The book is a joint production of Kingsclear Books and Blacktown City Council and was funded by the Federation Community Projects Programme St George Pictorial Memories Joan Lawrence,1996 Blue Mountains John Low,1994 From the Aboriginal beginnings early exploration and the building of such wonders as the Giant Stairway and the Scenic Railway the famous buildings writers and artists including Bradman at Blackheath the Chinese people and the pioneers This book covers the history of all the towns over the mountains through to the Jenolan Caves Sunday at Albert's Ross Parsons,2019-05-15 Ross Parsons explores a selection of hotels their architecture and often forgotten stories Superbly readable he draws from the unified relationship between the complex and contradictory hotel licensing laws and the social and cultural history of New South Wales River Dreams Ian Tyrrell,2018-03-01 In the beginning there was the river before the beach before the drain before the dredging before the dams before numerous other actions that altered the stream River Dreams reveals the complex history of the Cooks River in south eastern Sydney a river renowned as Australia s most altered and polluted While nineteenth century developers called it improvement the sugar mill tanneries and factories that lined the banks of Sydney s Cooks River had drastic consequences for the health of the river Local Aboriginal people became fringe dwellers and over time the river became severely compromised with many ecosystems damaged or destroyed Later a large section was turned into a concrete canal and in the late 1940s the river was rerouted for the expansion of Sydney Airport While much of the river has been rehabilitated in recent decades by passionate local groups and through government initiatives it continues to be a source of controversy with rapid apartment development placing new stresses on the region River Dreams is a timely reminder of the need to tread cautiously in seeking to dominate or ignore our environment A beautiful book that reminds us that Australians are river people as much as we are bush or coast dwellers IAN HOSKINS Georges River Blues Heather Goodall,2022-02-02 The lower Georges River on Dharawal and Dharug lands was a place of fishing grounds swimming holes and picnics in the early twentieth century But this all changed after World War II when rapidly expanding industry and increasing population fell heaviest on this river polluting its waters and destroying its bush Local people campaigned to defend their river They battled municipal councils who were themselves struggling against an explosion of garbage as population and economy changed In these blues an Australian term for conflict it was mangroves and swamps that became the focus of the fight Mangroves were expanding because of increasing pollution and early climate change Councils wanted to solve their garbage problems by bulldozing mangroves and bushland dumping garbage and eventually building playing fields So they attacked mangroves as useless swamps that harboured disease Residents defended mangroves by mobilising ecological science to show that these plants nurtured immature fish and protected the river s health These suburban resident action campaigns have been ignored by histories of the Australian environmental movement which have instead focused on campaigns to save distant wilderness or inner city built environments The Georges River environmental conflicts may have been less theatrical but they were fought out just as bitterly And local Georges River campaigners men women and often children were just as tenacious They struggled to keep bushland in our suburbs laying the foundation for today s widespread urban environmental consciousness Cover Ruth Staples was a courageous Georges River campaigner who lived all her life around Lime Kiln Bay at Oatley West She kept on fighting to regenerate the river until her death aged 90 in 2020
