recast traditional autobiography offering fresh characters in new roles exploring innovative forms of expression and confronting long repressed themes such as the devaluation of the female voice and the horror of Germany's fascist past Film - An

Confessions of the Critics H. Aram Veaser, 2014-05-01 The Confessions of the Critics shatters a certain silence Autobiographical criticism has until now skated relatively free from the challenges that usually assail a new literary critical method It has had this immunity from critique largely because feminists and third world liberation fighters such as Alice Walker Adrienne Rich and Jane Gallop ushered it to the North American academic stage Other women and men including Rigoberta Menchú Nawal al Sadawi Mahasweta Devi and Malcolm X wrote in the tradition and genre of testimonio These and other unimpeachably militant backgrounds gave confessional criticism a certain cache among the largely liberal community of literary scholars We have hesitated to express misgivings about a form that seemed intrinsically tied to the most vital powerful strivings Telling stories about one's own past is probably our culture's richest way of characterizing the effects of social injustice and developing what it takes to resist various kinds of victimage writes contributor Charles Altieri Confessions of the Critics provides a revealing look into the thoughts and experiences of some of the most influential and important critics of the 20th century The writers included avoid pretention and gross self misrepresentation giving way to raw sometimes embarrassing always wholly believable emotion Describing cumulative literary shocks and episodes of self recognition contributors offer insights to their ruling passions and works Powerful sensations emotions recognitions and revelations make up the heart of Confessions of the Critics It is a book that none will put aside or easily forget Contributors Charles Altieri William Andrews Michael F Berube Timothy Brennan Gillian Brown Cathy Davidson Elizabeth Fox Genovese Diane Freedman Marjorie Garber Gerald Graff Stephen J Greenblatt Michael Hill Marianne Hirsch Alice Yeager Kaplan Amitava Kumar Candace Lang Louis Menand Judith Lowder Newton Linda Orr Vincent Pecora David Simpson Gayatri

Chakravorty Spivak Madelon Sprengnether Jane Tompkins Marianna Torgovnick H Aram Veesser Jeffrey Williams Elizabeth Young Bruehl Sites Under Construction Lisa Marie Jennings, 2004 International Bibliography of Book Reviews of Scholarly Literature Chiefly in the Fields of Arts and Humanities and the Social Sciences, 1996 Postcolonial Representations Françoise Lionnet, 2018-07-05 Passionate allegiances to competing theoretical camps have stifled dialogue among today's literary critics asserts Françoise Lionnet. Discussing a number of postcolonial narratives by women from a variety of ethnic and cultural backgrounds she offers a comparative feminist approach that can provide common ground for debates on such issues as multiculturalism universalism and relativism. Lionnet uses the concept of métissage or cultural mixing in her readings of a rich array of Francophone and Anglophone texts by Michelle Cliff from Jamaica Suzanne Dracius Pinalie from Martinique Ananda Devi from Mauritius Maryse Condé and Myriam Warner Vieyra from Guadeloupe Gayl Jones from the United States Bessie Head from Botswana Nawal El Saadawi from Egypt and Leila Sebbar from Algeria and France. Focusing on themes of exile and displacement and on narrative treatments of culturally sanctioned excision polygamy and murder Lionnet examines the psychological and social mechanisms that allow individuals to negotiate conflicting cultural influences. In her view these writers reject the opposition between self and other and base their self-portrayals on a métissage of forms and influences. Lionnet's perspective has much to offer critics and theorists whether they are interested in First or Third World contexts. American or French critical perspectives essentialist or poststructuralist epistemologies Re-reading and Re-writing Multiculturalism Heike Hofmann Henderson, 1997 Feminist Conversations Christina Zwarg, 1995 In a new account of the relationship between Margaret Fuller and Ralph Waldo Emerson Christina Zwarg recreates a feminist conversation that has gone unheard. In Zwarg's view the intimate yet restrained letters between the two writers are most significant in confronting the challenges posed by gender and desire. Focusing on their exploration of Charles Fourier's utopianism and particularly his concept of passionate attraction Zwarg offers the only detailed reading of Emerson's letters to Fuller. Kassandra and the Censors Karen Van Dyck, 2018-05-31 In this pioneering study of contemporary Greek poetry Karen Van Dyck investigates modernist and postmodernist poetics at the edge of Europe. She traces the influential role of Greek women writers back to the sexual politics of censorship under the dictatorship 1967-1974. Reading the effects of censorship in cartoons the dictator's speeches the poetry of the Nobel Laureate George Seferis and the younger generation of poets she shows how women poets use strategies which although initiated in response to the regime's press law prove useful in articulating a feminist critique. In poetry collections by Rhea Galanaki Jenny Mastoraki and Maria Laina among others she analyzes how the censors' tactics for stabilizing signification are redeployed to disrupt fixed meanings and gender roles. As much a literary analysis of culture as a cultural analysis of literature her book explores how censorship consumerism and feminism influence contemporary Greek women's poetry as well as how the resistance to clarity in this poetry trains readers to rethink these cultural practices. Only with greater attention to the cultural and formal specificity of writing Van

Dyck argues is it possible to theorize the lessons of censorship and women's writing Nobody's Angels Elizabeth Langland, 1995 Langland argues that the middle class wife had a more complex and important function than has previously been recognized she mastered skills that enabled her to support a rigid class system while unknowingly setting the stage for a feminist revolution Women, Autobiography, Theory Sidonie Smith, Julia Watson, 1998 The first comprehensive guide to the burgeoning field of women's autobiography Essays from 39 prominent critics and writers explore narratives across the centuries and from around the globe A list of more than 200 women's autobiographies and a comprehensive bibliography provide invaluable information for scholars teachers and readers Reading Autobiography Sidonie Smith, 2001 Writing Double Bette London, 2002-01-01 Although Roland Barthes and Michel Foucault announced the death of the author several decades ago critics have been slow to abandon the idea of the solitary writer Bette London maintains that this notion has blinded us to the reality that writing is seldom an individual activity and that it has led us to overlook both the frequency with which women authors have worked together and the significance of their collaborative undertakings as a form of professional activity In Writing Double the first full length treatment of women's literary partnerships she goes to the heart of issues surrounding authorial identity What is an author Which forms of authorship are sanctioned and which forms marginalized Which of these forms have particularly attracted women Such questions are central to London's analysis of the challenge that women's literary collaboration presents to accepted notions of authorship Focusing on British texts from the nineteenth and twentieth centuries she considers a fascinating variety of works by largely noncanonical and in some instances highly unconventional authors from the enormously popular novels composed by writing teams at the turn of the century to the Brontë juvenilia and the occult scripts of Georgie Yeats and W B Yeats to automatic writings produced by mediums purporting to be in communication with the spirit world New Literature on Women, 1995 German Life Writing in the Twentieth Century Birgit Dahlke, Dennis Tate, Roger Woods, 2010 Life writing an increasingly accepted category among scholars of literature and other disciplines encompasses not just autobiography and biography but also memoirs diaries letters interviews and even non written texts such as film Whether these were produced in diary or letter form as events unfolded or long after the event in the form of autobiographical prose common to all are attempts by individuals to make sense of their experiences In many such texts the authors reassess their lives against the background of a broader public debate about the past This book of essays examines German life writing after major turning points in twentieth century German history the First World War the Nazi era the postwar division of Germany and the collapse of socialism and German unification The volume is distinctive because it combines an overview of academic approaches to the study of life writing with a set of German language case studies In this respect it goes further than existing studies which often present life writing material without indicating how it might fit into our broader understanding of a particular culture or historical period

cultural and historical context by demonstrating how she applies elements from traditional German and Austrian fairy tales to come to terms with events of the Third Reich and her reactions to the Holocaust The Radical Subject Andrew Plowman, 1998 This study offers an examination of key autobiographical texts arising from the student movement and the New Women's Movement in the Federal Republic of Germany during the 1960s and 1970s Existing critical debates about the New Subjectivity of the 1970s it argues fail to do justice to the issue of autobiographical writing in German literature after 1968 By contrast this book makes the case for an interdisciplinary approach to Bernward Vesper's Die Reise Rolf Dieter Brinkmann's Erkundungen zur Präzisierung des Gefühls Karin Struck's Klassenliebe Inga Buhmann's Ich habe mir eine Geschichte geschrieben and Verena Stefan's Hutungen which is able to illuminate these texts both as historical documents and as contributions to the genre of autobiography The textual analyses at the heart of the study explore the often complex yet always fascinating relationship between autobiographical practices and the politics of the student and the feminist movements in the Federal Republic Dwelling in Possibility Yopie Prins, Maëra Shreiber, 2018-10-18 Dwelling in Possibility cuts across conventional boundaries between critical and creative writing by featuring the work of both women poets and feminist critics as they explore and exemplify the relationship between gender and poetic genres The contributors suggest new ways of thinking and writing about poetry in light of contemporary questions about history and identity Most of the contributions are published here for the first time Penelope Voyages Karen R. Lawrence, 2018-08-06 Looking at travel writing by British women from the seventeenth century on Karen R. Lawrence asks an intriguing question What happens when instead of waiting patiently for Odysseus Penelope voyages and records her journey when the woman who is expected to wait sets forth herself and traces an itinerary of her own Lawrence ranges widely discussing both fiction and nonfiction and traversing the genres of travel letters realistic and sentimental novels ethnography fantasy and postmodern narrative In examining works as dissimilar as Margaret Cavendish's rendition of the Renaissance adventure narrative and Christine Brooke-Rose's postmodernist Between she explores not only the significance of gender for travel writing but also the value of travel itself for testing the limits of women's social freedoms and restraints Lawrence shows how writings by Frances Burney Mary Wollstonecraft Sarah Lee Mary Kingsley Virginia Woolf and Brigid Brophy reconceive the meanings of femininity in relation to such apparent oppositions as travel home other self and foreign domestic Despite the differences historical generic political among these writers Lawrence maintains they share common insights Their accounts overturn the dichotomy between adventure and domesticity demonstrating something illusory within both the stability of home and the freedom of travel
