Patricia Lee Rubin,2007-01-01 An exploration of ways of looking in Renaissance Florence where works of art were part of a complex process of social exchange Renaissance Florence of endless fascination for the beauty of its art and architecture is no less intriguing for its dynamic political economic and social life In this book Patricia Lee Rubin crosses the boundaries of all these areas to arrive at an original and comprehensive view of the place of images in Florentine society The author asks an array of questions Why were works of art made Who were the artists who made them and who commissioned them How did they look and how were they looked at She demonstrates that the answers to such questions illuminate the contexts in which works of art were created and how they were valued and viewed Rubin seeks out the meeting places of meaning in churches in palaces in piazzas places of exchange where identities were taken on and transformed often with the mediation of images She concentrates on questions of vision and visibility on seeing and being seen With a blend of exceptional illustrations close analyses of sacred and secular paintings by artists including Fra Angelico Fra Filippo Lippi Filippino Lippi and Botticelli and wide ranging bibliographic essays the book shines new light on fifteenth century Florence a special place that made beauty one of its defining features      Grammatology of Images Sigrid Weigel,2022-08-16 Grammatology of Images radically alters how we approach images Instead of asking for the history power or essence of images Sigrid Weigel addresses imaging as such The book considers how something a visible gets transformed into an image Weigel scrutinizes the moment of mise en apparence of making an appearance and the process of concealment that accompanies any imaging Weigel reinterprets Derrida's and Freud's concept of the trace as that which must be thought before something exists In doing so she illuminates the threshold between traces and iconic images between something immaterial and its pictorial representation Chapters alternate between general accounts of the line the index the effigy and the cult image and case studies from the history of science art politics and religion involving faces as indicators of emotion caricatures as effigies of defamation and angels as embodiments of transcendental ideas Weigel's approach to images illuminates fascinating unexpected correspondences between premodern and contemporary image practices between the history of religion and the modern sciences and between things that are and are not understood as art      The Moving Statues of Seventeenth-Century Amsterdam Angela Vanhaelen,2022-08-05 This book opens a window onto a fascinating and understudied aspect of the visual material intellectual and cultural history of seventeenth century Amsterdam the role played by its inns and taverns specifically the doolhoven Doolhoven were a type of labyrinth unique to early modern Amsterdam Offering guest lodgings these licensed public houses also housed remarkable displays of artwork in their gardens and galleries The main attractions were inventive displays of moving mechanical figures automata and a famed set of waxwork portraits of the rulers of

Protestant Europe Publicized as the most innovative artworks on display in Amsterdam the doolhoven exhibits presented the mercantile city as a global center of artistic and technological advancement This evocative tour through the doolhoven pub gardens where drinking entertainment and the acquisition of knowledge mingled in encounters with lively displays of animated artifacts shows that the exhibits had a forceful and transformative impact on visitors one that moved them toward Protestant reform Deeply researched and decidedly original The Moving Statues of Seventeenth Century Amsterdam uncovers a wealth of information about these nearly forgotten public pleasure parks situating them within popular culture religious controversies global trade relations and intellectual debates of the seventeenth century It will appeal in particular to scholars in art history and early modern studies

The Construction of Martyrdom in the English Catholic Community, 1535-1603

Anne Dillon,2017-03-02

Between 1535 and 1603 more than 200 English Catholics were executed by the State for treason Drawing on an extraordinary range of contemporary sources Anne Dillon examines the ways in which these executions were transformed into acts of martyrdom Utilizing the reports from the gallows the Catholic community in England and in exile created a wide range of manuscripts and texts in which they employed the concept of martyrdom for propaganda purposes in continental Europe and for shaping Catholic identity and encouraging recusancy at home Particularly potent was the derivation of images from these texts which provided visual means of conveying the symbol of the martyr Through an examination of the work of Richard Verstegan and the martyr murals of the English College in Rome the book explores the influence of these images on the Counter Reformation Church the Jesuits and the political intentions of English Catholics in exile and those of their hosts The Construction of Martyrdom in the English Catholic Community 1535 1603 shows how Verstegan used the English martyrs in his Theatrum crudelitatum of 1587 to rally support from Catholics on the Continent for a Spanish invasion of England to overthrow Elizabeth I and her government The English martyr was Anne Dillon argues as much a construction of international political rhetoric as it was of English religious and political debate an international Catholic banner around which Catholic European powers were urged to rally     Printing a Mediterranean World Sean Roberts,2013-02-26 In 1482 Francesco Berlinghieri produced the Geographia a book of over 100 folio leaves describing the world in Italian verse interleaved with lavishly engraved maps Roberts demonstrates that the Geographia represents the moment of transition between printing and manuscript culture while forming a critical base for the rise of modern cartography     Witchcraft in Europe, 400-1700 Alan Charles Kors,Edward Peters,2001 A thoroughly revised greatly expanded edition of the most important documentary history of European witchcraft ever published     Cultural Shifts and Ritual Transformations in Reformation Europe Victoria Christman,Marjorie Elizabeth Plummer,2020-08-10 This volume honors the work of a scholar who has been active in the field of early modern history for over four decades In that time Susan Karant Nunn s work challenged established orthodoxies pushed the envelope of historical genres and opened up new avenues of research and understanding which came to define the contours of the field itself Like this rich career the chapters in this volume cover a broad range of historical genres from social cultural and art history to the history of gender masculinity and emotion and range geographically from the Holy Roman Empire France and the Netherlands to Geneva and Austria Based on a vast array of archival and secondary sources the contributions open up new horizons of research and commentary on all aspects of early modern life Contributors James Blakeley Robert J Christman Victoria Christman Amy Nelson Burnett Pia Cuneo Ute Lotz Heumann Amy Newhouse Marjorie Elizabeth Plummer Helmut Puff Lyndal Roper Karen E Spierling James D Tracy Mara R Wade David Whitford and Charles Zika     Representing Justice Judith Resnik,Dennis Edward Curtis,2011-01-01 A remnant of the Renaissance the transnational iconography of justice Civic space the public square and good governance Obedience the judge as the loyal servant of the state Of eyes and ostriches Why eyes color blindness and impartiality Representations and abstractions identity politics and rights From seventeenth century town halls to twentieth century courts A building and litigation boom in Twentieth Century federal courts Late Twentieth Century United States courts monumentality security and eclectic imagery Monuments to the present and museums of the past national courts and prisons Constructing regional rights Multi jurisdictional premises from peace to crimes From rites to rights Courts in and out of sight site and cite An iconography for democratic adjudication     Michelangelo and the English Martyrs Anne Dillon,2016-12-05 In May 1555 a broadsheet was produced in Rome depicting the torture and execution in London and York of the Carthusians of the Charterhouses of London Axeholme Beauvale and Sheen during the reign of Henry VIII This single page martyrology provides the basis for an in depth exploration of several interconnected artistic scientific and scholarly communities active in Rome in 1555 which are identified as having being involved in its production Their work and concerns which reflect their time and intellectual environment are deeply embedded in the broadsheet especially those occupying the groups and individuals who came to be known as Spirituali and in particular those associated with Cardinal Reginald Pole who is shown to have played a key role in its production Following an examination of the text and a discussion of the narrative intentions of its producers a systematic analysis is made of the images This reveals that the structure content and intention of what at first sight seems to be nothing more than a confessionally charged Catholic image of the English Carthusian martyrs typical of the genre of propaganda produced during the Reformation is astonishingly dominated by the most celebrated name of the Italian Renaissance the artist Michelangelo Buonarroti Not only are there direct borrowings from two works by Michelangelo which had just been completed in Rome The Conversion of St Paul and The Crucifixion of St Peter in the Pauline Chapel but many other of his works are deliberately cited by the broadsheet s producers Through the use of a variety of artistic scientific and historical approaches the author makes a compelling case for the reasons for Michelangelo s presence in the broadsheet and his influence on its design and production The book not only demonstrates Michelangelo s close relationship with notable Catholic reformers but shows him to have been at the heart of the English Counter Reformation at its inception This detailed analysis of the broadsheet also throws fresh light on the Marian religious policy in England in 1555 the influence of Spain and the broader preoccupations of the Counter Reformation papacy while at the same time enriching our understanding of martyrology across the confessional divide of the Reformation

Print Culture, Crime and Justice in 18th-Century London Richard M. Ward, 2014-08-28 In the first half of the 18th century there was an explosion in the volume and variety of crime literature published in London This was a golden age of writing about crime when the older genres of criminal biographies social policy pamphlets and last dying speeches were joined by a raft of new publications including newspapers periodicals graphic prints the Old Bailey Proceedings and the Ordinary s Account of malefactors executed at Tyburn By the early 18th century propertied Londoners read a wider array of printed texts and images about criminal offenders highwaymen housebreakers murderers pickpockets and the like than ever before or since Print Culture Crime and Justice in 18th Century London provides the first detailed study of crime reporting across this range of publications to explore the influence of print upon contemporary perceptions of crime and upon the making of the law and its administration in the metropolis This historical perspective helps us to rethink the relationship between media the public sphere and criminal justice policy in the present
