Pilgrimage Of Hope One Hundred Years Of Global Interfaith Dialogue:

Pilgrimage of Hope Marcus Braybrooke, 1992 The Problem with Interreligious Dialogue Muthuraj Swamy, 2016-03-24

Muthuraj Swamy provides a fresh perspective on the world religions paradigm and interreligious dialogue. By challenging the assumption that world religions operate as essential entities separate from the lived experiences of practitioners, he shows that interreligious dialogue is in turn problematic as it is built on this very paradigm and on the myth of religious conflict. Offering a critique of the idea of dialogue as it has been advanced by its proponents such as religious leaders and theologians whose aims are to promote inter religious conversation and understanding, the author argues that this approach is elitist and that in reality people do not make sharp distinctions between religions nor do they separate political economic social and cultural beliefs and practices from their religious traditions. Case studies from villages in southern India explore how Hindu Muslim and Christian communities interact in numerous ways that break the neat categories often used to describe each religion. Swamy argues that those who promote dialogue are ostensibly attempting to overcome the separate identities of religious practitioners through understanding but in fact they re-enforce them by encouraging a false sense of separation. The Problem with Interreligious Dialogue Plurality Conflict and Elitism in Hindu Christian Muslim Relations provides an innovative approach to a central issue confronting Religious Studies combining both theory and ethnography.

Talking Dialogue Karsten Lehmann, 2021-02-22

Throughout the last two decades the modern dialogue movement has gained worldwide significance. The knowledge about its origins is however still very limited. This book presents a wide range of insights from eleven case studies into the early history of several important international interreligious interfaith dialogue organizations that have shaped the modern development of interreligious dialogue from the late nineteenth century up to the present. Based on new archival research they describe on the one hand how these actors put their ideals into practice and on the other how they faced many challenges as pioneers in the establishment of new interreligious interfaith organizational structures. This book concludes with a comparison of those case studies bringing to light new and broader historical sociological understanding of the beginnings of international and multi religious interreligious interfaith dialogue organizations over more than one century. The World's Parliament of Religions 1893, The Religious Menschheitsbund 1921, The World Congress of Faiths 1933, 1950, The Committee on the Church and the Jewish People of the World Council of Churches 1961, The Temple of Understanding 1968, The International Association for Religious Freedom 1969, The World Conference on Religion and Peace 1970, The Council for a Parliament of the World's Religions 1989, 1991, The Oxford International Interfaith Centre 1993, The United Religions Initiative 2000, The Universal Peace Federation 2005. Based on these analyses the authors identify three distinct groups with sometimes conflicting interests that are shaping the movement: individual religious virtuosi, countercultural activists, and representatives of religious institutions. Published in cooperation with the King Abdullah Bin Abdulaziz International Centre for Interreligious Intercultural Dialogue, Vienna.

Public Intellectuals and the Politics of Global Africa Seifudein Adem, 2010 Ali Mazrui has been described as one of the most original thinkers that Africa has produced and one of the top 100 living public intellectuals in the world today This volume uses Mazrui's life and work as a guide towards explaining the historical impact of black public intellectuals such as Julius K Nyerere Patrice Lumumba and Barrack Obama The book explores not only politics and academics but also religion gender class and civil military relations bringing together into the black experience both Plato's concept of the philosopher King and V I Lenin's notion of the intelligentsia

The Interfaith Movement John

Fahy, Jan-Jonathan Bock, 2019-09-05 Although its beginnings can be traced back to the late 19th century the interfaith movement has only recently begun to attract mainstream attention with governments religious leaders and grassroots activists around the world increasingly turning to interfaith dialogue and collective action to address the challenges posed and explore the opportunities presented by religious diversity in a globalising world This volume explores the history and development of the interfaith movement by engaging with new theoretical perspectives and a diverse range of case studies from around the world The first book to bring together experts in the fields of religion politics and social movement theory to offer an in depth social analysis of the interfaith movement it not only sheds new light on the movement itself but challenges the longstanding academic division of labour that confines religious and social movements to separate spheres of inquiry

Explorations In Global Ethics Sumner B Twiss, 2018-03-08 Inspired by the 1993 Parliament of the World's Religions this volume for the first time brings the scholarly discipline of comparative religious ethics into constructive collaboration with the community of interreligious dialogue The contributors draw from both communities of discourse in addressing questions of method and theory and global moral issues such as human rights distributive justice politics of war international business the environment and genocide in a cross cultural context Inspired by the 1993 Parliament of the World's Religions this volume for the first time brings the scholarly discipline of comparative religious ethics into constructive collaboration with the community of interreligious dialogue Its design is premised on two important insights First interreligious dialogue offers to comparative religious ethics a new more persuasive rationale agenda of issues and practical orientation Second comparative religious ethics offers to interreligious dialogue an arsenal of critical tools and methods which will enhance the sophistication of its practical work In this way both theory a dominant concern and strength of comparative religious ethics and praxis a dominant concern and strength of interreligious moral dialogue are joined together in mutual effort each contributing to the benefit of the other The volume's contributors share this vision of collaboration drawing explicitly from both communities of discourse in a manner that crosses disciplinary and professional boundaries to deal creatively and constructively with important methodological and global moral issue Although theory and practice cannot easily be separated in such a collaborative project for the purpose of clarity the volume is divided into two main parts The first specifically engages questions of method theory and the social role of the public intellectual the second on substantive moral themes and issues many of which were raised at the 1993 Parliament Taken together the volumes essays articulate and illustrate new ways of approaching contemporary moral concerns cross culturally yet with a rigor appropriate to our complex and pluralistic world

Sharing Lights on the Way to God Pim Valkenberg, 2006 This book seeks to give form to a theology that hyphenates two traditions that have not only been in constant conflict during most of their historical encounters but are also presented as opposite blocks in the threatening clash of civilizations at the beginning of the third millennium Islam and Christianity Based on experiences of dialogue between the three Abrahamic faiths this book analyzes historical and contemporary processes of interreligious dialogue between Christians and Muslims in order to arrive at a concept of dialogue as mutual emulation It shows how in their theologies of religious others Judaism Christianity and Islam have based their images of others on their self images This characteristic makes traditional theologies of religion quite unsuitable for interreligious dialogue Consequently the author of this book develops a model in which comparative theology and interreligious dialogue are connected by studying as a Christian theologian the theological and spiritual sources of his Muslim dialogue partners These exercises in comparative Muslim Christian theology comprise both the medieval Aquinas al Ghazali Rumi and the modern periods Said Nursi Fethullah G len Tariq Ramadan An interlude on Teresa of Avila s poem Nada te turbe shows how Christians may recover important insights from their own tradition by reading these Muslim theological and spiritual sources

The Idea of Tradition in the Late Modern World Thomas Albert Howard, 2020-02-10 Our late modern era is marked by the rapidity of change waxing pluralism focus on the future not the past the elevation of personal choice over communal obligation and for some a sense of spiritual and intellectual disorientation that can lead to resentment fear nostalgia and or a disordered desire for absolute certainty and rigid authority How can religious traditions be maintained and even thrive in such an environment How do they negotiate the fluidity of it all and transmit their beliefs and practices to future generations What should be the role of academic authorities vis a vis religious authorities in this process Finally what can different religious traditions learn from one another on the general topic of tradition This volume invites readers to participate in a candid ecumenical and interreligious conversation involving Christian Jewish and Muslim voices The editor and contributors alike contend that the Abrahamic faiths while having honest differences face common challenges from contemporary culture which often fosters incomprehension about the depth breadth and intellectual rigor of religious traditions At the same time traditions can become disengaged and moribund without attending to them with careful reflection discernment and conversation with others who hold different points of view

Interfaith Encounters in America Kate McCarthy, 2007-03-28 From its most cosmopolitan urban centers to the rural Midwest the United States is experiencing a rising tide of religious interest While terrorist attacks keep Americans fixed on an abhorrent vision of militant Islam popular films such as The Passion of the Christ and The Da Vinci Code make blockbuster material of the origins of Christianity The 2004 presidential election we are told was decided on the basis of religiously driven moral values A majority of Americans are reported to believe that religious differences are the biggest obstacle to world peace Beneath the superficial banter of the media and popular culture however are quieter conversations about what it means to be religious in America today conversations among recent immigrants about how to adapt their practices to life in new land conversations among young people who are finding new meaning in religions rejected by their parents conversations among the religiously unaffiliated about eclectic new spiritualities encountered in magazines book groups or online Interfaith Encounters in America takes a compelling look at these seldom acknowledged exchanges showing how despite their incompatibilities Buddhist Muslim Christian Jewish and Hindu Americans among others are using their beliefs to commit to the values of a pluralistic society rather than to widen existing divisions Chapters survey the intellectual exchanges among scholars of philosophy religion and theology about how to make sense of conflicting claims as well as the relevance and applicability of these ideas on the ground where real people with different religious identities intentionally unite for shared purposes that range from national public policy initiatives to small town community interfaith groups from couples negotiating interfaith marriages to those exploring religious issues with strangers in online interfaith discussion groups Written in engaging and accessible prose this book provides an important reassessment of the problems values and goals of contemporary religion in the United States It is essential reading for scholars of religion sociology and American studies as well as anyone who is concerned with the purported impossibility of religious pluralism

Religious Imaginations James Walters, 2018-12-15 Market globalization technology climate change and postcolonial political forces are together forging a new more modern world However caught up in the mix are some powerful religious narratives that are galvanizing peoples and reimagining and sometimes stifling the political and social order Some are repressive fundamentalist imaginations such as the so called Islamic Caliphate Others could be described as post religious such as the evolution of universal human rights out of the European Christian tradition But the question of the compatibility of these religious worldviews particularly those that have emerged out of the Abrahamic faith traditions is perhaps the most pressing issue in global stability today What scope for dialogue is there between the Jewish Muslim and Christian ways of imagining the future How can we engage with these multiple imaginations to create a shared and peaceful global society Religious Imaginations is an interdisciplinary volume of both new and well known scholars exploring how religious narratives interact with the contemporary geopolitical climate

The Oxford Handbook of Religion, Conflict, and Peacebuilding Atalia Omer, R. Scott Appleby, David Little, 2015 The book provides a comprehensive overview of the literature on religion conflict and peacebuilding With a focus on structural and cultural violence the volume also offers a cutting edge interdisciplinary reframing of the scope of scholarship in the field

Multilateral Theology Timothy T.N Lim, 2021-04-18 This book introduces a new multilateral methodology for the contemporary study of theology It bases this methodology on the idea that there are too many materials contributing as sources for theologizing to sustain the one method fits all approach found in many systematic theologies within Christianity What is needed instead is something that reflects the various and varied natures purposes and tasks of theologians theologizing for their respective contexts Engaging materials from a range of Christian traditions including Evangelicalism the Catholic Magisterium and a limited range of pan Orthodox resources the book analyzes and assesses major factors that have shaped different streams of theology Addressing doctrinal development scripture and revelation historical tradition and creeds philosophy and truth sciences and interdisciplinarity experience religious pluralism and culture it demonstrates how these various streams can form a multilateral whole The book concludes by examining the centers and peripherals of methodologies in theologization for a spectrum of theological traditions streams both across and beyond Christianity By offering an approach that keeps in step with the increasingly interconnected and pluralistic world in which we live this book provides a vital resource for any scholar of Christian theology constructive theology contextual theologies and systematic theology as well as religious studies
