Soft Computing for Intelligent Control and Mobile Robotics Oscar Castillo, Witold Pedrycz, 2010-10-05 This book describes in a detailed fashion the application of hybrid intelligent systems using soft computing techniques for intelligent control and mobile robotics Soft Computing SC consists of several intelligent computing paradigms including fuzzy logic neural networks and bio inspired optimization algorithms which can be used to produce powerful hybrid intelligent systems The prudent combination of SC techniques can produce powerful hybrid intelligent systems that are capable of solving real world problems This is illustrated in this book with a wide range of applications with particular emphasis in intelligent control and mobile robotics The book is organized in five main parts which contain a group of papers around a similar subject The first part consists of papers with the main theme of theory and algorithms which are basically papers that propose new models and concepts which can be the basis for achieving intelligent control and mobile robotics The second part contains papers with the main theme of intelligent control which are basically papers using bio inspired techniques like evolutionary algorithms and neural networks for achieving intelligent control of non linear plants The third part contains papers with the theme of optimization of fuzzy controllers which basically consider the application of bio inspired optimization methods to automate the design process of optimal type 1 and type 2 fuzzy controllers The fourth part contains papers that deal with the application of SC techniques in times series prediction and intelligent agents The fifth part contains papers with the theme of computer vision and robotics which are papers considering soft computing methods for applications related to vision and robotics

Intelligent Systems: From Theory to Practice Vassil Sgurev, Mincho Hadjiski, 2010-08-27 In the modern science and technology there are some research directions and challenges which are at the forefront of world wide research activities because of their relevance This relevance may be related to different aspects First from a point of view of researchers it can be implied by just an analytic or algorithmic difficulty in the solution of problems within an area From a broader perspective this relevance can be related to how important problems and challenges in a particular area are to society corporate or national competitiveness etc Needless to say that the latter more global challenges are probably more decisive a driving force for science seen from a global perspective One of such meta challenges in the present world is that of intelligent systems For a long time it has been obvious that the complexity of our world and the speed of changes we face in virtually all processes that have impact on our life imply a need to automate many tasks and processes that have been so far limited to human beings because they require some sort of intelligence

Galaxies Francoise Combes,2021-03-05 Galaxies are vast ensembles of stars gas and dust embedded in dark matter halos They are the basic building blocks of the Universe gathered in groups clusters and super clusters They exist in many forms either as spheroids or disks Classifications such as the Hubble sequence based on mass concentration and gas fraction and the color-magnitude diagram which separates a blue cloud from a red sequence help to understand their formation and evolution Galaxies spend a large part of their lives in the blue cloud forming stars as spiral or dwarf galaxies Then via a mechanism that is still unclear they stop forming stars and quietly end in the red sequence as spheroids This transformation may be due to galaxy interactions or because of the feedback of active nuclei through the energy released by their central super massive black holes These mechanisms could explain the history of cosmic star formation the rate of which was far greater in the first half of the Universe's life Galaxies delves into all of these surrounding subjects in six chapters written by dedicated specialist astronomers and researchers in the field from their numerical simulations to their evolutions Planet

Busard,Menso Folkerts,Hubertus Lambertus Ludovicus Busard,1992-04-03 The Latin Version II till now attributed to Adelard of Bath is edited here for the first time It was the most influential Euclid text in the Latin West in the 12th and 13th centuries As the large number of manuscripts and the numerous quotations in other scientific and philosophical texts show it was far better known than the three Euclid translations made from the Arabic in the 12th century Adelard of Bath version I Hermann of Carinthia Gerard of Cremona Version II became the basis of later reworkings in which the enunciations were taken over but new proofs supplied the most important text of this kind is the redaction made by Campanus in the late 1250s which became the standard Latin Euclid in the later Middle Ages The introduction deals with the questions of when and by whom version II was written Since Marshall Clagett's fundamental article 1953 it has been generally accepted that version II is one of three Euclid texts attributable to Adelard of Bath But a comparison of the text of version II with those of versions I and III yields little or no reason to assume that Adelard was the author of version II Version II must have been written later than version I and before version III its author was acquainted with Euclid texts of the Boethius tradition and with two of those
