At her family's struggling pharmacy she has a line of makeover customers for every school dance and bat mitzvah. But all the makeup tips in the world won't help save the business. If only she could find a way to make it the center of town again, a place where people want to spend time like in the old days. Lucy dreams up a solution that could resuscitate the family business and help the environment too. But will Lucy's family stop fighting long enough to listen to a seventh grader? In a starred review Kirkus said this novel successfully delivers an authentic and endearing portrait of the not quite teen experience and Booklist called it a warm uplifting debut. in Time, Abraham Lincoln Patricia Polacco, 2014-01-09 Two kids. One mysterious doorway to the Civil War. Michael and Derek don't expect the adventure of a lifetime while visiting a Civil War museum with their grandmother. But when the mysterious museum keeper invites them to play a special history game they suddenly find themselves walking through a door into a very realistic depiction of 1862. It's only the beginning of their journey as they are whisked away by a carriage to nearby Antietam only days after a violent battle. There they see for themselves the tragic aftermath of war and come face to face with Abraham Lincoln. Suddenly the boys begin to wonder is this all real? Patricia Polacco brings history to vibrant life and uses facts and primary sources to open a doorway through time into a pivotal moment of the Civil War. Pink and

Blue Jo Barraclough Paoletti, 2012 Jo B Paoletti's journey through the history of children's clothing began when she posed the question: When did we start dressing girls in pink and boys in blue? To uncover the answer she looks at advertising catalogs, dolls, baby books, mommy blogs and discussion forums and other popular media to examine the surprising shifts in attitudes toward color as a mark of gender in American children's clothing. She chronicles the decline of the white dress for both boys and girls, the introduction of rompers in the early 20th century, the gendering of pink and blue, the resurgence of unisex fashions and the origins of today's highly gender specific baby and toddler clothing Thunder Cake Patricia Polacco,1990-03-15 A loud clap of thunder booms and rattles the windows of Grandma's old farmhouse This is Thunder Cake baking weather calls Grandma as she and her granddaughter hurry to gather the ingredients around the farm A real Thunder Cake must reach the oven before the storm arrives But the list of ingredients is long and not easy to find and the storm is coming closer all the time Reaching once again into her rich childhood experience Patricia Polacco tells the memorable story of how her grandma her Babushka helped her overcome her fear of thunder when she was a little girl Ms Polacco's vivid memories of her grandmother's endearing answer to a child's fear accompanied by her bright folk art illustrations turn a frightening thunderstorm into an adventure and ultimately a celebration Whether the first clap of thunder finds you buried under the bedcovers or happily anticipating the coming storm Thunder Cake is a story that will bring new meaning and possibility to the excitement of a thunderstorm Babushka Baba Yaga Patricia Polacco,1999-01-25 From the beloved New York Times bestselling author/illustrator of Thank You Mr Falker and Pink and Say Baba Yaga is a witch famous throughout Russia for eating children but this Babushka Baba Yaga is a lonely old woman who just wants a grandchild to love Kids will respond to the joyful story of the outsider who gets to join in and Polacco's richly patterned paintings of Russian peasant life on the edge of the woods are full of light and color Booklist A warm lively tale neatly mixing new and old and illustrated with Polacco's usual energetic action bright folk patterns and affectionate characterizations Kirkus Reviews A Fine Dessert: Four Centuries, Four Families, One Delicious Treat Emily Jenkins,2015-01-27 A New York Times Best Illustrated Book From highly acclaimed author Jenkins and Caldecott Medal winning illustrator Blackall comes a fascinating picture book in which four families in four different cities over four centuries make the same delicious dessert blackberry fool This richly detailed book ingeniously shows how food technology and even families have changed throughout American history In 1710 a girl and her mother in Lyme England prepare a blackberry fool picking wild blackberries and beating cream from their cow with a bundle of twigs The same dessert is prepared by an enslaved girl and her mother in 1810 in Charleston South Carolina by a mother and daughter in 1910 in Boston and finally by a boy and his father in present day San Diego Kids and parents alike will delight in discovering the differences in daily life over the course of four centuries Includes a recipe for blackberry fool and notes from the author and illustrator about their research Palace of Books Patricia Polacco,2023-03-07 At the public library in her new town Patricia meets Mrs Creavy an encouraging librarian who introduces Patricia to the books of John James Audubon and helps her become the first member of the Audubon Bird Club of Freemont Elementary I Can Hear the Sun Patricia Polacco,1999 Fondo's life is sad and lonely until he meets Stephanie Michele She takes care of the geese who live on the shore of Lake Merritt and when Fondo shows up there one day she lets him help But now the geese are preparing to fly south for the winter and Fondo says that they've invited him to join them Is hope enough to accomplish a miracle Patricia Polacco masterfully intertwines themes of friendship homelessness and faith to create a
