The Smithsonian's History of America in 101 Objects Richard Kurin, 2016-10-25 The Smithsonian Institution is America's largest most important and most beloved repository for the objects that define our common heritage Now Under Secretary for Art History and Culture Richard Kurin aided by a team of top Smithsonian curators and scholars has assembled a literary exhibition of 101 objects from across the Smithsonian's museums that together offer a marvelous new perspective on the history of the United States. Ranging from the earliest years of the pre-Columbian continent to the digital age and from the American Revolution to Vietnam, each entry pairs the fascinating history surrounding each object with the story of its creation or discovery and the place it has come to occupy in our national memory. Kurin sheds remarkable new light on objects we think we know well, from Lincoln's hat to Dorothy's ruby slippers and Julia Child's kitchen, including the often astonishing tales of how each made its way into the collections of the Smithsonian. Other objects will be eye-opening new discoveries for many but no less evocative of the most poignant and important moments of the American experience. Some objects, such as Harriet Tubman's hymnal, Sitting Bull's ledger, Cesar Chavez's union jacket, and the Enola Gay bomber, tell difficult stories from the nation's history and inspire controversies when exhibited at the Smithsonian. Others, from George Washington's sword to the space shuttle Discovery, celebrate the richness and vitality of the American spirit. In Kurin's hands, each object comes to vivid life, providing a tactile connection to American history. Beautifully designed and illustrated with color photographs throughout, The Smithsonian's History of America in 101 Objects is a rich and fascinating journey through America's collective memory and a beautiful object in its own right.

Awesome Adventures at the Smithsonian Emily B. Korrell, 2013-03-12 From Dorothy's red slippers to dinosaurs to the Wright brothers' plane, the Smithsonian is filled with objects fascinating to kids. Yet choosing what to see at the Smithsonian can challenge even the most enthusiastic families. Engaging maps, photographs, and illustrations present the main museum halls, along with puzzles, games, mad libs, and pages for journal entries, drawings, and superlatives that will help get kids ready for their big trip to the nation's capital and keep them focused and attentive as they navigate the world's largest museum complex that is the Smithsonian Institution. Awesome Adventures at the Smithsonian spiral-bound is the perfect way to engage any child on their big trip to Washington, DC, and the Smithsonian.

Smithsonian Ocean Deborah Cramer, 2008-10-07 Nobel Prize winner Al Gore wrote of Deborah Cramer's previous book Great Waters, "I urge everyone to read this book to act on its message and to pass on its teachings." Now Cramer offers a groundbreaking book for an even more urgent time. Our lives depend on the sea. As gifted science writer Deborah Cramer makes clear in this extraordinary volume, the ocean has been earth's lifeline for more than three and a half billion years. Life began in the scalding inferno of deep-sea hot springs. The first cell, the first plant, and the first animal were all born in the sea. Climate changes wrought by the sea created evolutionary pathways for mammals and gave rise to our human ancestors some 200,000 years ago. The one interconnected sea still sustains us. Invisible plants in the ocean's sunlit surface give us air to breathe. Rushing currents supply water to the atmosphere's protective greenhouse and rain to dry land. But as Cramer reveals in this sweeping look at earth's biography, the vital partnership between earth and the life it nourishes has recently been disrupted. Today, a single terrestrial species man has begun to alter the health of the sea itself The mark of humans on the seas is now everywhere from the fertile waters of continental shelves to the icy reaches of the poles from the dazzling diversity of coral reefs to the porous edge of estuaries Even the open ocean bears clear traces of our harmful ways Scientists believe human impact may have already sparked a catastrophic event that could change the sea and the earth irrevocably the sixth mass planetary extinction on a scale unseen since the demise of the dinosaurs 65 million years ago But unlike the forces that caused previous extinctions humankind can make a choice We can choose the mark we wish to make and the legacy we leave behind Written in the passionate tradition of Rachel Carson Smithsonian Ocean is at once a book for our time and for the ages Carson wrote One way to open your eyes is to ask yourself What if I had never seen this before What if I knew I would never see it again Cramer's powerful and inspiring message is equally a wake up call We hold earth's life giving waters and our future in our hands Our lives depend on the sea

This Present Moment Mary Savig, Nora Atkinson, Anya Montiel, 2022-06-21 A highly illustrated important volume inspired by the way craft artists have united during the COVID pandemic and engaged in artistic conversations about race gender and inclusivity During the summer of 2020 the space outside the Renwick Gallery the Smithsonian American Art Museum's dedicated museum for contemporary craft and decorative arts became home to a new discussion about racial justice on Black Lives Matter Plaza The curators at the Renwick Gallery felt the need to align themselves with what was going on right outside the Gallery's door the organizing rationale for understanding the objects presented in this volume many of which are new acquisitions The title is taken from Alicia Eggert's 2019 2020 eponymous neon work and the 85 objects in the main plates section lead the reader from the idea of shelter through layers of expanding spaces to the vast expanses of the universe The volume looks at contemporary American craft in the whirlwind of now revealing possibilities for contemporary makers to respond to a more empathetic future
