Piety And Poverty Working Class Religion In Berlin London And Berlin 1870 1914:

Evangelicals at a Crossroads Benjamin Loren Hartley, 2011 The story of Boston revivalism and social reform

Secularisation in the Christian World Michael Snape, 2016-04-01 The power of modernity to secularise has been a foundational idea of the western world Both social science and church history understood that the Christian religion from 1750 was deeply vulnerable to industrial urbanisation and the Enlightenment But as evidence mounts that countries of the European world experienced secularising forces in different ways at different periods the timing and causes of de Christianisation are now widely seen as far from straightforward Secularisation in the Christian World brings together leading scholars in the social history of religion and the sociology of religion to explore what we know about the decline of organised Christianity in Britain Europe the United States Canada and Australia The chapters tackle different strands themes comparisons and territories to demonstrate the diversity of approach thinking and evidence that has emerged in the last 30 years of scholarship into the religious past and present The volume includes both new research and essays of theoretical reflection by the most eminent academics It highlights historians and sociologists in both agreement and dispute With contributors from eight countries the volume also brings together many nations for the first consolidated international consideration of recent themes in de Christianisation With church historians and cultural historians and religious sociologists and sociologists of the godless society this book provides a state of the art guide to secularisation studies

Between Cross and Class Lex Heerma van Voss, Patrick Pasture, Jan de Maeyer, 2005 In the late nineteenth century in a number of continental European countries Christian associations of workers arose Christian trade unions workers cooperatives political leagues workers youth movements and cultural associations sometimes separately for men and women In some countries they formed a unified Christian labour movement which sometimes also belonged to a broader Christian subculture or pillar encompassing all social classes In traditional labour history Christian workers organizations were solely represented as dividing the working class and weakening the class struggle However from the 1980s onwards a considerable amount of studies have been devoted to Christian workers organizations that adopted a more nuanced approach This book takes stock of this new historiography To broaden the analysis each contribution compares the development in at least two countries thus generating new comparative insights This volume assesses the development of Christian workers organizations in Europe from a broad historical and comparative perspective The contributions focus on the collective identity of the Christian workers organization their denominational and working class allegiances and how these are expressed in ideology organization and practice Among the themes discussed are relations with churches and Christian Democracy secularization the development of the Welfare State industrial relations and the contribution to working class culture This volume is the result of a joint intellectual enterprise of the International Institute of Social History IISG in Amsterdam Netherlands and a group of scholars linked to the KADOC Documentation and Research Centre for Religion Culture and Society of the KU

Leuven Catholic University Leuven Belgium      Bernhard Lichtenberg Brenda L. Gaydosh, 2017-07-06 This book is the definitive English biography of the martyred Nazi era Berlin provost Bernhard Lichtenberg In praying for the Jews from the pulpit and resisting the Nazi regime in a variety of ways Lichtenberg risked and ultimately sacrificed his life for his Christian principles      Forging Democracy Geoff Eley, 2002 This text gives a history of the European Left s successes and failures its high and lows its accomplishments insufficiencies and excesses and its formative lasting influence on the political landscape of the West      Secularization and Religious Innovation in the North Atlantic World David Hempton, Hugh McLeod, 2017-05-12 In the early twenty first century it had become a cliché that there was a God Gap between a more religious United States and a more secular Europe The apparent religious differences between the United States and western Europe continue to be a focus of intense and sometimes bitter debate between three of the main schools in the sociology of religion According to the influential Secularization Thesis secularization has been an integral part of the processes of modernisation in the Western world since around 1800 For proponents of this thesis the United States appears as an anomaly and they accordingly give considerable attention to explaining why it is different For other sociologists however the apparently high level of religiosity in the USA provides a major argument in their attempts to refute the Thesis Secularization and Religious Innovation in the Atlantic World provides a systematic comparison between the religious histories of the United States and western European countries from the eighteenth to the late twentieth century noting parallels as well as divergences examining their causes and especially highlighting change over time This is achieved by a series of themes which seem especially relevant to this agenda and in each case the theme is considered by two scholars The volume examines whether American Christians have been more innovative and if so how far this explains the apparent God Gap It goes beyond the simple American European binary to ask what is American or European in the Christianity of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries and in what ways national or regional differences outweigh these commonalities      The Death of Christian Britain Callum G. Brown, 2009-01-26 The Death of Christian Britain examines how the nation s dominant religious culture has been destroyed Callum Brown challenges the generally held view that secularization was a long and gradual process dating from the industrial revolution Instead he argues that it has been a catastrophic and abrupt cultural revolution starting in the 1960s Using the latest techniques of gender analysis and by listening to people s voices rather than purely counting heads the book offers new formulations of religion and secularization In this expanded second edition Brown responds to commentary on his ideas reviews the latest research and provides new evidence to back his claims      Secularisation Christopher Hartney, 2014-06-02 Secularisation New Historical Perspectives unveils an exciting range of case studies exploring emerging research in secularisation with an international outlook Inspired by scholarship conducted by the Religious History Association this collected volume questions the paradigm of secularisation by exploring its historical manifestations and making projections as to the future divide between religious life and the secular world A must read for anyone interested in events and personalities that shaped the religious landscape of the present this volume contains meticulous historical research It also presents a strong focus on the Southern Hemisphere which is often largely absent in discussions of secularity Topics covered here include schisms between secularism and Christianity in Australia and on a global scale Jesuit frontier missions in Ibero America the publically religious displays of the Salvation Army competition between church life and emerging recreational pursuits at the turn of the century Joseph Fletcher s contributions ethical secularity the privileged place of Christianity within the Queensland educational system notions of religiously justified violence amongst the ANZAC forces and the ongoing debate between constitutional secularity and Christian nationhood in the United States of America from its foundation up until the present day The latter part of the volume explores the secularisation paradigm as a cultural creation in its own right an important consideration for any scholar in this field To this end the authors explore the mythic status of secularisation as a social and historical concept question the validity of historical approaches to this discourse explore whether or not definitions of religion are too conservative to be workable and pose the question of whether or not secular institutions like state museums are really what they claim to be The role of religion in public life is a fascinating question to explore and one that must be tackled via a truly international exploration of secularisation So too must the inquisitive scholar consider the very nature of the terms employed in research Secularisation New Historical Perspectives is the perfect toolkit for such investigations Expanding Religion Miklós Tomka, 2011-01-27 Reiterated international comparative surveys offer evidences about developments of religion related scene in Central and Eastern Europe The present volume is the first one which presents an extensive and detailed cross national analysis of sociological data comparing extensively countries regions and denominations in the past two decades It displays achievements and shortages of a religious revival in the post communist region as well as religion s role in family life social responsibility and public commitment It proves the combination of de Christianization based on previous persecution of religion and an ongoing modernization and the rise and the transformation of religion In some countries popular religiosity of traditional social strata is dominant In other countries there is a visible transition from old and low strata religiosity to a more restricted but socially more influential religiosity of young middle and upper strata groups In final outcome the volume substantiates the growing public role of religion in Eastern and Central Europe as well as the distinct impact of religiosity on individual behaviour These results contradict the idea of an overwhelming secularization but argue for a more complex process overcoming the communist past The Sunday School Movement in Britain 1900-1939 Caitriona McCartney, 2023 Demonstrates the vital role Sunday schools played in forming and sustaining faith before during and after the First World War for British populations both at home and abroad Sunday schools were an important part of the religious landscape of twentieth century Britain and they were widely attended by much of the British population The Sunday School Movement in Britain argues that the schools played a vital role in forming and sustaining the faith of those who lived and served during the First World War Moreover the volume contends that the conflict did not cause the schools to decline and proposes that decline instead set in much earlier in the twentieth century The book also questions the perception that the schools were ineffective tools of religious socialisation and examines the continued attempts of the Sunday school movement to professionalise and improve their efforts Thus the involvement of the movement with the World s Sunday School Association is revealed to be part of the wider developing international ecumenical community during the twentieth century Drawing together under utilised material from archives and newspapers in national and local collections The Sunday School Movement in Britain presents a history of the schools demonstrating their lasting significance in the religious life of the nation and by extension the enduring importance of Christianity in Britain during the first half of the twentieth century

English Catholics and the Education of the Poor, 1847-1902 Eric G Tenbus,2015-10-06 Filling an important gap in the historiography of Victorian Britain this book examines the English Catholic Church s efforts during the second half of the nineteenth century to provide elementary education for Catholics

Religious Institutes in Western Europe in the 19th and 20th Centuries Jan de Maeyer,Sofie Leplae,Joachim Schmiedl,2004 In the 19th century religious institutes orders and congregations underwent an unprecedented revival As partners in a large scale religious modernisation movement they were welcomed by the Roman Catholic Church in its pursuit of a new role in society especially in the educational and health care sectors At the same time the Church also deemed it necessary to keep their spectacular growth in check Until the 1960s religious institutes played an important role both in society at large as well as within the church for example at the level of the missions liturgy and art Yet relatively little research has been done on their development either in ecclesiastical or in broad cultural history As a basis for further study The European Forum on the History of Religious Insitutes in the 19th and 20th Centuries offers this study of the historiography of religious institutes and of their position in civil and canon law

Methodism David Hempton,2005-01-01 Hempton explores the rise of Methodism from its unpromising origins as a religious society within the Church of England in the 1730s to a major international religious movement by the 1880s

Sociologie Et Religions Liliane Voyé,Jaak Billiet,1999 What are the relations between sociology and the different religions Christianity with its various branches Judaism Islam Oriental religions sects and New Religious Movements That is the question which this work conceived on the occasion of the XXVth Conference of the International Society for the Sociology of Religion Soci t Internationale de Sociologie des Religions SISR wishes to clarify The book retraces the varied and troubled history of these relations and also reveals how in opening up its research to other religions besides the Christian sociology is forced to redefine the very object of its field of study What is the religious This question which until recently was considered impertinent informs this book throughout If confronts the necessity of rethinking theories and methodological approaches which constructed in the context of 19th and early 20th century Western Europe prove to be rather inadequate for encompassing contemporary religious phenomena and religious manifestations in other contexts To these new theoretical and methodological demands is added for the sociologist a deontological imperative which takes on all the more importance today as the religious provokes passionate social debate

The Desecularisation of the City David

Goodhew,Anthony-Paul Cooper,2018-09-21 Major cities have long been seen as centres of secularisation However the number of congregations in London grew by 50% between 1979 and the present London s churches have been characterised more by growth than by decline in the decades since 1980 The Desecularisation of the City provides the first academic survey of churches in London over recent decades linking them to similar developments in other major cities across the West Produced by a large team of scholars from a range of disciplines this volume offers a striking and original portrait of congregational life in London since 1980 Seventeen chapters explore the diverse localities ethnicities and denominations that make up the church in contemporary London The vitality of London s churches in the last four decades shows that secularisation is far from inevitable in the cities of the future This study necessitates a significant reassessment of the dominant academic portrayal of Christianity in Britain and the West which has mostly depicted cities as secular spaces within a secularising culture It will be of great interest to scholars working across a wide range of disciplines including history sociology religious studies and theology

Religion and the Demographic Revolution Callum G. Brown,2012

In the 1960s Christian religious practice and identity declined rapidly and women s lives were transformed spawning a demographic revolution in sex family and work The argument of this book is that the two were intimately connected triggered by an historic confluence of factors

Entangling Web Alec Ryrie,Mark A. Lamport,2024-03-19 Europe has a tremendously important role in the history of Christianity and was the continent with the most Christians from roughly the year 900 to 1980 However Europe is now home to only 22 percent of all Christians in the world down from 68 percent in 1900 The major trend of European religion in the twentieth and twenty first centuries has been secularization disestablishment and decreased influence of state churches lower importance of religion in the public sphere the decline of religious beliefs and practices and individual religious switching from Christianity to atheism and agnosticism One hundred years ago it was true that the typical Christian in the world was a white European Given current trends however Europe is clearly no longer the geographic nor demographic center of world Christianity Yet that does not mean Europe has no role in the future It is still the home of major Christian communions such as Catholics Rome Anglicans Canterbury Russian Orthodox Moscow and Lutherans Geneva European mission agencies are active throughout the world providing theological education and social welfare programs combatting climate change and advocating for gender equality
