Wright, 2002 Digital Compositing for Film and Video is a hands on practical how to guide that addresses the problems and difficult choices faced by the professional compositor in real life situations. It presents techniques, tricks and solutions for dealing with badly shot elements, coloration artifacts and mismatched lighting that bedevil actual compositors working on real shots. Readers are offered in depth practical methods for matte extraction, despill procedures, compositing operations and color correction, the meat and potatoes of all digital effects. Compositing is the artistic blending of several disparate elements from a variety of sources into a single image while making all the component elements appear to be in the same light space and shot with the same camera. When confronted with a bad composite, any observer will recognize that something is wrong; the artist will know what is causing the problem and the technician will know how to fix it. A good compositor must be both an artist and a technician. Written by a senior compositor with over ten years experience in both feature film and broadcast television, this book offers a broad range of alternative solutions that will save hours of fiddling with composites trying to get them to look right when the basic tools aren't working. A companion CD ROM provides examples of the many topics covered in this book.

Composing for the Cinema Ennio Morricone, Sergio Miceli, 2013. With nearly 400 scores to his credit, Ennio Morricone is one of the most prolific and influential film composers working today. He has collaborated with many significant directors and his scores for such films as The Good, the Bad and the Ugly, Once Upon a Time in America, Days of Heaven, The Mission, The Untouchables, Mal na and Cinema Paradiso leave moviegoers with the conviction that something special was achieved, a conviction shared by composers, scholars and fans alike. In Composing for the Cinema: The Theory and Praxis of Music in Film, Morricone and musicologist Sergio Miceli present a series of lectures on the composition and analysis of film music. Adapted from several lectures and seminars, these lessons show how sound design can be analyzed and offer a variety of musical solutions to many different kinds of film. Though aimed at composers, Morricone's expositions are easy to understand and fascinating even to those without any musical training. Drawing upon scores by himself and others, the composer also provides insight into his relationships with many of the directors with whom he has collaborated, including Sergio Leone, Giuseppe Tornatore, Franco Zeffirelli, Warren Beatty, Ridley Scott, Roland Joffe, the Taviani Brothers and others. Translated and edited by Gillian B. Anderson, an orchestral conductor and musicologist, these lessons reveal Morricone's passion about musical expression. Delivered in a conversational mode that is both comprehensible
