Poems John Rollin Ridge, 1868 Nature Poem Tommy Pico, 2017-05-09

A book length poem about how an American Indian writer can't bring himself to write about nature but is forced to reckon with colonial white stereotypes manifest destiny and his own identity as an young queer urban dwelling poet A Best Book of the Year at BuzzFeed Interview and more Nature Poem follows Teebs a young queer American Indian or NDN poet who can't bring himself to write a nature poem For the reservation born urban dwelling hipster the exercise feels stereotypical reductive and boring He hates nature He prefers city lights to the night sky He'd slap a tree across the face He'd rather write a mountain of hashtag punchlines about death and give head in a pizza parlor bathroom he'd rather write odes to Aretha Franklin and Hole While he's adamant bratty even about his distaste for the word natural over the course of the book we see him confronting the assimilationist historical colonial white ideas that collude NDN people with nature The closer his people were identified with the natural world he figures the easier it was to mow them down like the underbrush But Teebs gradually learns how to interpret constellations through his own lens along with human nature sexuality language music and Twitter Even while he reckons with manifest destiny and genocide and centuries of disenfranchisement he learns how to have faith in his own voice

Behind the Poem Robert Hull, 2019-08-09 Published in 1988 this book is a teacher's eye view of how children come to write and rewrite poems and of how they make aesthetic choices in their writing Drawing on over twenty years experience of teaching poetry in primary and secondary schools Robert Hull presents a detailed account of the process of writing poetry in the classroom The reader is invited almost in confidence to be witness to a skilled teacher's planning recognition and definition of children's emergent understanding and expertise The author adopts a non-behaviourist model which stresses difficulty and uncertainty rejecting a simplistic assumption of linear progression predictability of outcome and short term results The many examples of poems written by the children demonstrate in a very vivid and impressive way the value of this approach All teachers not just of poetry will find this a fascinating and informed study and an inspiration for their own work in the classroom

100 Poems to Break Your Heart Edward Hirsch, 2021 We are not so much diminished as enlarged by grief by our refusal to vanish or to let others vanish without leaving a verbal record The poet is one who will not be reconciled who is determined to leave a trace in words to transform oceanic depths of feeling into the faithful nuances of art Poetry companions us Poems are written in solitude but they reach out to others which makes poetry a social act It rises out of one solitude to meet another Poems of terrible sadness and loss trouble and challenge us but they also make us feel less alone and more connected Our own desolations become more recognizable to us more articulate something shared We become less isolated in our sorrow and thus are befriended by the words of another There is something ennobling in grief that is compacted expressed and transfigured into poetry Book jacket

The Roamer and Other Poems George Edward Woodberry, 1919

Poetry of the American West Alison Hawthorne Deming, 1996 One hundred fifty poems by seventy five poets offer an inclusive collage of voices protest poems of the Chicano farmworkers movement campfire cowboy songs sacred Native American songs and works by Willa Cather Langston Hughes Adrienne Rich and other canonical figures from a land where cultural collision is part of the rugged landscape

Collected Poems, 1952-1999 Robert Mezey, 2000-07-01 This important collection of poems which spans a career of nearly fifty years demonstrates Robert Mezey's development as a notable stylist thinker and poet Moving from adaptations of Latin and Spanish poems to prayers and lamentations from elegies and complaints of lost love to flights of comic and ribald fancy his poetry reaches to the extremes of human experience The death of friends and family one's self betrayals and self infatuations the comical confusion of a worried mother the art of a doomed Jewish child in a Nazi concentration camp all these human dramas play out bravely against the backdrop of the beautiful indifferent path Mezey can portray aging and death or sing of love and nature with an accuracy of perception and an intensity of feeling heightened by formal clarity and restraint With his razor sharp eye for the singular detail he describes missed opportunities and moments of human weakness and loss in gestures so real the reader will ache In capturing the pain of religious doubt the pangs of tenderness and elation and the vagaries of fate so honestly Mezey has wrought a high finish to each poem so that in the words of Donald Justice they become absolute classics of calm and beauty
