of a journalist who can navigate a crime scene as well as she can a newsroom often noticing what others tend to miss Again and again she is called to cover the murders of Black women many of them sexually assaulted most brutalized and all of them quickly forgotten All until Masey James the story that Jordan just can't shake despite all efforts A 15 year old girl whose body was found in an abandoned lot Masey has come to represent for Jordan all of the frustration and anger that her job often forces her to repress Putting the rest of her work and her fraying personal life aside Jordan does everything she can to give the story the coverage it desperately requires and that a missing Black child would so rarely get There's a serial killer on the loose Jordan believes and he's hiding in plain sight

British Photographers Cecil Beaton, 1987 Spatial Cognition VII Christoph Hölscher, Thomas F. Shipley, Marta Olivetti Belardinelli, John A Bateman, Nora S. Newcombe, 2010-07-30 This is the seventh volume of a series of books on fundamental research in spatial cognition As with past volumes the research presented here spans a broad range of research traditions for spatial cognition concerns not just the basic spatial behavior of biological and artificial agents but also the reasoning processes that allow spatial planning across broad spatial and temporal scales Spatial information is critical for coordinated action and thus agents interacting with objects and moving among objects must be able to perceive spatial relations learn about these relations and act on them or store the information for later use either by themselves or communicated to others Research on this problem has included both psychology which works to understand how humans and other mobile organisms solve these problems and computer science which considers the nature of the information available in the world and a formal consideration of how these problems might be solved Research on human spatial cognition also involves the application of representations and processes that may have evolved to handle object and location information to reasoning about higher order problems such as displaying non spatial information in diagrams Thus work in spatial cognition extends beyond psychology and computer science into many disciplines including geography and education The Spatial Cognition conference offers one of the few forums for consideration of the issues spanning this broad academic range

The Murderer's Memories T.S. Nichols, 2019-06-04 A homicide detective like no other delves into the mind of a madman in this explosive page turning near future thriller from the author of The Memory Detective Cole Jones isn't afraid to die His whole career has been built on facing death in the most intimate of ways by taking on victims memories to solve their murders That's why the tabloids dubbed him the Memory Detective What Cole's really afraid of is that the job is going to drive him crazy With fourteen memory transfers under his belt Cole might finally be on the brink of madness After solving a grisly murder that took a huge toll on his psyche he promised himself he would become a normal cop Then a bomb goes off in New York and Cole is once again called on to use his unique skills in a way he's never been tested before With a dead suspect and mere days before the next threatened bombing Cole must use the memories of the murderer to piece together a devious plot Facing a literal ticking time bomb Cole must fight the memories battling in his head If he can't put himself in the mind of the killer in time more people will die But if he can something inside of him might
