Pictures in the Window Deirdre Devine, 2001      Courbet and the Modern Landscape, 2006 With its fittingly dramatic design Courbet and the Modern Landscape accompanies the first major museum exhibition specifically to address Gustave Courbet's extraordinary achievement in landscape painting. Many of these carefully selected works produced from 1855 to 1876 gathered from Asia, Europe and North America will be new to readers. The catalogue which accompanies an exhibition at the Getty Museum to be held from February 21 to May 14, 2006 highlights the artist's expressive responses to the natural environment. Essays by the curators examine Courbet's distinctly modern practice of landscape painting. Mary Morton's essay situates his landscapes in relation to his work in other genres, his critical reputation and his role in establishing a new pictorial language for landscape painting. Charlotte Eyerman's essay investigates how later generations of nineteenth and twentieth century artists responded to Courbet's example. The catalogue also includes an essay by Dominique de Font Reaulx, curator of photographs at the Musée d'Orsay, on the relationship between Courbet's work and landscape photography of the 1850s and 1860s.

Pierre Bonnard Pierre Bonnard, Nicole R. Myers, Allison Stielau, Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 2009 The vibrant late paintings of Pierre Bonnard, 1867-1947, are considered by many to be among his finest achievements. Working in a small converted bedroom of his villa in the south of France, Bonnard suffused his late canvases with radiant Mediterranean light and dazzling color. Although his subjects were close at hand, usually everyday scenes taken from his immediate surroundings, such as the dining room table being set for breakfast or a jug of flowers perched on the mantelpiece, Bonnard rarely painted from life. Instead, he preferred to make pencil sketches in small diaries and then rely on these, along with his memory, once in the studio. This volume, which accompanies the first exhibition to focus on the interior and related still life imagery from the last decades of Bonnard's long career, presents more than seventy-five paintings, drawings and works on paper, many of them rarely seen in public and in some cases little known. Although Bonnard's legacy may be removed from the succession of trends that today we consider the foundation of modernism his contribution to French art in the early decades of the twentieth century is far more profound than history has generally acknowledged In their insightful essays and catalogue entries the authors bring fresh critical perspectives to the ongoing reappraisal of Bonnard s reputation and to his place within the narrative of twentieth century art Jacket Cézanne in the Studio Carol Armstrong,2004-11-01 In the last years of his life Paul C zanne produced a stunning series of watercolors many of them still lifes Still Life with Blue Pot is one of these late masterpieces that is now in the collection of the Getty Museum In C zanne in the Study Still Life in Watercolors Carol Armstrong places this great painting within the context of Cezanne s artistic and psychological development and of the history of the genre of still life in France Still life like the medium of watercolor was traditionally considered to be low in the hierarchy of French academic paintings C zanne chose to ignore this hierarchy creating monumental still life watercolors that contained echoes of grand landscapes and even historical paintings in the manner of Poussin the highest of classical art forms In so doing he changed his still lifes with new meanings both in terms of his own notoriously difficult personality and in the way he used the genre to explore the very process of looking at and creating art Carol Armstrong s study is a fascinating exploration of the brilliant watercolor paintings that brought C zanne s career to a complex and triumphant conclusion The book includes new photographic studies of the Getty s painting that allow the reader to encounter this great watercolor as never before in all of its richness and detail
