European Contract Law Hein Kötz, 2017 This edition includes many updates and revisions to the first edition especially in light of the changes to the French Code Civil Furthermore the book comprises a wealth of translated extracts of legislation cases and academic literature This text comprehensively covers all aspects of contract law in several European jurisdictions Legislators, Judges, and Professors Jürgen Basedow, Holger Fleischer, Reinhard Zimmermann, 2016 As lawyers we are normally interested in various substantive areas of law and as comparative lawyers we are interested in finding out about the differences and similarities between national legal systems But from time to time we should also reflect on how we think and operate and look at basic questions of legal methodology both for the sake of understanding better what we do as lawyers immersed in our own legal systems and as lawyers attempting to assess and comprehend how foreign legal systems work The nine essays in this volume are devoted to the topics of law making today with a focus on Japan Turkey and Russia judicial decision making today with a focus on England and Wales Switzerland and Argentina and legal scholarship today with a focus on the United States France and South Africa and they thus revolve around the three protagonists of legal development legislators judges and professors With contributions by Aditi Bagchi Basak Baysal Jean Sebastien Borghetti Thomas Coendet Matthew Dyson Yuko Nishitani Agustin Parise Helen Scott Andrey M Shirvindt Art and Sovereignty in Global Politics Douglas Howland, Elizabeth Lillehoj, Maximilian Mayer, 2016-12-01 This volume aims to question challenge supplement and revise current understandings of the relationship between aesthetic and political operations The authors transcend disciplinary boundaries and nurture a wide ranging sensibility about art and sovereignty two highly complex and interwoven dimensions of human experience that have rarely been explored by scholars in one conceptual space Several chapters consider the intertwining of modern philosophical currents and modernist artistic forms in particular those revealing formal abstraction stylistic experimentation self conscious expression and resistance to traditional definitions of Art Other chapters deal with currents that emerged as facets of art became increasingly commercialized merging with industrial design and popular entertainment industries Some contributors address Post Modernist art and theory highlighting power relations and providing sceptical critical commentary on repercussions of colonialism and notions of universal truths rooted in Western ideals By interfering with established dichotomies and unsettling stable debates related to art and sovereignty all contributors frame new perspectives on the co constitution of artworks and practices of sovereignty The Structure of Intellectual Property Law Annette Kur, Vytautas Mizaras, 2011-01-01 In 2009 the Association for the Advancement of Teaching and Research in Intellectual Property ATRIP dedicated its yearly congress to the theme Horizontal Issues in IP Law Uncovering the Matrix That theme and the main concern of the so called Intellectual Property of Transition Project have been brought together by the editors of the current book under the intriguing title The Structure of Intellectual Property Law Questioned is whether the apparent compartmentalisation and fragmentation of actual intellectual property law can be based upon a coherent system that supports the entire field In other words it is questioned whether one organising principle which underlies the different parts of this domain of law can be found Not surprisingly the answers given by the various experts that contribute to this book tend to differ mainly depending on their field of interest copyright law patent law trademark law the main tendency being in favour of tailoring instead of unifying both from the perspective of efficiency and that of economics However even more interesting than the answers to the question posed are the stimulating and thought provoking analyses which the book offers This is really a book one should read if one is interested in the conjunction of the basic principles of intellectual property law and how they work out in practice Willem Grosheide Utrecht University The Netherlands Today intellectual property is a broad genus embracing various more specific species invention patents copyright trade marks and so forth Anyone concerned with how this ever expanding grouping is developing should read the fourteen essays in this book Written by leading scholars they tackle not only the relationships between the species but also those between sub species Originally presented as papers to the Association for Teaching and Research in IP the writing is both subtle and full of verve Strongly recommended William Cornish Cambridge University UK This well researched and highly topical book analyses whether the ever increasing degree of sophistication in intellectual property law necessarily leads to fragmentation and inconsistency or whether the common principles informing the system are sustainable enough to offer a solid and resilient framework for legal development Modals in the Languages of Europe Bj Rn Hansen, Ferdinand de Haan, 2009-12-15 This book is a collection of papers on modals in the languages of Europe written by experts in the area of modality It provides readers with a wealth of data and addresses the issues of under which circumstances modals are borrowed from which linguistic materials they typically arise in these languages and whether and how modals form a system which is separate from other word classes

Competition Policy and the Economic Approach Josef Drexler, Wolfgang Kerber, Rupprecht Podszun, 2011-01-01 This outstanding collection of original essays brings together some of the leading experts in competition economics policy and law They examine what lies at the core of the economic approach to competition law and deal with its normative and institutional limitations In recent years the more economic approach has led to a modernisation of competition law throughout the world This book comprehensively examines for the first time the foundations and limitations of the approach and will be of great interest to scholars of competition policy no matter what discipline Competition Policy and the Economic Approach will appeal to academics in competition economics and law policy makers and practitioners in the field of antitrust competition law as well as postgraduate students in competition law and economics Those interested in the interplay of law and economics in the field of competition will also find this book invaluable Intellectual Property in Asia Paul Goldstein, Joseph Straus, 2009-01-07 Introduction Intellectual property rights foster innovation But if as it surely does intellectual property means not just intellectual property rules the law of patents copyrights trademarks designs trade secrets and unfair competition but also intellectual property institutions the courts police regulatory agencies and collecting societies that administer these rules what are the respective roles of intellectual property rules and institutions in fostering creativity And to what extent do forces outside intellectual property rules and institutions economics culture politics history also contribute to innovation Is it possible that these other factors so overwhelm the impact of intellectual property regimes that it is futile to expect adjustments in intellectual property rules and institutions to alter patterns of innovation and ultimately economic development. It was to address these questions in the most dynamic region of the world today Asia that we invited leading country experts to contribute studies that not only summarize the current condition of intellectual property regimes in countries ranging in economic size from Cambodia to Japan and in population from Laos to China but that also describe the historical sources of these laws and institutions, the realities of intellectual property enforcement in the marketplace and the political, economic, educational and scientific infrastructures that sustain and direct investment in innovative activity. A The Growth Spiral Hans Christoph Binswanger, 2012-12-14. This book develops a new theory of the modern economy. Conventional economic theory is still based on an essentially static notion of equilibrium. In contrast, this book offers an analysis of the economic process based on a truly dynamic approach. It understands modern economic activity as manifesting itself in a growth spiral. There are two main drivers of the dynamics of this spiral: steady money creation in the banking system on the one hand and the continuous inflow of energy and raw materials through the exploitation of natural resources on the other. Both driving forces are generally neglected by the conventional theory. Understanding their role is absolutely essential for preventing our economy from being more and more exposed to financial and ecological crises. This book offers important insights about the functioning of the modern economy and addresses the specialist as well as the interested lay reader.

Constitutionalism, Multilevel Trade Governance and Social Regulation Christian Joerges, Ernst-Ulrich Petersmann, 2006-10-19. This is a book about the ever more complex legal networks of transnational economic governance structures and their legitimacy problems. It takes up the challenge of the editors' earlier pioneering works which have called for more cross sectoral and interdisciplinary analyses by scholars of international law, European and international economic law, private international law, international relations theory and social philosophy to examine the interdependences of multilevel governance in transnational economic, social, environmental and legal relations. Two complementary strands of theorising are expounded. One argues that globalisation and the universal recognition of human rights are transforming the intergovernmental society of states into a cosmopolitan community of citizens which requires more effective constitutional safeguards for protecting human rights and consumer welfare in the national and international governance and legal regulation of international trade. The second emphasises the dependence of the functioning of international markets and liberal trade on governance arrangements which respond credibly to safety and environmental concerns of consumers, traders, political and non governmental actors. Enquiries into the generation of international standards and empirical analyses of legalization and judicialisation practices form part of this agenda. The perspectives and conclusions of the more than 20 contributors from Europe and North America cannot be uniform. But they converge in their search for a constitutional architecture which limits, empowers and legitimises multilevel trade governance as well as in their common premise that respect for human rights, private and democratic self government and social justice require more transparent participatory and deliberative forms of transnational cosmopolitan democracy Social Costs of Business Enterprise Karl William Kapp,1963 Estimated Energy R & D Funding by Provincial Governments in 1976-7, 1977-8 and 1978-9 Canada. Office of Energy Research and Development,Canada. Energy, Mines and Resources Canada,1979 Law and Administration in Europe Paul Craig,Richard Rawlings,2003 Alles und noch viel mehr Jean Hubert Martin,Hans Christoph von Tavel,1985
