Textual Mirrors Dina Stein,2012-10-08 As they were entering Egypt Abram glimpsed Sarai s reflection in the Nile River Though he had been married to her for years this moment is positioned in a rabbinic narrative as a revelation Now I know you are a beautiful woman he says at that moment he also knows himself as a desiring subject and knows too to become afraid for his own life due to the desiring gazes of others There are few scenes in rabbinic literature that so explicitly stage a character s apprehension of his or her own or another s literal reflection Still Dina Stein argues the association of knowledge and reflection operates as a central element in rabbinic texts Midrash explicitly refers to other texts biblical texts are both reconstructed and taken apart in exegesis and midrashic narrators are situated liminally with respect to the tales they tell This inherent structural quality underlies the propensity of rabbinic literature to reflect or refer to itself and the self that is the object of reflection is not just the narrator of a tale but a larger rabbinic identity a coherent if polyphonous entity that emerges from this body of texts Textual Mirrors draws on literary theory folklore studies and semiotics to examine stories in which self reflexivity operates particularly strongly to constitute rabbinic identity through the voices of Simon the Just and a handsome shepherd the daughter of Asher the Queen of Sheba and an unnamed maidservant In Stein s readings these self reflexive stories allow us to go through the looking glass where the text comments upon itself it both compromises the unity of its underlying principles textual religious and ideological and confirms it

The Monastic School of Gaza Brouria Bitton-Ashkelony,Aryeh Kofsky,2006-02-01 This book studies one of the most striking chapters in the history of late antique monastic culture provided by the monastic legacy of Gaza A monastic intellectual community flourished in the region of Gaza from the fourth to the seventh century producing a wealth of literary works In this diverse and exciting literary corpus especially in the unique correspondence between spiritual leaders and their clientele matters that are usually only hinted at in monastic sources are vividly portrayed Distinct from the dry and matter of fact monastic instructions and the stereotypes of hagiography this corpus exposes the psychological tensions moods frustrations and elations in the daily existence of the monks revealing them as creatures of flesh and blood This book seeks to frame the historical development of this community and endeavours to analyze the spiritual and intellectual context of what may be termed the monastic school of Gaza The legacy of this complex and thriving centre cuts across theological differences and boundaries Shedding light on these neglected educated circles enhances and somewhat balances the overall historical picture of late antique ascetic culture and Palestinian Christianity

Transmitting and Circulating the Late Antique and Byzantine Worlds, 2019-10-29 Transmitting and Circulating the Late Antique and Byzantine Worlds seeks to be a crucial contribution to the history of medieval connectedness Using one of the methodological tools associated with the global history movement this volume aims to use connectedness to revitalise local and regional networks of exchange and movement Its case studies collectively point caution toward assuming or asserting global scale transmission of meaning or items unchanged and show instead how meaning is locally produced and regionally formulated and how this is no less dynamic than any global level connectedness These case studies by early career scholars range from the movement of cotton growing practices to the transmission of information within individual texts Their wide scope however is nonetheless united by their preoccupation with transmission and circulation as categories of analysing or explaining movement and change in history This volume hopes to be therefore a useful contribution to the growing field of a history of connectivity and connectedness Contributors are Jovana Anelković Petar Bara Mathew Barber Julia Burdajewicz Adele Curness Carl Dixon Alex MacFarlane Anna Kelley Matteo G Randazzo Katinka Sewing and Grace Stafford See inside the book

Perfection's Therapy Mitchell B. Merback, 2018-01-02 Albrecht Dürer's master engraving Melencolia I has stood for centuries as a pictorial summa of knowledge about melancholia and an allegory of the limits of earthbound arts and sciences Zealously interpreted since the nineteenth century the work also presides over the origins of modern iconology Yet more than a century of research has left us with a tangle of mutually contradictory theories In Perfection's Therapy Mitchell Merback discovers in Melencolia's opacity a fascinating possibility that Dürer's masterpiece is not only an arresting diagnosis of melancholic distress but an innovative instrument for its undoing Merback deftly analyses the visual and narrative structure of Dürer's image revisits its philosophical and medical contexts and resituates it within the long history of the therapeutic artifact Placing Dürer's project in dialogue with that of humanism's founder Francesco Petrarca Merback also unearths the German artist's ambition to act as a physician of the soul Celebrated by contemporaries as the Apelles of our age and ever since as Germany's first Renaissance painter theorist the Dürer we encounter here is also the first modern Christian artist addressing himself to the distress of souls including his own Melencolia thus emerges as a key reference point in a project of spiritual ethical therapy a work designed to exercise the mind rebalance the passions remedy the soul and help in getting on with the project of perfection
