F. Breazeale,2013-10 This is a new release of the original 1923 edition A Pima Past Anna Moore Shaw,1974-03 In simple unaffected prose Mrs Shaw constructs a moving saga of Native Americans caught between their tribal past and a Europeanized present Some of the most interesting passages deal with the wrenching realities of Indian life on the reservation in the years around the turn of the century when the Indian male as a warrior found himself bereft of his very reason for being and forced to endeavor to become a farmer Journal of Arizona History A most interesting book Her account of how the Pima Indians lived their family structure how they reared their children courtship and marriage how they treated their elders their religious practices before the coming of a Christian missionary in 1870 and their accommodation with death are related in language that can be easily understood by the layman and yet provide information which can be used by the sociologist and anthropologist Journal of the West The current trend in books written by American Indians is to idealize the Indian past while condemning white culture This volume is a notable exception because its author is old enough to remember the past and because she has been successful in adapting those elements of white culture which she found useful without sacrificing this essential heritage The style is simple and straightforward that of a good storyteller which reaches all adult levels Choice Simple and charming reminiscences of the old Pima ways at the turn of the century when they still prevailed and of the changes which recent decades have brought about in the lives of the desert people Books of the Southwest Throughout her account a special kind of humor sensitivity and pride is revealed when discussing her peoples and her own personal experiences The Masterkey Woven from the Center Diane Dittmore,2024-01-16 In the beginning was basketry Around the world the intertwining of fibers by hand to form a container is a most ancient of crafts It is older than pottery and metalwork older than loom weaving Woven from the Center presents breathtaking basketry from some of the greatest weavers in the Southwest Each sandal and mat fragment each bowl and jar every water bottle and whimsy is infused with layers of aesthetic cultural and historical meanings This book offers stunning photos and descriptions of woven works from Tohono O odham Akimel O odham Hopi Western Apache

Yavapai Navajo Pai Paiute New Mexico Pueblo Eastern Apache Seri Yaqui Mayo and Tarahumara communities This richly illustrated volume stands on its own as a definitive look at basketry of the Greater Southwest including northern Mexico It also serves as a companion to the peerless collection of U S Southwest and Northwest Mexican Native American basketry curated at the Arizona State Museum in Tucson Arizona Comprehensive in its coverage this work is based on decades of research on weavers collectors and donors It includes ample illustrations of basket weavers past and present bringing to life the people behind these wonderful woven treasures The Papago Indians of Arizona and Their Relatives, the Pima Ruth Murray 1884- Underhill,2021-09-09 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public To ensure a quality reading experience this work has been proofread and republished using a format that seamlessly blends the original graphical elements with text in an easy to read typeface We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant Indian Basket Weaving Navajo School of Indian Basketry,2012-11-07 The methods of Indian basket weaving explained in this excellent manual are the very ones employed by native practitioners of the craft members of the Navajo School of Basketry have set down their secrets in clear and simple language enabling even the beginner to create work that can rival theirs in grace design and usefulness Beginning with basic techniques choice of materials preparation of the reed splicing the introduction of color principles and methods of design shaping the basket and weaves from many cultures such as Lazy Squaw Mariposa Taos Samoan Klikitat and Shilo each accompanied by specific instructions There are suggestions for the weaving of shells beads feathers fan palms date palms and even pine needles and recipes for the preparation of dyes Examples of each type of basket are illustrated by photographs often taken from more than one angle so that the bottom can be seen as well as the top and sides Close up photography of the various types of stitching especially at the crucial stage of beginning the basket is an invaluable aid to the weaver In addition the authors have provided line drawings which are exceptionally clear magnifications of the various weave patterns Anyone who follows the lessons contained in this book will have a knowledge of basketry unattainable in any other way They are so lucid and complete that the amateur as well as the experienced weaver will be able to manufacture baskets distinguishable from authentic native articles only in that they were not woven by Indians For those who merely seek a broader knowledge of American Indian arts the book provides a comprehensive introduction to the subject of basketry The Native American ,1926 The Path on the Rainbow George William Cronyn,1918 The Desert is No Lady Vera Norwood,Janice J. Monk,1997 Over the past century women artists and writers have expressed diverse creative responses to the landscape of the Southwest The Desert

Is No Lady provides a cross cultural perspective on women by examining Anglo Hispanic and Native American women s artistic expressions and the effect of their art in defining the southwestern landscape The Desert Is No Lady has been made into a motion picture of the same title by Women Make movies New York NY A beautifully crafted book Although it varies in intensity the response of women to the environment is virtually always different from the male frontiersman s view of the land as inanimate boundless conquerable and controllable Polly Wells Kaufman in Women s Review of Books A powerful masterpiece Eve Gruntfest in The Professional Geographer Gathering the Desert Gary Paul Nabhan, 2016-10-01 Winner of the John Burroughs Association s John Burroughs Medal for natural history writing and a Southwest Book Award from the Border Regional Library Association To the untrained eye a desert is a wasteland that defies civilization yet the desert has been home to native cultures for centuries and offers sustenance in its surprisingly wide range of plant life Gary Paul Nabhan has combed the desert in search of plants forgotten by all but a handful of American Indians and Mexican Americans In Gathering the Desert readers will discover that the bounty of the desert is much more than meets the eye whether found in the luscious fruit of the stately organpipe cactus or in the lowly tepary bean Nabhan has chosen a dozen of the more than 425 edible wild species found in the Sonoran Desert to demonstrate just how bountiful the land can be From the red hot chiltepinies of Mexico to the palms of Palm Springs each plant exemplifies a symbolic or ecological relationship which people of this region have had with plants through history Each chapter focuses on a particular plant and is accompanied by an original drawing by artist Paul Mirocha Word and picture together create a total impression of plants and people as the book traces the turn of seasons in the desert At the Desert's Green Edge Amadeo M. Rea, 1997-11 The Akimel O odham or Pima Indians of the northern Sonoran Desert continue to make their home along Arizona s Gila River despite the alarming degradation of their habitat that has occurred over the past century The oldest living Pimas can recall a lush riparian ecosystem and still recite more than two hundred names for plants in their environment but they are the last generation who grew up subsisting on cultivated native crops or wild foraged plants Ethnobiologist Amadeo M Rea has written the first complete ethnobotany of the Gila River Pima and has done so from the perspective of the Pimas themselves At the Desert s Green Edge weaves the Pima view of the plants found in their environment with memories of their own history and culture creating a monumental testament to their traditions and way of life Rea first discusses the Piman people environment and language then proceeds to share their botanical knowledge in entries for 240 plants that systematically cover information on economic botany folk taxonomy and linguistics The entries are organized according to Pima life form categories such as plants growing in water eaten greens and planted fruit trees All are anecdotal conveying the author s long personal involvement with the Pimas whether teaching in their schools or learning from them in conversations and interviews At the Desert s Green Edge is an archive of otherwise unavailable plant lore that will become a benchmark for botanists and anthropologists Enhanced by more than one hundred brush paintings of plants it is written to be equally useful to nonspecialists so that the Pimas themselves can turn to it as a resource regarding their former lifeways More than an encyclopedia of facts it is the Pimas own story a witness to a changing way of life in the Sonoran Desert The New Trail ,1953 Aw-aw-tam Indian Nights John William Lloyd,1911 Indian Basketry George Wharton James,1902 Papago Music Frances Densmore,1929 ... Handbook of American Indians North of Mexico: N-Z Frederick Webb Hodge,1910
