Pieces Of Paradise Australian Natural History Supplement No 1:

Plumes from Paradise Pamela Swadling, Roy Wagner, Billai Laba, 2019 The natural resources of New Guinea and nearby islands have attracted outsiders for at least 5000 years spices aromatic woods and barks resins plumes sea slugs shells and pearls all brought traders from distant markets Among the most sought after was the bird of paradise Their magnificent plumes bedecked the hats of fashion conscious women in Europe and America provided regalia for the Kings of Nepal and decorated the headdresses of Janissaries of the Ottoman Empire Plumes from Paradise tells the story of this interaction and of the economic political social and cultural consequence for the island s inhabitants It traces 400 years of economic and political history culminating in the plume boom of the early part of the 20th century when an unprecedented number of outsiders flocked to the island s coasts and hinterlands The story teems with the variety of people involved New Guineans Indonesians Chinese Europeans hunters traders natural historians and their collectors officials missionaries planters miners adventurers of every kind In the wings were the conservationists whose efforts brought the slaughter of the plume boom to an end and ushered in an era of comparative isolation for the island that lasted until World War II

Hunting the Collectors Susan Cochrane, Max Quanchi, 2013-04-24 This volume investigates Pacific collections held in Australian museums art galleries and archives and the diverse group of 19th and 20th century collectors responsible for their acquisition The nineteen essays reveal varied personal and institutional motivations that eventually led to the conservation preservation and exhibition in Australia of a remarkable archive of Pacific Island material objects art and crafts photographs and documents Hunting the Collectors benchmarks the importance of Pacific Collections in Australia and is a timely contribution to the worldwide renaissance of interest in Oceanic arts and cultures The essays suggest that the custodial role is not fixed and immutable but fluctuates with the perceived importance of the collection which in turn fluctuates with the level of national interest in the Pacific neighbourhood This cyclical rise and fall of Australian interest in the Pacific Islands means many of the valuable early collections in state and later national repositories and institutions have been rarely exhibited or published But as the authors note enthusiastic museum anthropologists curators collection managers and university based scholars across Australia and worldwide have persisted with research on material collected in the Pacific
