Apreciados adultos ustedes podrán tener gran cantidad de conocimientos del mundo pero los niños somos expertos en nosotros mismos y sabemos que es violencia contra la niñez. Niña filipina que en el 2006 presentó ante la Organización de Naciones Unidas ONU el informe de violencia contra la niñez. Contribuir a la erradicación del trabajo infantil a través de una educación de calidad y de la movilización social e institucional es un objetivo que Fundación Telefónica persigue para la restitución integral de los derechos vulnerados de la infancia trabajadora que en Latinoamérica afecta a más de 14 millones de niñas y niños. Es por ello que los medios de comunicación tienen un rol fundamental en la difusión, sensibilización y concienciación de este problema. Pido la palabra es una obra promovida por Fundación Telefónica y desarrollada por PANDI Periodismo Aliado de la Niñez, el Desarrollo Social y la Investigación en la que han participado 7 países de toda América Latina donde periodistas y niños han dialogado y compartido distintas experiencias y puntos de vista. Desde un lugar más horizontal, alejado de una visión de adulto, los niños y las niñas han podido hacer uso del derecho de participación de expresión y pudieron hablar sobre los problemas que les afectan. Muchas veces los adultos hablamos en su nombre, pensamos por ellos, interpretamos su realidad sin tener en cuenta su opinión. En este proyecto los principales protagonistas fueron los niños y las niñas. Más de 250 periodistas compartieron junto a ellos diferentes actividades y reflexionaron sobre el trabajo infantil, la pobreza, la educación y la violencia entre otros temas.

The Curriculum and Pedagogy book series is an enactment of the mission and values espoused by the Curriculum and Pedagogy Group, an international educational organization serving those who share a common faith in democracy and a commitment to public moral leadership in schools and society. Accordingly, the mission of this series is to advance scholarship that engages critical dispositions towards curriculum and instruction, educational empowerment, individual and collectivized agency and social justice. The purpose of the series is to create and nurture democratic spaces in education, an aspect of educational thought that is frequently lacking in the extant literature, often jettisoned via efforts to depoliticize the study of education. Rather than ignore these conversations, this series offers the capacity for educational renewal and social change through scholarly research, arts-based projects, social action, academic enrichment and community engagement. Authors will evidence their commitment to the principles of democracy, transparency, agency, multicultural inclusion, ethnic diversity, gender and sexuality equity, economic justice and international cooperation. Furthermore, these authors will contribute to the development of deeper critical insights into the historical, political, aesthetic, cultural and institutional subtexts and contexts of curriculum that impact educational practices. Believing that curriculum studies and the ethical conduct that is congruent with such studies must become part of the fabric of public life and classroom practices, this book series brings together prose, poetry and visual artistry from teachers, professors, graduate students, early childhood
