The Cinema of Québec Janis L. Pallister, 1995 Quebecois cinema too long neglected and too long unknown by American viewers and often not appreciated on its own terrain receives its well deserved defense in Janis L Pallister s The Cinema of Quebec Masters in Their Own House

Violence and the Female Imagination Paula Ruth Gilbert, 2006-03-31 In the past twenty years Quebec women writers including Aline Chamberland Claire D Suzanne Jacob and H l ne Rioux have created female characters who are fascinated with bold sexual actions and language cruelty and violence at times culminating in infanticide and serial killing Paula Ruth Gilbert argues that these Quebec feminist writers are re framing gender Violence and the Female Imagination explores whether these imagined women are striking out at an external other or harming themselves through acts of self destruction and depression Gilbert examines the degree to which women are imitating men in the outward direction of their anger and hostility and suggests that such tough women may be mocking men in their macho exploits of sexuality and violence She illustrates the ways in which Quebec female authors are feminizing violence or re envisioning gender in North American culture Gilbert bridges methodological gaps and integrates history sociology literary theory feminist theory and other disciplinary approaches to provide a framework for the discussion of important ethical and aesthetic questions

Talking it Out Francis Simard, 1987 Offers an inside account of one of the Front de liberation du Quebec FLQ cells which kidnapped Pierre Laporte in October 1970 and the events as they unfolded from the perspective of the four men involved

"Québec Was Born in My Country!" Emanuelle

Dufour,2025-04-29 In 2004 settler scholar Emanuelle Dufour became aware of a silence with regard to residential schools and ongoing colonialism systemic racism inadequate curricular material in schools and sought to find answers by meeting with community members Elders spokespeople students professionals families and many others Dufour is an artist at heart and the product of her findings became a carnet de rencontres a notebook of coming together in which her fifty interlocutors are rendered speaking quite literally on and within the pages while advocating for the importance of Indigenous cultural security within the education system Their presence is undeniable and their voices carry the narrative Originally published as C'est le Québec qui est n dans mon pays this translation creates a bridge from one colonial language to another that will enable conversations across and beyond spaces and languages It aims to shed light on colonial mainstream narratives in Canada and more precisely in Québec by considering the politics of linguistic hegemony and the double exiguity that Indigenous peoples often find themselves in calling for a better understanding of how the province's specific colonial history has had a profound and continued impact on its 11 Indigenous Nations This book's unusual academically speaking form as a carnet or diary becomes an anthology of statements of witnessing which coupled with the illustrative narrative bears its decolonizing mission Quebec Was Born in My Country ultimately is about foregrounding common and collective experiences with the crucial goal of furthering education Indigenous and Transcultural Narratives in Québec Dervila

Cooke,2024-03-13 This book focuses on modes of cultural belonging in Québec It looks at recent literary memoir autobiographical fiction and documentary testimony Through four in depth case studies of cultural creators one Indigenous and three non Indigenous Dervila Cooke discusses multicultural and ethnically diverse society in Québec examining current tensions challenges and opportunities Works studied range from Abila Farhoud's first novel in 1998 to Anita Aloisio's 2022 documentary film Calliari QC Topics include the desire for freedom to self ascribe and enact cultural identity self reinvention through fiction expressions of Indigeneity in Naomi Fontaine the term Québécois especially after Bill 21 and the thorny question of integration of immigrants discussed in relation to Akos Verbovcy's Rhapsodie québécoise As with the companion volume on France societal factors are discussed here relating to the cultural renaissance of Indigenous writing Farhoud's Libano Québécois context and language laws in Québec including the foundational Bill 101 and the more recent Bill 96 A History of Video Art Chris Meigh-Andrews,2013-11-07 A History of Video Art is a revised and expanded edition of the 2006 original which extends the scope of the first edition incorporating a wider range of artists and works from across the globe and explores and examines developments in the genre of artists video from the mid 1990s up to the present day In addition the new edition expands and updates the discussion of theoretical concepts and ideas which underpin contemporary artists video Tracking the changing forms of video art in relation to the revolution in electronic and digital imaging that has taken place during the last 50 years A History of Video Art orients video art in the wider art historical context with particular reference to the shift from the structuralism of the late 1960s and early 1970s to the post modernist concerns of the 1980s and early 1990s The new edition also explores the implications of the internationalisation of artists video in the period leading up to the new millennium and its concerns and preoccupations including post colonialism the post medium condition and the impact and influence of the internet

Fear of a Black Nation David Austin,2023-04-18 In the 1960s Montreal was a hotbed of radical politics that attracted Black and Caribbean figures such as C L R James Walter Rodney Mariam Makeba Stokely Carmichael Rocky Jones and douard Glissant It was also a place where the ideas of Frantz Fanon Aim C saire and Malcolm X circulated alongside those of Karl Marx Jean Paul Sartre and Simone de Beauvoir During this period of global upheaval and heightened Canadian and Quebec nationalism Montreal became a central site of Black and Caribbean radical politics Situating Canada within the Black radical tradition and its Caribbean radical counterpart Fear of a Black Nation paints a history of Montreal and the Black activists who lived sojourned in or visited the city and agitated for change Drawing on Saidiya Hartman s conception of slavery s afterlife and what David Austin describes as biosexuality a deeply embedded fear of Black self organization and interracial solidarity Fear of a Black Nation argues that the policing and surveillance of Black lives today is tied to the racial including sexual codes and practices and the discipline and punishment associated with slavery As meditation on Black radical politics and state security surveillance and repression Fear of a Black Nation combines theoretical and philosophical inquiry with literary oral and archival sources to reflect on Black political organizing In reflecting on Black self organization and historic events such as the Congress of Black Writers and the Sir George Williams Affair the book ultimately poses the question what can past freedom struggles teach us about the struggle for freedom today Featuring two new interviews with the author and a new preface this expanded second edition enriches the political and theoretical conversation on Black organising and movement building in Canada and internationally As the Black Lives Matter and abolition movements today popularize calls to disarm and defund the police and to abolish prisons Fear of a Black Nation provides an invaluable reflection on the policing of Black activism and a compelling political analysis of social movements and freedom struggles that is more relevant now than ever

Brink of Reality Peter Steven,2010-12-08 In Brink of Reality Peter Steven examines the convergence of video art and social issue documentary from the 1940s to the present No other book has explored contemporary Canadian documentary so thoroughly or provided as broad a view of the state of the art in the 1990s

France and the Americas Bill Marshall,2005-05-24 A unique multidisciplinary encyclopedia covering the impacts that French and American politics foreign policy and culture have had on shaping each country s identity From 17th century fur traders in Canada to 21st century peacekeepers in Haiti from France s decisive role in the Revolutionary War leading to the creation of the United States to recent disagreements over Iraq France and the Americas charts the history of the inextricable links between France and the nations of the Americas This comprehensive survey features an incisive introduction and a chronology of key events spanning 400 years of France s transatlantic relations Students of many disciplines as well as the lay reader will appreciate this comprehensive survey which traces the common themes of both

French policy language and influence throughout the Americas and the wide ranging transatlantic influences on contemporary France Canadian Feature Film Index, 1913-1985 D. John Turner, National Film, Television and Sound Archives (Canada), 1987 Films You Saw in School Geoff Alexander, 2014-01-10 Millions of dollars in public funds were allocated to school districts in the post Sputnik era for the purchase of educational films resulting in thousands of 16mm films being made by exciting young filmmakers This book discusses more than 1 000 such films including many available to view today on the Internet People ranging from adult film stars to noted physicists appeared in them some notable directors made them people died filming them religious entities attempted to ban them and even the companies that made them tried to censor them Here this remarkable body of work is classified into seven subject categories within which some of the most effective and successful films are juxtaposed against those that were didactic and plodding treatments of similar thematic material This book which discusses specific academic classroom films and genres is a companion volume to the author's Academic Films for the Classroom A History McFarland which discusses the people and companies that made these films

Quebec National Cinema Bill Marshall, 2001 In Quebec National Cinema Bill Marshall tackles the question of the role cinema plays in Quebec's view of itself as a nation Surveying mostly fictional feature films Marshall demonstrates how Quebec cinema has evolved from the innovative direct cinema of the early 1960s into the diverse canvas of popular comedies glossy co-productions and reworked auteur cinema of the postmodern 1990s He explores the faultlines of Quebec identity its problematic and contradictory relationship with France the question of Native peoples the influence of the cosmopolitan and pluralist city of Montreal and the encounters between sexuality gender and nation traced and critiqued in women's and queer cinemas In the first comprehensive theoretically informed work in English on Quebec cinema Marshall views his subject as neither the assertion of some unproblematic national wholeness nor a random collection of disparate voices that drown out or invalidate the question of nation Instead he shows that while the allegory of nation marks Quebec film production it also leads to a tension between textual and contextual forces between homogeneity and heterogeneity and between major and minor modes of being and identity Drawing on a broad framework of theory and particularly indebted to the work of Gilles Deleuze and Félix Guattari Quebec National Cinema makes a valuable contribution to debates in film studies on national cinemas and to the burgeoning interest in French studies in the culture and politics of la francophonie Bill Marshall is professor of Modern French Studies at the University of Glasgow He has written several books and numerous articles on film and Francophone culture
