Philip Hayward

Picture This Media Representations Of Visual Art And Artists:

Picture this Philip Hayward,1998 With the proliferation of films television programs and videos about the arts this book tackles how these media outlets have approached their subject     Art and Artists on Screen John Albert Walker,2010-09

Documenting the Visual Arts Roger Hallas,2019-12-06 Bringing together an international range of scholars as well as filmmakers and curators this book explores the rich variety in form and content of the contemporary art documentary Since their emergence in the late 1940s as a distinct genre documentaries about the visual arts have made significant contributions to art education public television and documentary filmmaking yet they have received little scholarly attention from either art history or film studies Documenting the Visual Arts brings that attention to the fore Whether considering documentaries about painting sculpture photography performance art site specific installation or fashion the chapters of this book engage with the key question of intermediality how film can reframe other visual arts through its specific audio visual qualities in order to generate new ways of understanding those arts The essays illuminate furthermore how art documentaries raise some of the most critical issues of the contemporary global art world specifically the discourse of the artist the dynamics of documentation and the visibility of the museum Contributors discuss documentaries by filmmakers such as Frederick Wiseman Lynn Herschman Leeson Jia Zhangke and Trisha Ziff and about artists such as Michael Heizer Ai Weiwei Do Ho Suh and Marina Abramovi This collection of new international and interdisciplinary scholarship on visual art documentaries is ideal for students and scholars of visual arts and filmmaking as well as art history arts education and media studies     Arts TV John Albert Walker,1993 From Monitor to The Late Show British television programs featuring the visual arts are profiled here The various types or genres of arts programs are identified including review programs strand series drama documentaries and artists profiles and a chronological account of their evolution from 1936 to the 1990s is provided Major series such as Civilization Ways of Seeing Shock of the New State of the Art and Relative Values are examined in detail

Picture this Philip Hayward,1988 Media particularly in the form of broadcast television has revolutionized an individual's relationship to culture and cultural practices This anthology examines the complex set of relationships between art forms popular cultural practices including watching television technology and audiences Focus is upon visual arts and artists and particularly on painting photography sculpture and architecture Essays include 1 Echoes and Reflections The Representation of Representations Philip Hayward 2 Representing Art or Reproducing Culture Tradition and Innovation in British Television's Coverage of the Arts 1950-87 John Wyver 3 Postmodernism Television and the Visual Arts A Critical Consideration of the State of the Art John Roberts 4 All That is Solid Melts on the Air Art Video Representation and Postmodernity Steven Bode 5 Artists Mythologies and Media Genius Madness and Art History Griselda Pollock 6 The Architect as Ubermensch Julian Petley 7 The Childish the Insane and the Ugly Modern Art in Popular Films and Fiction of the Forties Diane Waldman 8 Critical Contradictions Media Representations of The Dinner Party as Feminist Art Marie Gillespie Sylvia Hines 9 Art and Images of

Women An Interview with Gina Newson Sylvia Paskin 10 Screening Photography Andrea Rehberg 11 Gardens of Speculation Landscape in The Draughtsman's Contract Simon Watney Notes on the contributors a filmography index and an index conclude the work MM Lifework Moran Sheleg, 2024-07-23 Following the critical scepticism surrounding the notion of the self as a singular entity during the 1960s many artists and writers sought to test the apparent problem posed by autobiography as both a traditional genre and as a way of working Considering the consequent emergence of autotheory Lifework traces this shift in artistic and literary production during the late twentieth century and beyond examining a set of diverse practices that mine the line between what it is to make art and what it is to live life The book's chapters connect a variety of artistic strategies that cut across medium geography and time uncovering how the historical marginalisation of first person experience has taken on larger social cultural and political implications in the contemporary moment and how the work of living might still relate to the work of art The Visual Turn Angela Dalle Vacche, 2003 This collection of essays demonstrates the usefulness of looking at cinema with the analytical methods provided by art theory The Visual Turn is a dialogue between art historians and film theorists from the silent period to the aftermath of World War II Framing Pictures Steven Jacobs, 2012-08-27 Steven Jacobs book provides a unique critical intervention into a relatively new area of scholarship the multidisciplinary topic of film and the visual arts Art in the Cinema Steven Jacobs, Birgit Cleppe, Dimitrios Latsis, 2020-10-15 In the 1940s and 1950s hundreds of art documentaries were produced many of them being highly personal poetic reflexive and experimental films that offer a thrilling cinematic experience With the exception of Alain Resnais's Van Gogh 1948 Henri Georges Clouzot's Le Mystère Picasso 1956 and a few others most of them have received only scant scholarly attention This book aims to rectify this situation by discussing the most lyrical experimental and influential post war art documentaries connecting them to contemporaneous museological developments and Euro American cultural and political relationships With contributors with expertise across art history and film studies Art in the Cinema draws attention to film projects by Andr  Bazin Ilya Bolotowsky Paul Haesaerts Carlo Ragghianti John Read Dudley Shaw Aston Henri Storck and Willard Van Dyke among others The Mediatization of the Artist Rachel Esner, Sandra Kisters, 2018-01-31 This book offers trans historical and trans national perspectives on the image of the artist as a public figure in the popular discourse and imagination Since the rise of notions of artistic autonomy and the simultaneous demise of old systems of patronage from the late eighteenth century onwards artists have increasingly found themselves confronted with the necessity of developing a public persona In the same period new audiences for art discovered their fascination for the life and work of the artist The rise of new media such as the illustrated press photography and film meant that the needs of both parties could easily be satisfied in both words and images Thanks to these new media the artist was transformed from a simple producer of works of art into a public figure The aim of this volume is to reflect on this transformative process and to study the specific role of the media themselves Which visual media were deployed to what effect and with what kind of audiences in mind How did the artist critic photographer and filmmaker interact in the creation of these representations of the artist's image

Diverse Practices Julia Knight, 1996 This anthology brings together a collection of essays that discuss various aspects of British video art within a range of frameworks historical theoretical critical and chronological Resources in Education

, 1997 Looking Back to the Future Griselda Pollock, 2014-04-08 In this selection of recent essays Pollock insightfully engages all major areas of contemporary theory especially focusing on sexed subjectivities post colonialism and Marxist informed history In her commentary Penny Florence places Pollock's critique of modernism art history and criticism within the context of the social political and ideological developments that have taken place since the 1970s Florence recognizes in Pollock's work a critical model that moves beyond the contradictions that take place within the history of art Pollock's own essays and Florence's commentary elaborate the complexities in evaluating this prominent theorist and feminist whose work demands a capacity to sustain contradiction TV by Design Lynn Spigel, 2008 From the Publisher While critics have long disparaged commercial television as a vast wasteland TV has surprising links to the urbane world of modern art that stretch back to the 1950s and 60s during that era the rapid rise of commercial television coincided with dynamic new movements in the visual arts a potent combination that precipitated a major shift in the way Americans experienced the world visually TV by Design uncovers this captivating story of how modernism and network television converged and intertwined in their mutual ascent during the decades of the cold war Whereas most histories of television focus on the way older forms of entertainment were recycled for the new medium Lynn Spigel shows how TV was instrumental in introducing the public to the latest trends in art and design Abstract expressionism pop art art cinema modern architecture and cutting edge graphic design were all mined for staging techniques scenic designs and an ever growing number of commercials As a result TV helped fuel the public craze for trendy modern products such as tailfin cars and boomerang coffee tables that was vital to the burgeoning postwar economy And along with influencing the look of television many artists including Eero Saarinen Ben Shahn Saul Bass William Golden and Richard Avedon also participated in its creation as the networks put them to work designing everything from their corporate headquarters to their company cufflinks Dizzy Gillespie Ernie Kovacs Duke Ellington and Andy Warhol all stop by in this imaginative and winning account of the ways in which art television and commerce merged in the first decades of the TV age Boxed Sets Jeremy Ridgman, 1998 The essays in this collection provide a wide ranging examination of how drama and theater are represented on British broadcast television Douglas Sirk, Aesthetic Modernism and the Culture of Modernity Victoria L. Evans, 2017-05-24 The first truly interdisciplinary analysis to link Douglas Sirk's striking visual aesthetic to key movements in twentieth century art and architecture this book reveals how the exaggerated artifice of Sirk's formal style emerged from his detailed understanding of the artistic debates that raged in 1920s Europe and the post war United States With detailed case studies of Final Chord and All That Heaven Allows Victoria Evans demonstrates how Sirk attempted to dissolve the boundaries of cinema by assimilating elements of avant garde art architecture and design into the colour composition and setting of many of his most well known films Treating Sirk's oeuvre as a continuum between his German and American periods Evans argues that his mise en scene was the result of an interdisciplinary transnational dialogue and illuminates the broader cultural context in which his films appeared by establishing links between archival documents Modernist manifestos and the philosophical writings of his peers

Culture, Technology & Creativity in the Late Twentieth Century Philip Hayward, 1990 Addressing how technology and creativity interrelate in the arts and culture of the late 20th century this anthology combines a general introduction with a set of case studies from a range of international critics The British Avant-garde Film, 1926-1995 Michael O'Pray, 1996 This collection of essays celebrating British avant garde cinema's rich history draws together writings by filmmakers theorists critics and curators These individuals have been engaged over the past 70 years with film not only as a form of art practice but also as a subversive means of representing British society itself and as a personal expression of issues of memory sexuality and ethnicity Included are essays from a wide range of distinguished writers from Virginia Woolf Lindsay Anderson and Peter Gidal to Laura Mulvey Peter Wollen and Malcolm Le Grice Medicine and Maladies, 2018-07-03 Medicine and Maladies explores the aesthetic medical and socio political contexts that informed depictions of illness and disease in nineteenth century France Eleven essays by specialists in nineteenth century French literature and visual culture probe the acts of writing reading and viewing corporeal afflictions across the works of medical practitioners surgeons pharmacists novelists and artists Tracing scientific discourse in literary narratives and signalling references to fiction in medical texts the contributions to this interdisciplinary volume invite us to rethink the relationship between the humanities and the medical sciences The Invention of ›Outsider Art‹ Marion Scherr, 2022-09-01 What does it mean to be called an Outsider Marion Scherr investigates structural inequalities and the myth of the Other in Western art history examining the role of Outsider Art in contemporary art worlds in the UK By shifting the focus from art world professionals to those labelled Outsider Artists she counteracts one sided representations of them being otherworldly raw and uninfluenced Instead the artists are introduced as multi faceted individuals in constant exchange with their social environment employing diverse strategies in dealing with their exclusion The book reframes their voices and artworks as complex serious and meaningful cultural contributions and challenges their attested Otherness in favour of a more inclusive all encompassing understanding of art
