Aaron B. Daniels,2011-07-31 Our world is a far wilder weirder and more mysterious place than we ever admit yet the magic we perform every day hides beneath the countless explanations we foist onto life In the face of these convincing yet empty explanations we displace our hunger for a sense of the magical onto other goals addictions and distractions Left at odds with the very sublimity that animates our every moment we have turned magic into an exception a collection of superstitions a historical backwater and a cinematic spectacle rather than the very fabric of life as lived This book is about recovering the imagination of magic and the magic of imagination This the first of two volumes introduces the landscape of the imaginal and the existential voids Through illustrative stories and self assessment exercises this book brings the often obscure language of existentialism esotericism and imaginal psychology to life was only one thing he hadn't counted on. The boy sitting on the other side of the classroom had plans of his own. Killing Bono is a story of divergent lives. As Bono and his band U2 ascended to global superstardom, his school friend Neil scorched a burning path in quite the opposite direction. Bad drugs, weird sex, bizarre haircuts. Neil experienced it all in his elusive quest for fame. But sometimes it is life's losers who have the most interesting tales to tell. Featuring guest appearances by the Pope, Bob Dylan, and a galaxy of stars, Killing Bono offers an extremely funny, startlingly candid, and strangely moving account of a life lived in the shadows of superstardom. The problem with knowing you is that you've done everything I ever wanted to. Neil once complained to his famous friend, I'm your doppelganger. Bono replied, If you want your life back, you'll have to kill me. Now there was a thought.

The Mahabharata of Krishna-Dwaipayana Vyasa (Complete) Anonymous, Om. Having bowed down to Narayana and Nara, the most exalted male being, and also to the goddess Saraswati, must the word Jaya be uttered. Ugrasrava, the son of Lomaharshana, surnamed Sauti, well-versed in the Puranas, bending with humility, one day approached the great sages of rigid vows sitting at their ease, who had attended the twelve years' sacrifice of Saunaka, surnamed Kulapati, in the forest of Naimisha. Those ascetics, wishing to hear his wonderful narrations, presently began to address him, who had thus arrived at that recluse abode of the inhabitants of the forest of Naimisha. Having been entertained with due respect by those holy men, he saluted those Munis, sages with joined palms, even all of them, and inquired about the progress of their asceticism. Then all the ascetics, being again seated, the son of Lomaharshana humbly occupied the seat that was assigned to him. Seeing that he was comfortably seated and recovered from fatigue, one of the Rishis, beginning the conversation, asked him, Whence comest thou, O lotus-eyed Sauti, and where hast thou spent the time? Tell me, who ask thee in detail. Accomplished in speech, Sauti thus questioned, gave in the midst of that big assemblage of contemplative Munis a full and proper answer in words consonant with their mode of life. Sauti said, Having heard the diverse sacred and wonderful stories which were composed in his Mahabharata by Krishna Dwaipayana and which were recited in full by Vaisampayana at the Snake sacrifice of the high souled royal sage Janamejaya and in the presence also of that chief of Princes the son of Parikshit and having wandered about visiting many sacred waters and holy shrines I journeyed to the country venerated by the Dwijas twice born and called Samantapanchaka where formerly was fought the battle between the children of Kuru and Pandu and all the chiefs of the land ranged on either side Thence anxious to see you I am come into your presence Ye reverend sages all of whom are to me as Brahma ye greatly blessed who shine in this place of sacrifice with the splendour of the solar fire ye who have concluded the silent meditations and have fed the holy fire and yet who are sitting without care what O ye Dwijas twice born shall I repeat shall I recount the sacred stories collected in the Puranas containing precepts of religious duty and of worldly profit or the acts of illustrious saints and sovereigns of mankind The Rishi replied The Purana first promulgated by the great Rishi Dwaipayana and which after having been heard both by the gods and the Brahmarshis was highly esteemed being the most eminent narrative that exists diversified both in diction and division possessing subtile meanings logically combined and gleaned from the Vedas is a sacred work Composed in elegant language it includeth the subjects of other books It is elucidated by other Shastras and comprehendeth the sense of the four Vedas We are desirous of hearing that history also called Bharata the holy composition of the wonderful Vyasa which dispelleth the fear of evil just as it was cheerfully recited by the Rishi Vaisampayana under the direction of Dwaipayana himself at the snake sacrifice of Raja Janamejaya
