Writing the Jerusalem Pilgrimage in the Late Middle Ages Mary Boyle,2021 An examination of four written accounts of medieval pilgrimages to Jerusalem What do the bursar of Eton College a canon of Mainz Cathedral a young knight from near Cologne and a Kentish nobleman's chaplain have in common Two Germans residents of the Holy Roman Empire and two Englishmen just as the western horizons of the known world were beginning to expand These four men William Wey Bernhard von Breydenbach Arnold von Harff and Thomas Larke are amongst the thousands of western Christians who undertook the arduous journey to the Holy Land in the decades immediately before the Reformation More importantly they are members of a much more select group those who left written accounts of their travels for the journey to Jerusalem in the late Middle Ages took place not only in the physical world but also in the mind and on the page Pilgrim authors contended in different ways with the collision between fifteenth century reality and the static textual Jerusalem as they encountered the genuinely multi religious Middle East This book examines the international literary phenomenon of the Jerusalem pilgrimage through the prism of these four writers It explores the process of collective and individual identity construction as pilgrims came into contact with members of other religious traditions in the course of the expression of their own engages with the uneasy relationship between curiosity and pilgrimage and investigates both the relevance of genre and the advent of print to the development of pilgrimage writing Ultimately pilgrimage is revealed as a conceptual space with a near liturgical status unrestricted by geographical boundaries and accessible both literally and virtually
