language and with each other play in concealing and supporting or drawing attention to and subverting social boundaries and inequality political or commercial agendas This volume brings together contributions by prominent and emerging scholars that address this gap through the critical analysis of multimodality in popular culture texts and semiotic practices It connects multimodal analysis to critical discourse analysis demonstrating the value of different approaches to multimodality for building a better understanding of critical issues of central interest to discourse analysis semiotics applied linguistics education cultural and media studies

Destination Image - Do Berlin's tourist authorities have to consider cultural segmentation when developing marketing strategies relating to the place's image in an era that refers to the global tourist? Wassim El Kadhi, 2008-10-13 Inhaltsangabe Abstract Destination image is considered as the key in attracting tourists This thesis purported to scrutinise whether Berlin's tourist authorities have to consider cultural segmentation when developing marketing strategies relating to the place's image As an exploratory study it examined Berlin's image among youths from Arab Islamic and Protestant European countries and confronted them In an era that is subjected to globalisation and refers to the global tourist it is vindicated to pose this question Various scholars are convinced that the world tourism market may be treated as a homogenous one due to globalisation However the literature also provides some opposing bearings and discusses them It further gives some background information on Berlin as a tourist destination addresses destination image concerning influential cultural factors and the implications of globalisation on consumer behaviour Finally it studies the Arab Islamic and Protestant European youth cultures in the light of globalisation and possible modifying effects In response to the objectives of this study primary research was conducted It involved both quantitative and qualitative data collection methods Field and online surveys enabled the researcher to collect 239 completed questionnaires 103 Arab Islamic and 136 Protestant European youths Besides semi structured interviews and focus group discussions were carried out at EF Language School Bournemouth Following the completion of the survey obtained data was entered into SPSS Frequencies and means were calculated for each variable and several ANOVA tests and cross tabulations conducted in order to stress destination image's specificity in terms of cultural background Research findings revealed significant differences between the groups regarding their perception of Berlin Arab Islamic youths had a more negative stance towards Berlin than their counterparts Not only did divergences occur between the groups but also within the groups Thus destination image is culture specific and may also vary across countries sharing similar cultural backgrounds Overall despite the effects of globalisation cultural market segmentation still remains a vital element for a tourist place such as Berlin where the image management is concerned The thesis provides recommendations for Berlin congruent with the outcomes and concludes with the provision of recommendations for further

"Doing things together" Therése Bielsten, 2020-03-13 Background Most people with dementia live in their own homes often together with their partners who become informal caregivers Relationship quality and sense of couplehood can be threatened as a result of the transition from a mutually interdependent relationship to a caregiver care receiver relationship This in turn may lead to many negative consequences for both partners Support provided for couples is often divided into different types for the person with dementia and for the partner without dementia and lacks couple based support that targets the relationship resources and the couple s everyday life together Aim The overall aim of this thesis is to explore couple centred interventions in dementia and to develop and test a salutogenic resource oriented and couple based intervention among couples in which one partner has dementia living at home Methods and findings This thesis comprises three parts The first part Exploring involves two linked reviews one narrative review study I A and one scoping review study I B that aim to identify and describe what previous couple centred interventions comprised and why they were conducted The results of the reviews revealed a knowledge gap in and a need for easily accessible support that targets couple relationships resources and everyday life The second part Developing study II refers to the development of an easily accessible resource oriented couple management intervention The first step was to identify priority topics for such an intervention through a co researcher process with couples living with dementia This included a comprehensive literature review interviews with couples in which one partner has dementia and consultation meetings with expert groups of people with dementia and partners in both Sweden and the UK The co researcher process and the expert meetings informed four main themes with corresponding sub themes that couples with dementia considered as important to their wellbeing in their everyday lives 1 Home and Neighbourhood 2 Meaningful Activities and Relationships 3 Approach and Empowerment and 4 Couplehood The themes were further developed and integrated into the multimedia application DemPower which was developed for the delivery of the intervention The third part Testing and Evaluating describes a feasibility study study III in which the DemPower application was tested for feasibility and acceptability among couples in Sweden and the UK The results of the feasibility study indicated that the DemPower intervention was feasible and acceptable among couples in which one partner has dementia living at home The testing and evaluating part also comprise a qualitative study study IV that explores the experiences of engaging with DemPower together as a couple living with dementia in Sweden The findings resulted in the three themes 1 Growth of the relationship 2 We are not alone and 3 Positive approach which the couples appreciated and associated with the resource oriented and salutogenic approach of DemPower The overall findings of the thesis are presented in a concluding synthesis at the end of the thesis The concluding synthesis focused on Meaningfulness Empowering health promotion Normalization and Transitions and couplehood represents the core findings of this thesis What this thesis adds This thesis contributes to research healthcare and the public by highlighting the need for a salutogenic approach toward couples living with dementia The DemPower application with its focus on couples relationships resource orientation and everyday life has proven feasibility and acceptability and has meaningfully addressed a gap in the literature and in practice As researchers healthcare professionals and the public we need to support couples where one partner has dementia to continue to live as normal life as possible This can best be achieved by focusing on what couples can do by inclusion and by valuing them as the experts within dementia research and of their life experiences

Game Sound Technology and Player Interaction: Concepts and Developments Grimshaw, Mark, 2010-09-30 Game Sound Technology and Player Interaction Concepts and Developments researches both how game sound affects a player psychologically emotionally and physiologically and how this relationship itself impacts the design of computer game sound and the development of technology. This compilation also applies beyond the realm of video games to other types of immersive sound such as soundscape design gambling machines emotive and fantastical sound to name a few. The application for this research is wide ranging interdisciplinary and of primary importance for academics and practitioners searching for the right sounds. Foreign Commerce Weekly, 1952 National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1974 First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965-70

Science and Technology in Medicine Andras Gedeon, 2006-02-16 The history and evolution of the fields of science and medicine are symbiotically linked and thus are mutually dependent. Discoveries in one domain have allowed for progress in the other and it is nearly impossible to study one area in isolation. The influence of science and technologic discoveries on medicine has profoundly impacted the way physicians practice and has resulted in an extended life expectancy and quality of life that our ancestors never dreamed possible. Science and Technology in Medicine is a collection of 99 essays based on landmark publications that have appeared in the medical literature over the past 500 years. Each essay includes a summary of the article or chapter text and images reproduced directly from the original source a short biography of the author's and a discussion about the significance of the discovery and its subsequent influence on later developments. Original material by the likes of Daniel Bernoulli Doppler Pasteur Trendelenburg Curie and Röntgen offers readers a rare glimpse at publications housed in archives around the world beautifully reproduced in one fascinating volume.

The Bloomsbury Handbook to Ageing in Contemporary Literature and Film Sarah Falcus, Heike Hartung, Raquel Medina, 2023-06-29 Across more than 30 chapters spanning migration queerness and climate change this handbook captures how the interdisciplinary and intersectional endeavor of Ageing studies has shaped contemporary literary and film studies. In the early 21st century the literary study of age and ageing in its cultural context has come of age it has come to supplement and challenge a public discourse on ageing seen mainly as a political and demographic problem in many countries of the world. Following a tripartite structure it looks first at literary and film genres and how they have been shaped by knowledge about age and ageing incorporating both narrative genres as well as poetry drama and imagery. The second section includes chapters on key themes and concepts in Ageing Studies with examples from film and literature. The third section brings together case studies focussing on individual artists national traditions and global ageing Containing original contributions by pioneers in the field as well as new scholars from across the globe it brings together current scholarship on ageing in literary and film studies and offers new directions and perspectives Journal of the SMPTE.
