Disavowing Disability Andrew McKendry,2021-08-26 Disavowing Disability examines the role that disability both as a concept and an experience played in seventeenth century debates about salvation and religious practice Exploring how the use and definition of the term disability functioned to allocate agency and culpability this study argues that the post Restoration imperative to capacitate all men not just the elect entailed a conceptual circumscription of disability one premised on a normative imputation of capability The work of Richard Baxter sometimes considered a harbinger of modernity and one of the most influential divines of the Long Eighteenth Century elucidates this multifarious process of enabling In constructing an ideology of ability that imposed moral self determination Baxter encountered a germinal form of the problem of disability in liberal theory While a strategy of inclusionism served to assimilate most manifestations of alterity melancholy presented an intractability that frustrated the logic of rehabilitation in fatal ways This title is also available as Open Access on Cambridge Core European Evangelicals in Egypt (1900-1956) Samir Boulos,2016-06-27 Missionary institutions were social spaces of closest encounters between Europeans and various segments of the Egyptian society during the period of British colonialism In European Evangelicals in Egypt 1900 1956 Samir Boulos develops a theory of cultural exchange that is based on the examination of interactions experiences and discourses in the context of missionary institutions Drawing upon oral history interviews as well as rich Egyptian British and German archival sources a multifaceted perspective is offered revealing the complexity and dynamics of mission encounters Focusing on the everyday life in missionary institutions experiences of former Egyptian missionary students local employees as well as of European missionaries Samir Boulos explores mutual transformation processes particularly on the individual but also on institutional and social level Annals of Bolton James Clegg (of Bolton.),1888 Maryland Historical Magazine William Hand Browne,Louis Henry Dielman,1910 Includes the proceedings of the Society Imagined Battles Peter Paret,1997 For thousands of years art has interpreted the experience of war_its methods human costs and moral ambiguities_and has offered historians a wealth of testimony that is only beginning to be systematically explored In this wide ranging study Peter Paret discusses forty seven paintings and prints as complex documents of war in Europe since the Renaissance and as examples of the artist s use of war as a metaphor for the human condition The images include works by such major artists as Uccello G ricault and Dix as well as academic history paintings and popular prints By setting each in its historical environment and analyzing it from the perspective of the wars of its time illuminates the place of war in Western consciousness and expands our understanding of works that are too often approached with little concern for the reality they depict or symbolically transform Perhaps the most significant of the themes he traces over five centuries is the gradual change from the prince or general to the common soldier and civilian victim as central figures in the interpretation of war in art The Australian Official Journal of Trademarks ,1906 Nanofibers Brajesh Kumar,2021 Nanofibers are well known for their vast range of applications in sensors catalysts

The Spacious Word Ricardo Padrón, 2004-02 The Spacious Word explores the history of Iberian expansion into the Americas as seen through maps and cartographic literature and considers the relationship between early Spanish ideas of the world and the origins of European colonialism Spanish mapmakers and writers as Padrón shows clung to a much older idea of space that was based on the itineraries of travel narratives and medieval navigational techniques Padrón contends too that maps and geographic writings heavily influenced the Spanish imperial imagination During the early modern period the idea of America was still something being invented in the minds of Europeans Maps of the New World letters from explorers of indigenous civilizations and poems dramatizing the conquest of distant lands then helped Spain to redefine itself both geographically and imaginatively as an Atlantic and even global empire In turn such literature had a profound influence on Spanish ideas of nationhood most significantly its own Elegantly conceived and meticulously researched The Spacious Word will be of enormous interest to historians of Spain early modern literature and cartography

The French Religious Wars 1562-1598 Robert Jean Knecht, 2014-06-06 The eight French Wars of Religion began in 1562 and lasted for 36 years Although the wars were fought between Catholics and Protestants this book draws out in full the equally important struggle for power between the king and the leading nobles and the rivalry between the nobles themselves as they vied for control of the king In a time when human life counted for little the destruction reached its height in the St Bartholomew's Day Massacre when up to 10 000 Protestants lost their lives

Literature and Cartography Anders Engberg-Pedersen, 2017-11-24 The relationship of texts and maps and the mappability of literature examined from Homer to Houellebecq Literary authors have frequently called on elements of cartography to ground fictional space to visualize sites and to help readers get their bearings in the imaginative world of the text Today the convergence of digital mapping and globalization has spurred a cartographic turn in literature This book gathers leading scholars to consider the relationship of literature and cartography Generously illustrated with full color maps and visualizations it offers the first systematic overview of an emerging approach to the study of literature The literary map is not merely an illustrative guide but represents a set of relations and tensions that raise questions about representation fiction and space Is literature even mappable In exploring the cartographic components of literature the contributors have not only brought literary theory to bear on the map but have also enriched the vocabulary and perspectives of literary studies with cartographic terms After establishing the theoretical and methodological terrain they trace important developments in the history of literary cartography considering topics that include Homer and Joyce Goethe and the representation of nature and African cartographies Finally they consider cartographic genres that reveal the broader connections between texts and maps discussing literary map genres in American literature and the coexistence of image and text in early maps When cartographic aspirations outstripped factual knowledge mapmakers turned to textual fictions Contributors Jean Marc Besse Bruno Bosteels Patrick M Bray Martin Br ckner Tom Conley J rg D nne Anders Engberg Pedersen John K Noyes Ricardo Padr n Barbara Piatti Simone Pinet Clara Rowland Oliver Simons Robert Stockhammer Dominic Thomas Burkhardt Wolf

Anti-Slavery and Australia Jane Lydon,2021-03-15 Bringing the histories of British anti slavery and Australian colonization together changes our view of both This book explores the anti slavery movement in imperial scope arguing that colonization in Australasia facilitated emancipation in the Caribbean even as abolition powerfully shaped the Settler Revolution The anti slavery campaign was deeply entwined with the administration of the empire and its diverse peoples as well as the radical changes demanded by industrialization and rapid social change in Britain Abolition posed problems to which colonial expansion provided the answer intimately linking the end of slavery to systematic colonization and Indigenous dispossession By defining slavery in the Caribbean as the opposite of freedom a lasting impact of abolition was to relegate other forms of oppression to lesser status or to deny them Through the shared concerns of abolitionists slave owners and colonizers a plastic ideology of free labour was embedded within post emancipation imperialist geopolitics justifying the proliferation of new forms of unfree labour and defining new racial categories The celebration of abolition has overshadowed post emancipation continuities and transformations of slavery that continue to shape the modern world The Gentleman's to analyse the relationship between social structure and economic performance in India and Pakistan It seeks to establish whether the social system had a significant dysfunctional role in hindering growth in the past and whether the situation has changed since independence It analyses the extent to which governments in office really tried to change the social structure and the degree to which their rhetorical commitments were constrained by the inertia of tradition and by the vested interests which inherited economic and social power

Turner and the Masters Tate Britain (Gallery), 2009-09 J M W Turner 1775-1851 is widely regarded as the greatest painter Britain has ever produced Despite the many books and exhibitions that have been devoted to him there is one aspect of his extraordinary oeuvre that has never been thoroughly examined Uniquely in the history of European art he took on all comers past and present that he considered worthy of a challenge creating his own images in their styles These works were both acts of homage and a sophisticated form of art criticism demonstrating his understanding of great art and his ability to equal or better the most celebrated exponents of the landscape tradition No artist however revered was considered beyond challenge This unique habit is clearly a key to understanding Turner's art yet the issue is one that has so far never been thoroughly addressed on Turner and on British art of the 18th and 19th centuries In Turner and the Masters leading authorities explore this fascinating aspect of his career revealing new detail on the debts and rivalries that shaped his work in often unexpected ways Accompanying a major touring exhibition that brings together works by Turner with masterpieces by Claude Canaletto Ruisdael Van de Velde Poussin Rubens and Rembrandt as well as by Turner's contemporaries including Constable and Bonington this book firmly positions Turner in the company of the greatest painters of all time The contributors include Guillaume Faroult Sarah Monks Martin Myrone Kathleen Nicholson Philippa Simpson and Ian Warrell Book Jacket
