Contrary to popular opinion geisha are not prostitutes but literally arts people Their accomplishments include singing dancing playing a musical instruments but above all they are masters of the art of conversation soothing the worries and stroking the egos of the wealthy businessmen who can afford their attentions It is this which imbues the geisha with such power and which makes absolute secrecy such a crucial aspect of their work As denizens of a world defined by silence and mystery geisha are notoriously difficult to meet and even to find Lesley Downer an award winning writer Japanese scholar and consummate storyteller gained more access into this world than almost any other Westerner ever has and spent several months living among them In Women of the Pleasure Quarters she weaves together intimate portraits of modern geisha with the romantic legends and colorful historical tales of geisha of the past From Sada Yakko who dined with American presidents and had her portrait painted by Picasso to Koito a modern day geisha who maintains her own website geisha throughout history step out of the pages of Women of the Pleasure Quarters to become living breathing creatures Looking into such traditions as mizuage the ritual deflowering which was once a rite of passage for all geisha and providing colorful depictions of the geisha s dress training and homes Downer with grace elegance and respect transforms their reality in a captivating narrative that both informs and entertains At once a symbol of a bygone age and an institution more quintessentially Japanese than any other geisha are a society at a crossroads struggling to reinvent their place in the new millennium while honoring the traditions of the past Both instructive and evocative Women of the Pleasure Quarters is an enthralling portrait of a world unlike any other
