Christian Witness
in a Broken World

How can the ordinary Christian make a real difference in a broken world? In response to this question, Cardinal Martini offers some thoughtful and challenging reflections based on Scripture: dying to sin, the baptismal dynamism of living with Jesus, the Christian pilgrimage, overcoming the fear of death, learning from the troubled families in the Bible, reconciling differences in the family, witnessing to the "humanity of God" in daily life.

"You who feel God present in the small realities of everyday life...give the most incisive response to the anguished question of humanity: Where is your God?"

This is a warm and honest book for single and married persons in search of a deeper spirituality.

*The former President of the Gregorian University and Rector of the Pontifical Biblical Institute in Rome, Carlo Maria Martini, SJ, became Cardinal of Milan, Italy, on February 2, 1983.
