Uttley,2014-05-22 This study explains how Westland dominated British helicopter production and why government funding and support failed to generate competitive all British alternatives In doing so the book evaluates broader historiographic assumptions about the purported failure of british aircraft procurement during the early post war period and considers the scope and limitations of licensed production as a government mandated procurement strategy      Skua! Peter C. Smith,2007-03-28 The Blackburn Skua was the first monoplane to be designed and built for the Royal Navy in the 1930s As a result of continued debate it became a compromise between the Navys desire for a carrier based dive bomber and RAFs preference for a fighter Despite being the first to shoot down a Luftwaffe aircraft in World War II early operations in Norway found the type woefully inadequate as a fighter As a dive bomber the Royal Navy put the design to good use from the outset of WWII It was involved with the hunt for the Graff Spee sunk the major warship Koln suffered with great loss in an attack on the Scharnhorst helped to keep the German advance at bay during the Dunkirk evacuation and attacked the French rogue battleship Richelieu in the Mediterranean This book relates how the final design was created how the dive bombing technique was developed and perfected by naval pilots and traces the wartime operational career of the type with many first hand accounts      Air Pictorial ,1971      A History of the Mediterranean Air War, 1940-1945. Torpedo Bombers Peter C. Smith, 2008-03-27 This is a highly illustrated history one of the most deadly types of attack aircraft The torpedo bomber first appeared during the later years of World War One but served their most useful role in the Second World War The most famous attacks include Taranto where Fairey Swordfish destroyed the Italian Battle fleet and the infamous surprise attack on Pearl Harbor by the Japanese In both these cases the attacks were against ships laying in harbor and therefore stationary Heavy defensive anti aircraft fire was the greatest danger to the torpedo bombers in those circumstances but ships under way in the open sea had far more room to take evasive action The lengthy time it took a torpedo to reach its target allowed many ships to escape destruction However notable exceptions were the sinking HMS Prince of Wales and HMS Repulse by the Japanese during the early stages of the war in the Far East During the hunt for the Bismar it was an air launched torpedo from a Swordfish that severely damaged the ship's steering gear and enabled the Royal Navy to close in for the final kill Some of the types included are the Fairey Swordfish Bristol Beaufort Fairey Albacore Bristol Beaufighter Heinkel He 115 Marchetti SM 79 Fokker T VIII Grumman Avenger and the Nakajima B5N

The Attack on Taranto Thomas P. Lowry, John Wellham, 2017-09-15 On November 11 1940 21

slow canvas covered British warplanes launched from the carrier Illustrious attacked the harbor at the Italian port of Taranto and put most of the Italian navy out of commission This all but forgotten operation the authors argue deserves historical recognition as an inspirational precedent for the Japanese raid on Pearl Harbor 13 months later Taranto demonstrated that battleships in a shallow heavily defended harbor could be sunk by a handful of torpedo bombers That lesson Adm Isoroku Yamamoto commander in chief of the Japanese fleet learned well while the American military virtually ignored it By this single stroke the balance of naval power in the Mediterranean was decisively altered Winston S Churchill     First World

Mediterranean Air War, 1940-1945 Christopher Shores,Giovanni Massimello,Russell Guest,2012-06-19 This first volume in the seminal series on World War II aerial combat pilots and tactics that reads like an encyclopedia on the subject Portland Book Review In the early days of World War II both Allied and Axis powers extended the theater of war to North Africa where hard fought battles were conducted in the harsh desert But before anyone could claim victory on the ground they had to hold dominion in the air Here historian Christopher Shores has combined his books Fighters over the Desert and Fighters over Tunisia into one volume as well as adding updated information about the deadly fighter aircraft reconnaissance aircraft and maritime units active in the Mediterranean Full of in depth research and featuring essential maps this is an intimate introspection by these men of their experiences and the respect that they shared not only for each other but also their adversaries The Military Reviewer     Aeronautics Jean M. Kolbeck,United States. Air Force. Pacific Air Forces,1966

Catapult Aircraft Leo Marriott,2006-09-21 A concise history of this specialty aircraft used during World Wars I and II During World War I the navies of the opposing forces discovered the value of aerial reconnaissance and many experiments were made to allow larger warships to carry one or sometimes two aircraft aboard In the early days these were float planes that were lowered by crane into the sea and then lifted back aboard upon their return This was a lengthy affair and when a speedy departure was necessary time was of the essence A new system was devised so that a powerful catapult system and a short ramp could with the added speed of the ship get an aircraft airborne in a fraction of the time previously required Thus was born a highly specialised type of aircraft This book includes all the major designs that went to war in the First and Second World Wars and includes aircraft used by all the combatants It looks at how the aircraft evolved and how the warships were modified to accommodate the aircraft and the catapult system The use of these fixed wing aircraft was abandoned when the invention of the helicopter was made in the early post WWII years      Index of Model Periodicals, 1971 Through 1975 Paul Cardwell, 1977      Naval Aviation in the First World War R. D. Layman, 1996 All aspects of naval aviation in World War I are detailed in this superbly researched book      RAF Coastal Command Keith Wilson, 2020-11-15 RAF Coastal Command was founded as a formation within the Royal Air Force in 1936 at a time when the RAF was restricted into Fighter Bomber and Coastal Commands
